JOURNAL

OF THE

OF THE

OF THE

STATE OF ILLINOIS

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1949, 12:00 O'CLOCK M.

At the regular session of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, begun and held at the Capitol in the City of Springfield, at 12:00 o'clock noon, on Wednesday next after the first Monday in January, the same being the 5th day of January, in the year of our Lord 1949, pursuant to the provisions of section nine (9), Article four (4) of the Constitution of the State of Illinois.

The Honorable Edward J. Barrett, Secretary of State, called the House to order and presided over its deliberations until the election of a temporary presiding officer, as provided by the Constitution.

Prayer was offered by Rev. John S. Brockmeier, Pastor of Sacred Heart Church, of Springfield.

The Secretary of State designated Chas. F. The Secretary of State announced that all members-elect, as shown by the foregoing roll were present, with the exception of Honorable Peter P. Jezierny, deceased.

At the request of the Secretary of State, the members rose for one minute as a memorial to the Honorable Peter P. Jezierny, Representative-elect of this House; and also to the Honorable Dan Dinneen, and the Honorable Harold D. Kelsey, members of the Sixty-fifth General Assembly, deceased.

Mr. Simpson offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 1

Resolved, That a committee of seven members be appointed by the Secretary of State to call upon a Justice of the Supreme Court and request him to administer the oath of office to the members-elect of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly, when ready to take the oath prescribed by the Constitution.

And the resolution was adopted.

The Secretary of State appointed as such committee Messrs. Simpson, Karber, Euzzino, Cronin, Branson, Noble W. Lee and Searle.

Mr. Simpson, from the committee heretofore appointed to wait upon a Justice of the Supreme Court and request him to administer the oath of office to the members-elect of the House of Representatives, announced that Mr. Justice Joseph E. Daily, of the Supreme Court, as present and ready to perform that duty.

Whereupon, the oath of office was administered by Mr. Justice Daily to all members-elect as shown by the foregoing roll, with the exception of Honorable Peter P. Jezierny, deceased.

Mr. Davis offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 2

Resolved, That the House now proceed to the election of a Temporary Speaker.

And the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Sullivan placed in nomination for Temporary Speaker, Mr. Powell.

Mr. Fred J. Smith seconded the nomination of Mr. Powell.

Mr. Swanson placed in nomination for Temporary Speaker, Mr. Cutler.

Mr. Lewis seconded the nomination of Mr. Cutler.

There being no other nominations, a call of the roll was had, resulting as follows:

FOR GOVERNOR.

Adlai E. Stevenson received	2,250,074 votes
Dwight H. Green received	1,678,007 votes
Willis Ray Wilson received	9,491 votes
Louis Fisher received	2,673 votes
Write-ins received	12 votes

And it appearing from the canvass that Adlai E. Stevenson had received the highest number of votes cast for any person for the office of Governor, the said Adlai E. Stevenson was declared elected to the office of Governor of the State of Illinois, for the term of four years, beginning on the second Monday in January, being the 10th day of January, A. D. 1949, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR.

Sherwood Dixon received	1,998,555 votes
Richard Yates Rowe received	1,815,907 votes
R. B. Campbell received	9,949 votes
O. Alfred Olson received	2,897 votes
Write-ins received	3 votes

And it appearing from the canvass that Sherwood Dixon had received the highest number of votes cast for any person for the office of Lieutenant Governor, the said Sherwood Dixon was declared elected to the office of Lieutenant Governor of the State of Illinois, for the term of four years, beginning on the second Monday in January, being the 10th day of January, A. D. 1949, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

FOR SECRETARY OF STATE.

Edward J. Barrett received	2,120,832 votes
William G. Stratton received	1,759,083 votes
Maude Swits Stowell received	9,636 votes
Gregory Lyngas received	2,896 votes
Write-ins received	6 votes

And it appearing from the canvass that Edward J. Barrett had received the highest number of votes cast for any person for the office of Secretary of State, the said Edward J. Barrett was declared elected to the office of Secretary of State of the State of Illinois, for the term of four years, beginning on the second Monday in January, being the 10th day of January, A. D. 1949, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

FOR AUDITOR OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS.

Benjamin O. Cooper received	2,030,222 votes
Sinon A. Murray received	1,776,396 votes
Irving B. Gilbert received	10,166 votes
Nick Mays received	2,960 votes
Write-ins received	2 votes

And it appearing from the canvass that Benjamin O. Cooper had received the highest number of votes cast for any person for the office of Auditor of Public Accounts, the said Benjamin O. Cooper was declared elected to the office of Auditor of Public Accounts of the State of Illinois, for the term of four years, beginning on the second Monday in January, being the 10th day of January, A. D. 1949, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

FOR STATE TREASURER.

Ora Smith received	2,026,268 votes
Elmer H. Droste received	1,769,775 votes
Rupert J. Jordan received	10,043 votes
Rudolph Kosic received	3,024 votes
Write-ins received	3 votes

And it appearing from the canvass that Ora Smith had received the highest number of votes cast for any person for the office of State Treasurer, the said Ora Smith was declared elected to the office of State Treasurer of the State of Illinois, for the term of two years, beginning on the second Monday in January, being the 10th day of January, A. D. 1949, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Ivan A. Elliott received	2,019,401 votes
George F. Barrett received	1,806,137 votes
Frederick Juchhoff received	9,615 votes
Edward C. Gross received	3,118 votes
Write-ins received	4 votes

And it appearing from the canvass that Ivan A. Elliott had received the highest number of votes cast for any person for the office of Attorney General, the said Ivan A. Elliott was declared elected to the office of Attorney General of the State of Illinois, for the term of four years, beginning on the second Monday in January, being the 10th day of January, A. D. 1949, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

The committee heretofore appointed to wait upon the Governor appeared in the hall of the House of Representatives, accompanied by the Governor, who, after being presented to the joint session, personally delivered his biennial message to the General Assembly, as follows, to-wit:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly, Ladies and Gentlemen:

It is my high privilege today, as well as my duty under the Constitution of the State of Illinois, to report to you on the condition of the state government and to submit for your consideration my recommendations for meeting present and future problems.

I have had the great honor to be Governor of Illinois through eight unprecedented years during which we were called upon to direct the state government through the most terrible and costly war in our country's history and the confusion and difficulties of postwar transition. With splendid cooperation from four General Assemblies, and from the people, the state of Illinois met every challenge of those trying days.

Illinois made a superlative contribution to national victory. The heroism of its 900,000 sons and daughters who served in the armed forces was matched by the record-breaking production of its agriculture, industry and labor. Despite the handicaps of wartime shortages of manpower and materials and inflationary prices in the postwar period, the State has maintained at a high level of efficiency the essential services which it renders to the people.

Furthermore, important progress has been made in every field of the state government including the promotion of education, the care of the mentally and physically handicapped, the relief of the needy aged, dependent children and unemployed, the protection of the public health, the maintenance of our state highway system, and the constructive regulation and protection of the workers, the farmers, and the business men of Illinois. In meeting the new problems which these years have brought to us, the state has undertaken many new services to its citizens, including its comprehensive program of services to our veterans and assistance in the development of essential aviation facilities in all sections of Illinois.

The loyal devotion of thousands of men and women in every branch of the state's service makes it possible for us to turn over to the new administration a state government which is performing efficiently the tasks which have been assigned to it by the Constitution and the General Assembly, and which is in a strong financial position. Because effective plans must always depend upon sound financing, let me summarize the present financial position of the State of Illinois.

By every yardstick, the State of Illinois is in a sound financial condition. As of December 1, 1948, total cash balances available as reported by the State Treasurer, came close to one billion dollars—$908,934,462—to be exact.

That, however, is not money with which we can do as we please. As we all know, most of this money is "tied up" in one way or another. More than half a billion dollars of it is held in trust in the United States Treasury to pay unemployment compensation claims. This money was collected from Illinois employers for this sole purpose. Another $91 millions is earmarked from the proceeds of $385 millions of bond issues, authorized by the voters to pay a bonus to Illinois service men and women, the most generous of any State bonus to date. And other millions in the Treasury, such as Motor Fuel Tax funds held for local roads and streets, money held to pay the principal and interest on State bonds, and money paid by the Federal Government for purposes designated by Congress, are likewise not available for anything but pre-determined uses. As to this earmarked money, about $740 millions in all, the State Treasury is somewhat in the position of a trust company or bank holding funds in escrow.

Money available for so-called "general" purposes on December 1, 1948—the balance in the General Revenue fund as shown by the Treasurer's statement—was $168,485,514. Against this amount there were about $55 millions of obligations outstanding—mostly contracts let under the Capital Improvements program for buildings at State welfare institutions, the University of Illinois, teachers' colleges and universities, and the hospital building program. In accordance with the best accounting practice, as soon as the State assumes liability under a contract, it is charged on the books. In this way, those responsible for the State's solvency know what is owing at all times.

The State of Illinois thus has a "clear balance" of $113 millions in the treasury, exclusive of funds set aside for special purposes, and after provision has been made for paying all contractual obligations incurred to date. On December 31, 1940, just before I assumed the office of Governor, the General Revenue Fund cash balance was approximately $7.6 millions, against which were warrants and other obligations outstanding.

The present substantial treasury balance can be traced, in part, to the high level of state revenue that has prevailed during the past few years, especially since the end of the war. During the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1945, just after VE Day, the Retailers' Occupation, or Sales Tax, brought in about $90 millions; three years later during the fiscal year 1948, the State collected almost $159 millions from this same tax.

But the same inflationary forces that raised the State's income, also increased its costs. That is the other side of the financial picture. The cost of food for the State's wards at its institutions, and the cost of living for needy people receiving public assistance, has climbed so high that the appropriations made for these purposes two years ago, and at that time thought ample, have proved insufficient.

The Public Aid Commission, the Department of Public Welfare, and the Department of Public Safety definitely will require deficiency appropriations for the present biennium ending June 30, 1949, to meet these increased costs. More than enough money is in the treasury to pay these necessary added costs, and it is there because two years ago, when present appropriations were enacted, the General Assembly and the administration pursued a financial policy that kept total commitments within the limits of conservative estimates of the State's future income. The State's total financial commitments, as finally enacted, were well within its ability to finance them under any conditions. While it turned out that receipts have exceeded those conservative estimates, the fact remains that had even a fraction of the rejected appropriations been enacted in 1947, the State's financial condition today might be in a precarious position. The State cannot, any more than a private citizen, spend money it does not get, no matter how rosy the prospects for future income, and no matter how worthy the proposed spending may be. As it is, the present ability of the state to meet the high cost of maintaining essential services is unquestioned.

Furthermore, the State's position has been strengthened because the excess income which accumulated in the earlier bienniums of this administration was carefully guarded and has been expended in permanent improvements to the State's plant. During the war it was virtually impossible to do any construction or major repair work. Consequently, needs piled up for new buildings and major repairs that were essential as soon as conditions permitted. In 1945, even before the end of the war, steps were taken for a comprehensive program of public works to be paid for out of accumulated tax receipts.

The 64th General Assembly appropriated approximately $139 millions from the General Revenue Fund for postwar public works, exclusive of State highways that are financed out of taxes on motorists and from Federal aid. This $139 millions was made available for the two years from July 1, 1945, to June 30, 1947, but because of material shortages immediately after the end of hostilities, only about $66 millions was actually expended by the end of the 64th biennium, on June 30, 1947. The program consequently was continued by the 65th General Assembly, when it appropriated about $113 millions for the present biennium, which ends June 30, 1949.

Up to December 1, 1948, $86 millions of these new appropriations either had been expended, or contracts had been let. About $27 millions remained unencumbered.

For the whole period from July 1, 1945, to December 1, 1948, about 3½ years, the lion's share of capital improvement expenditure has gone for six major purposes. The amounts spent or under contract for them, by December 1, are as follows:

MAJOR CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS FINANCED BY STATE OF ILLINOIS

Expended or under Contract, July 1, 1945—December 1, 1948
(Rounded to nearest thousand)

Improvements at Public Welfare Institutions	$ 29,811,000
Grants to municipalities for housing	28,156,000
Grants to townships and road districts, secondary and feeder roads	27,689,000
Improvements at University of Illinois	17,259,000
Improvements at Teachers' Colleges and other Department Registration and Education institutions	16,406,000
Improvements at penal institutions	5,270,000
Total major capital improvements	$124,591,000

The $124 millions so far spent or placed under contract for the above six classes is more than 80 per cent of the total of $152 millions that has been spent or obligated to date. Other items, smaller in terms of dollars, but of tremendous importance to the people are: new tuberculosis hospitals; State aid for community hospitals, for airport development, and for the Chicago Medical Center; purchase of a State office building in Chicago; and the recreational and water storage lakes program.

These figures clearly indicate that our present financial position is strong. Only the unstable conditions in the national and world economy prevent my describing the State's position as stable. It is fortunate that our position is as strong as it is because Illinois, in common with the state governments throughout the nation, must face heavy financial demands in this and succeeding bienniums.

In the first place, those divisions of the state which now require deficiency appropriations to meet present inflationary costs must prepare their budgets for the 66th Biennium on the basis of existing costs. In the preparation of the estimates of requirements for the next biennium which the heads of the code departments and commissions have turned over to the Budgetary Commission, I have urged the practice of the strictest economy consistent with the adequate performance of essential services. The Commission, I am informed, is cooperating closely with the Governor-elect who will submit the budget to you in due course.

Our state government will be confronted in the next biennium by many demands for increased expenditures of money. It is strongly urged in many quarters that state salaries should be again increased both at the top and throughout all levels of the state service, to enable employees to meet mounting living costs and to insure that the State may obtain and hold qualified personnel against the competition of opportunities offered outside the state service.

Likewise, there is urgent need for the continuation of the programs which have been carried forward under the appropriations included in the Permanent Improvement Appropriation bill of the Sixty-fifth General Assembly for housing and slum clearance, for airport development, for farm-to-market roads, and particularly for new buildings for the state institutions of higher education and the hospitals of the Department of Public Welfare. Those appropriations by no means covered all the capital improvements needed for the various branches of the state service. They represented a selection of only the most urgent items which could be provided at the time from funds then available.

Most urgent of all these worthy programs is the modernization and expansion of our state hospitals. The buildings provided by the last General Assembly constitute only a beginning of what is required to provide safe and adequate facilities for the mentally sick in Illinois. This is a nation-wide problem which is faced by practically every state government. While Illinois ranks high among the states in the care it gives to mental patients, our hospitals continue to be woefully overcrowded and we are using many structures which are obsolescent and inefficient and meet only minimum requirements for safety. These patients cannot plead their cause as vociferously as other advocates of state aid, but their welfare is a serious responsibility on every one in the state government. I urge you to discharge that responsibility in the fullest possible manner.

Again, I would not wish to leave the office of Governor without emphasizing the importance of the long-range program for the expansion of the Capitol Group of Buildings here at Springfield which was developed by the Illinois Postwar Planning Commission in 1945. The tremendous growth of the population of Illinois since most of these buildings were constructed and the great expansion in the functions of state government have rendered the present buildings entirely inadequate and have resulted in the dispersal of state offices throughout the City of Springfield. This operation is both expensive and inefficient. In my recommendations to the General Assembly two years ago for projects for the present biennium, I included only the badly needed new power plant in order to give hospitals and college buildings preference in a shortage of building materials and labor. However, the completion of the Capitol Group program, at the earliest time possible, is vital to orderly, efficient and economical state administration.

Thus, if we look at the State's finances from the point of view of the great business enterprise which it is, it appears that the resources on hand are small when compared with the future needs of the enterprise.

Those facts will make more difficult, but none the less urgent, the solution of the very grave financial problems confronting local governments in Illinois. The spiral of inflation has hit every home, every business and every government in America. Those governments which have been unable to match mounting costs with increased revenues, have found it almost impossible to maintain the most essential public services, to deal fairly with their public servants, and to balance their budgets. This situation confronts many of our municipalities and school districts.

The principal source of revenue of these local governments is the general property tax. Because it is practically impossible to collect this tax on intangibles, real estate in Illinois is bearing such a heavy burden of taxation that it is not only unfair, but practically impossible to increase it. This is true even though not a cent of the property taxes paid by our citizens goes to support the state government. Since the local governments are the creatures of the State, and their powers are limited by the State's constitution and laws, the people must look to the state government for action to help solve their very real emergencies.

In the case of the public schools, the State has long assisted the local school boards through distribution of money from the common school fund and other funds to defray the costs of special school services. In the last eight years each General Assembly, on my recommendation, increased the appropriations for those funds until for the present biennium they are almost three times the total appropriated by the Sixty-first General Assembly in 1939.

Despite this fact, and although hundreds of school districts have voluntarily increased their school taxes with the approval of voters at referendum elections, continued mounting costs and the needs of our teachers for living wages, make their problems still acute. I am confident that this General Assembly, like all its predecessors, will regard adequate provision for the public schools as a primary duty which must and will be performed. It is important, however, that you, the school people, and all the people, understand that the State has no hidden resources to meet this need. The people will pay the entire cost of their schools in taxes whether those taxes are collected by the local governments, the state, or—should proposals for federal aid to the public schools be adopted—by the federal government.

The problems of our city governments have received careful consideration from the Illinois Revenue Commission, which was set up at my recommendation by the Sixty-fifth General Assembly. I understand the Commission has given special consideration to proposals to provide for municipalities additional sources of revenue other than the general property tax. I believe such action is imperative if we are to maintain good local government and adhere to a fundamental principle of American governmental finance. That principle is this: Economy and responsibility demand that each branch of government shall levy, collect, and spend, the revenues necessary for the performance of its duties.

I have stressed the sound financial position of our state government because I believe it has contributed greatly to the welfare and prosperity of all the people. The citizens of Illinois pay no general property taxes to the state and no personal or corporate income taxes; and our total state revenues are well below the average per person collected by all the states of the Union. I know that our attractive tax position has contributed greatly to the establishment of numerous new industries in Illinois during the postwar period. We should strive to preserve that position.

Upon this General Assembly must rest the responsibility for keeping Illinois sound. It would be easy in this transition period to authorize extravagant expenditures which would dissipate the State's resources and impose new tax burdens on the people. Economy is never popular and the man who says "No" cannot expect to be fully understood by the man who says "Please." However, I know most of the members of this Assembly. Although the political complexion of the Houses has changed somewhat, I recognize most of the faces before me. I am confident that you will maintain the solvency and the integrity of our state government.

Man does not live by bread alone, and the accomplishments of the state government of Illinois in the last eight years go far beyond the figures in the balance sheet. In a dozen fields we have made strides advancing the comfort, the prosperity, the health, and the happiness of the people. In many of these fields we have set a pattern for other states.

One such is the Illinois state housing program under which state funds administered by the State Housing Board have assisted more than one hundred local housing authorities set up by the county and city governments to undertake practical projects to provide needed housing for their citizens in the continuing nation-wide shortage of homes. The essence of our program is home rule and cooperation with private enterprise. Under it thousands of temporary and permanent homes have been made available for sale or rental according to plans developed and executed by the leaders in the local communities. At the same time the slum clearance program enacted by the Sixty-fifth General Assembly has enabled the city of Chicago for the first time to enlist private capital in the great task of clearing the vast slum areas of the metropolis and replacing them with rental housing.

In dollars the Illinois program has been a modest one, as the total appropriations for housing by the last two General Assemblies totaled $30,000,000. The results thus far justify a continuation of the State Housing Board program until private enterprise is able to meet the people's housing needs without governmental assistance.

Illinois has led the nation in its service to its veterans of World War II. That program was fashioned while the war was still in progress by the Governor's Committee on Veterans Rehabilitation and Employment organized in cooperation with existing veteran organizations. That program, later taken over for the most part by the Illinois Veterans Commission, was in operation when our fighters came home. State service offices were open in every county where the veterans received expert assistance from state agents, who themselves were veterans, in making the transition to civilian life, in obtaining employment and in getting all the benefits to which they were entitled by state or federal laws. Thousands of Illinois veterans suffering temporary or permanent disabilities from their military service have been rehabilitated for useful lives by the State's rehabilitation program and new buildings have been provided for veteran patients in our state hospitals.

In response to widespread demands that Illinois should provide a liberal cash bonus for its veterans, I called the General Assembly into special session in the spring of 1946. The Assembly enacted a bonus program providing maximum payments of $900 and also providing special taxes to defray most of its costs. The plan was approved by the voters at a referendum at the general election of 1946 and promptly put into effect. Under the effective administration of the Service Recognition Board the bonus is now four-fifths paid. Illinois has led the nation both in the amount of the bonus and the promptness and efficiency with which the law has been administered.

One of the greatest problems which the State has faced in meeting the needs of the veterans has been in providing facilities for higher education for the thousands of men and women who wished to resume their education under the provisions of the GI bill. Under that law the federal government provided funds to pay the tuition and the subsistence expense of the veteran students, but it did not provide for the expansion of the private and state colleges and universities to accommodate them.

Illinois again rose to the emergency. By record increases in the appropriations of the General Assembly, and by the herculean efforts of the Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois and the State Teachers' College Board which administers Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, Illinois State Normal University at Normal, Northern Illinois State Teachers' College at DaKalb, Western Illinois State College at Macomb and Eastern Illinois State College at Charleston, housing and classroom facilities were provided for tremendously increased enrollments.

When it was clear that despite these measures the facilities of the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana could not accommodate thousands of students who were seeking admission, arrangements were made to open branches of the University at Navy Pier in Chicago and at Galesburg. The heavy enrollment at all these institutions has continued since the war and more and more of the boys and girls of our state are seeking facilities for college training. Under these circumstances it is obvious that we must expect permanent enrollments far beyond pre-war figures. Because the prospective enrollments of the future will be too large for a single institution, and because there is growing demand for a permanent branch of the University to serve the people of Cook County who constitute more than half of the State's population, we must prepare now to replace the temporary branch of the University at Navy Pier with a permanent branch in Cook County.

The University and its professional schools and each of the other state colleges and universities urgently need new buildings and equipment. Only the most immediate requirements were covered in the appropriations made by the Sixty-fifth General Assembly. Because there was practically no new construction at these institutions during the war and the depression years which preceded it, it will take many years to complete the extensions and modernization which will be necessary if Illinois is to extend full educational opportunities to all its citizens.

One of the outstanding achievements of Illinois in the last eight years has been the steady progress which was made in the field of public health. Milestones in the program of the Department of Public Health have been the establishment of diagnostic centers in areas where such facilities were not available, progress in the war on tuberculosis through the provision of the first state tuberculosis hospitals and the establishment of mobile X-ray laboratories which have examined free of charge hundreds of thousands of citizens in all sections of the State; progress in the study of cancer; the promotion of community health through the county health board law and the new program of state aid in community hospital construction and consistant progress in the war on communicable diseases. The Department has done an outstanding job in its service to the people and in its cooperation with the medical profession.

One of the principal functions of modern state governments is the maintenance and improvement of highways. Illinois pioneered in the construction of hard roads and its highway system is one of the finest and most extensive in America. Despite the handicaps of war, our highways were kept in shape to handle the heaviest volume of traffic in our history. Since the war we have been engaged in a great program of reconstruction and rehabilitation. Also for the first time the State has extended aid in the construction of farm-to-market and township roads so vital to the commerce and convenience of the farmers of our state. This program should be continued.

Illinois agriculture has enjoyed unprecedented prosperity in the last eight years. Its production of food for victory was a superb achievement. It has benefited by wise legislation and its efficient administration by the Department of Agriculture which has resulted in great strides in the eradication of livestock diseases, the supervision of seeds sold in Illinois, progress in soil conservation, and in the expansion of the facilities and educational features of the Illinois State Fair. Improvement in rural schools, extension of rural electrification, and the farm-to-market road program previously referred to have enriched rural life throughout the state.

The Department of Labor has made a record of steady progress in the enforcement of laws protecting the health and safety of workers and in settling labor controversies within the state. Legislation which it has sponsored and which was adopted by the last four General Assemblies has strengthened the rights and opportunities of workers throughout Illinois. Milestones in that legislation include the prevailing wage-law on all state work, repeated increases in the benefits paid under our workmen's compensation and unemployment insurance laws, the law requiring equal pay for equal work by women, and the tightening of our child labor laws. Illinois is one of the few states of the Union which has adopted no legislation restricting the rights of labor to organize and bargain collectively. The State's policy of full cooperation with labor has contributed to the fact that Illinois, a great industrial empire, has been relatively free of postwar industrial strife.

More than one-third of every dollar spent by the State goes for the welfare purposes represented by the care of handicapped citizens in the hospitals and other institutions of the Department of Public Welfare and in contributions to approximately three per cent of the total population of the state under the various programs administered by the Illinois Public Aid Commission. In both of these fields great progress has been made within the last eight years.

The administration of the entire public aid program has been placed in the hands of the nonpartisan Illinois Public Aid Commission. Its administration has been strengthened and reorganized. To meet mounting living costs, old age pensions have been increased from a maximum of thirty dollars a month to fifty dollars a month with additional allowances for necessary medical care. Pensions to the blind have similarly been increased. The system of state aid to dependent children inaugurated by this administration has made it possible for many thousands of children to be cared for in their own homes. The Public Aid Commission also supervises the State's participation in the care of those citizens on general relief.

The cost of the first three programs is borne entirely by state and federal aid funds. The relief burden is shared by the state and local governments with the state paying much more than half of the total costs. It is to be noted that until the State undertook these programs, the entire burden of care of the aged and needy fell on local governments.

It also should be noted that by an act of Congress which took effect last October, the maximum contribution of the federal government for old age pensions was increased by five dollars a month. I believe that emergency legislation should be adopted promptly at this session which will permit the Public Aid Commission at once to increase the maximum payments under old age assistance at least to fifty-five dollars a month.

The State faced no more difficult task during the war years than that of obtaining the proper personnel and the necessary supplies for the institutions of the Department of Public Welfare. Although wages and salaries in these institutions were increased by greater amounts than elsewhere in the state service, it has been extremely difficult to obtain needed doctors, nurses, and attendants. The personnel is still below that provided for in the budget. The urgent need of new buildings, some of which are now under construction, already has been noted. Nonetheless, Illinois has made remarkable progress in the care of the mentally sick and in scientific treatment resulting in the cure of many types of mental illness.

In fact, every department of the state government has faced new problems in the war and postwar period. The Department of Public Safety, created early in my administration to coordinate the activities of the highway police and the administration of the state prisons and paroles, has vastly improved the supervision of traffic on our highways and has furnished effective cooperation to local law enforcement authorities in the pursuit of fugitives, the retrieving of stolen property, and in the facilities of its crime detection laboratory. It made an outstanding contribution in the war by the voluntary cooperation of prisoners at Stateville prison in medical experiments which resulted in great advancement in the treatment of malaria with which so many American soldiers were stricken in foreign fields.

One of the strongest recommendations of the Department, and one to which I urge the General Assembly to give very serious attention at this session, is for the provision of a separate reformatory for juvenile criminals. At present these young criminals, some of them third and fourth time offenders, must be housed in the State Training School at St. Charles along with the merely delinquent and truant youngsters for whom this institution was intended. The presence of these hardened young offenders is demoralizing to the other boys and makes ineffective the training and discipline of the St. Charles institution. The funds required for the new reformatory will be a constructive investment in good citizenship.

Another new department created in this Administration, the Department of Revenue, has done an efficient and economical job in handling the largest revenues in the State's history and in administering the complicated assessment laws which were adopted in 1945 to meet the situation resulting from the adoption of a 100 per cent valuation by the assessor in Cook County. The creation of the Department of Revenue has enabled the Department of Finance to concentrate on its very important functions of administering the State's contributions to local governments under various laws, supervising State purchases and printing, and the orderly expenditure of State Appropriations, and assisting in the preparation of the budget.

I have already referred to the work of the youngest of the Code departments, the Department of Aeronautics established in 1945. This department, manned almost exclusively by flyers who served in World War II, has developed a comprehensive program for aviation in Illinois and has administered the state grants which aided in the construction and improvement of public airports in 24 communities throughout the state.

Notable achievements of other departments include the cooperation of the Department of Insurance with the General Assembly in the preparation of new insurance laws which, under a recent decision of the United States Supreme Court, have protected the right of the State to supervise insurance in Illinois; the program of the Department of Conservation for a statewide system of lakes and recreation centers; and the research on mining problems being carried on by the Department of Mines and Minerals in cooperation with the University of Illinois.

Attached to this report are condensed summaries of the eight-year record of each of the code departments and commissions of the state government, together with the department's recommendations for future action. I wish that I had time to read each of them here. I urge you to examine the summaries as well as the annual reports of these divisions of our government which tell in detail every phase of their activities.

There remains to be discussed in this review of the last eight years one piece of legislation adopted by the Sixty-fifth General Assembly, which while in one sense was only a belated fulfillment of a requirement in the State Constitution, in another sense constituted a milestone in Illinois legislative history. I refer, of course, to the Congressional Reapportionment law, under which our 26 Congressmen were elected last November.

That law provided the first effective reapportionment of Illinois congressional districts since 1901. It corrected not only the inequality in representation between Cook County and downstate, but also the much greater inequality which existed among the districts in Cook County. Under the old law Cook County had both the largest and smallest Congressional districts in the entire country.

Important as this legislation was in itself, it is more important in its significance in the healing of old fears and prejudices which have divided the people downstate from their fellow citizens in the metropolitan area of Cook County. Previous attempts to obtain either Congressional or Senatorial reapportionment, in accordance with the provisions of the State Constitution, had been blocked by downstate members of the General Assembly who reflected the determination of their constituents that control of the state government should not pass into the hands of the representatives from a single county having a majority of the state's population.

In urging the Sixty-fifth General Assembly to pass Congressional Reapportionment, I proposed that there should be no attempt at Senatorial reapportionment at that time, but that a Commission should be created to consider a new basis of representation in the Senate and House of the General Assembly. Such a commission, I was convinced, could find a satisfactory formula for a permanent balance of power between the metropolitan area and downstate, similar to those which have been adopted in other states having a comparable concentration of a large share of the state's population in a single community.

Although the reapportionment law was adopted, the bill to create such a commission was not enacted. I believe the time is now ripe to create such a commission in order that, if a satisfactory solution can be found, it may be carried into effect as soon as possible after the United States Census of 1950 is completed.

The automobile, the airplane, the radio, and the whole trend of our present living have brought all the people of Illinois closer together. There is a much better understanding between citizens of the metropolitan area and downstate. Their interests are much more nearly the same. The record of the present administration has proved that the people of all Illinois can live and work together in harmony.

Until a satisfactory compromise has been reached on this question of legislative representation, it will continue to be—as it has been in almost every session of the General Assembly for a quarter of a century—a stumbling block in the path of all proposals for revision of our state constitution. A resolution to submit to the voters of Illinois the question of the calling of a constitutional convention will be presented to you at this session. I believe wholeheartedly that the people have a right to decide whether or not the Constitution should be amended or replaced by a new charter. From the experience of my efforts to obtain passage of such a resolution in the past, I know that the present effort can succeed only if the people are convinced that there is substantial agreement on a new basis of representation which will protect fully all sections of Illinois.

Therefore, I repeat, now is the time to set up a Commission representing both Houses of the General Assembly and the public at large to consider the single question of a new basis of representation in the General Assembly. The Commission should undertake this important task at once. Solution of this question will make possible a new era of harmony and progress in Illinois.

In closing, may I express my sincere good wishes to Governor-elect Stevenson, my deep appreciation of the cooperation I have received from the members of the General Assembly, my warm thanks to the executives and the thousands of loyal workers whose efforts have helped to write the record of my administration, and my eternal gratitude to the people of Illinois.

May Illinois, the finest of all the states in the best country on earth, go forward, under the blessing of God, to greater progress and happiness for its people.

The Governor having concluded his message, the committee heretofore appointed escorted him from the hall of the House of Representatives.

At the hour of 3:20 o'clock P. M., Senator Benson moved that the Joint Assembly do now rise.

And the motion prevailed.

The Senate having withdrawn, the House resumed its session.

The Speaker in the chair.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the Secretary of State, together with the papers referred to therein, which, pursuant to House Resolution No. 15, was referred to the Committee on Elections, when appointed:

STATE OF ILLINOIS
OFFICE OF THE
SECRETARY OF STATE.
SPRINGFIELD, January 5, 1949.

To the Honorable, the Speaker of the House:

SIR: In compliance with the provisions of statute, I submit herewith sundry papers relating to contest in the following district, filed in my office as indicated by the file stamp thereon:

Fifth District—C. Francis Stradford vs. Noble W. Lee, Louis G. Berman and Charles M. Skyles.

I have the honor to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,
(Signed) EDWARD J. BARRETT,
Secretary of State.

The Speaker announced the appointment of the following committee on the part of the House as provided for in Senate Joint Resolution No. 1: Messrs. Sullivan, Harris, Edw. C. Hunter, Taylor, Weber, Berman, DeLaCour, Clabaugh, Rhodes and Wood.

At the hour of 3:30 o'clock P. M., Mr. James J. Ryan moved that the House do now adjourn.

The motion prevailed.

And in accordance therewith and pursuant to Senate Joint Resolution No. 2, the House stood adjourned until Monday, January 10, 1949, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

MONDAY, JANUARY 10, 1949, 10:00 O'CLOCK A. M.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

The Speaker in the chair.

Prayer by Rev. Raymond O'Connor, Pastor of the Church of the Little Flower, of Springfield.

The Journal of Wednesday, January 5th, was being read, when, on motion of Mr. Granata, further reading of the same was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

By direction of the Speaker, the roll was called to ascertain the attendance of members, as follows:

Answering Present—144.

By unanimous consent, Messrs. Bolger, Burt, Carpenter and McCabe were excused from attendance on account of sickness; and Mr. Marek, on account of the death of his mother.

By unanimous consent, Mr. James J. Ryan offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

House Joint Resolution No. 2

Resolved, By the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring herein, that the two Houses meet in joint session in the State Arsenal at Springfield, Illinois, on Monday, January 10, 1949, at 12:00 o'clock Meridian, for the purpose of witnessing the inauguration of the Governor-elect, Lieutenant Governor-elect and other State officers-elect of the State of Illinois.

And the resolution was adopted.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and ask their concurrence therein.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Holten offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 16

Resolved, That the Clerk of the House immediately after the passage of this resolution, place in separate boxes, arranged according to seniority of service, the name of each member on separate slips of paper; that he then proceed in the presence of the House, to draw one slip at a time, first from the box containing the names of those of longest service, and then those of next longest until all have been exhausted, and as each slip is drawn, he shall announce the name of the member upon it, who shall then and there choose a permanent seat for the session: Provided, that before the drawing commences the Speaker shall cause every seat to be vacated: And, provided, further, that the lady members, the Majority Leader and the Minority Leader be accorded the privilege of selecting their seats before the drawing commences.

And the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Hodge moved that Messrs. Bolger, McCabe and Simpson be accorded the courtesy of selecting their seats before the drawing of seats commences.

And the motion prevailed.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the adoption of the following joint resolution, to-wit:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 2

Resolved, By the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring herein, that the two Houses meet in joint session in the State Arsenal at Springfield, Illinois, on Monday, January 10, 1949, at 12:00 o'clock Meridian, for the purpose of witnessing the inauguration of the Governor-elect, Lieutenant Governor-elect and other State officers-elect of the State of Illinois.

Concurred in by the Senate, January 10, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

At the hour of 10:45 o'clock A. M., Mr. James J. Ryan moved that the House do now take a recess until 12:00 o'clock Meridian, at which time, pursuant to House Joint Resolution No. 2, the two Houses met in joint session in the State Arsenal at Springfield, Illinois, for the purpose of witnessing the inauguration of the Governor-elect, the Lieutenant Governor-elect and other State officers-elect of the State of Illinois.

And the motion prevailed.

JOINT SESSION

At the hour of 12:00 o'clock Meridian, pursuant to joint resolution adopted by the House of Representatives and the Senate, the two Houses met in joint session in the State Arsenal, at Springfield.

Invocation by Rev. Dr. Kenneth Walker, of the Unitarian Church, of Bloomington.

The President of the Senate announced that a quorum of the Senate was present.

The Speaker of the House of Representatives announced that a quorum of the House was present.

It appearing that a quorum of the two Houses was present, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, as the presiding officer of the joint session, announced that the Joint Assembly was duly convened for the purpose of witnessing the inauguration of the Governor-elect, Lieutenant Governor-elect and other State officers-elect of the State of Illinois.

The Doorkeeper announced the presence of the Ladies of the Joint Inaugural Party, who were admitted and assigned seats.

The Doorkeeper announced the presence of the Honorable Chief Justice and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois, who were admitted and assigned seats.

The Doorkeeper announced the presence of the members of the Joint Inaugural Committee, who were admitted and assigned seats.

The Doorkeeper announced the presence of United States Senators Scott W. Lucas and Paul H. Douglas, and other distinguished guests, who were admitted and assigned seats.

The Doorkeeper announced the presence of his Excellency Governor Dwight H. Green, the other State Officers and the State Officers-elect, who were admitted and assigned seats.

The Speaker announced that the oath would be administered to the Officers-elect by Mr. Chief Justice Fulton.

The Speaker of the House then presented the Governor-elect, the Lieutenant Governor-elect, the Secretary of State-elect, the Auditor of Public Accounts-elect, the State Treasurer-elect and the Attorney General-elect, to Mr. Chief Justice William J. Fulton, who administered the oath of office provided by Section 25 of Article 5 of the Constitution of the State of Illinois, separately, to Adlai E. Stevenson, Governor; Sherwood Dixon, Lieutenant Governor; Edward J. Barrett, Secretary of State; Benjamin O. Cooper, Auditor of Public Accounts; Ora Smith, State Treasurer; and Ivan A. Elliott, Attorney General.

An enthusiastic ovation was extended the University of Illinois Concert Band and its conductor, Mr. Mark H. Hindsley.

Commander Howard West of the Advertising Men's Post No. 38, American Legion, made a presentation of Colors to Governor Stevenson.

The Speaker of the House of Representatives, in appropriate remarks, presented His Excellency, Governor Adlai E. Stevenson, who addressed the Joint Assembly as follows:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly, Governor and Mrs. Green and Fellow Citizens:

Every Governor of Illinois has tried, I suppose, to make his inaugural address brief. Few have succeeded. I, too, have tried, and failed, even though I have reserved for future comment many subjects deserving discussion.

I cannot fail, however, to note the significance and perhaps the historical opportunity for you and me in this hour when Illinois is passing from one epoch to another exactly as it did 100 years ago.

Historians say that 1848 was a transition year in the history of Illinois. A steel plow to cut the tough sod had, at last, been invented. The reaper had come to our prairies. Plank roads had begun to lift Illinois out of the mud. The Germans and the Irish were coming. With 25,000 souls, Chicago was struggling out of the swamps. A railroad was creeping westward. Illinois was emerging from the log cabin frontier era and was taking its place in the new industrial day that was breaking upon the Union.

Illinois was to meet the test of a century ago. It was to become a pillar of strength and a progressive leader in the sisterhood of States. Behind vast barriers of sea and land, Illinois grew to maturity relatively remote and aloof from world affairs.

Today, Illinois stands at the threshold of another era—an era in which almost any event in any part of the world can have immediate and profound impact upon us. Barriers of time and space no longer isolate or protect us. And to a degree hitherto undreamed, events in America have prompt repercussions around the globe. Many watch us intently. Our mistakes, our failures, all are quickly exploited by those who watch with malice. But more watch with prayers.

Two convulsive conflicts have made our revolutionary generation the bloodiest in the history of man. And now with the post war period of gay optimism ending, the world settles down to a long trial of strength between individualism and collectivism—a trial of strength not limited to military and economic potentials but to moral and spiritual actualities.

Will Illinois in this new era take the leadership that it took in the materialistic era of the past hundred years? We can if we will it. We who meet here in Springfield today can take a long step toward making our government a model, a precept in the best tradition of self government. The forces of progress are at hand. In the century that stretches back to the log cabin door, nature, agriculture, industry, learning, and an energetic, diverse population have combined to bless us, enrich us, enlighten us. Nothing can stop us unless it be our own moral inadequacy, greed, selfishness, prejudice, excessive partisanship.

We are here, chosen by the people, not as party agents but as the people's agents. A common concern for the future unites us. A common desire to serve the state unites us. Political parties and party principles are essential to our system of government, but economic and social principles upon which a healthy electorate divides, diminish in importance as government descends from the national to the local level. Basic divisions between Democrats and Republicans on national issues have little bearing upon state or municipal problems. Mere partisan struggle for advantage will serve neither party nor state, because where you, as legislators of Illinois, and I as Governor of Illinois, now stand, it is only performance that will count.

I would not be misunderstood as to the role that Illinois can take in this titanic struggle for the future that plagues the world. What Illinois can and must do is to make itself the strongest link in that mighty chain which we call the United States.

We can set our own house in order. We can hearten our countrymen; we can demonstrate for all to see that representative government is healthy, vigorous, enterprising; that representative government is the best government. We can show the world what a government consecrated to plain talk, hard work and prairie horse-sense can do.

In accordance with the Constitution and tradition I shall today make a few suggestions calculated, I think, to put our house in order.

STATE AND LOCAL FINANCES

Let's assess first our basic problem. With the many new services which modern civilization demands of government revenue is the basic problem, because the amount of money available to do a given job determines how the job is done.

We must bear in mind that the period of manpower and material shortage of the war years when many services and expenditures of government were necessarily curtailed is now over. Instead of an opportunity to accumulate excess revenues we now have an accumulation of imperative demands for capital improvements and services at greatly increased cost.

The state's taxing system is today producing revenue at the unprecedented rate of approximately 450 million dollars a year. But some of the major taxes are earmarked for special expenditure programs. Federal grants add about 75 million dollars a year, but these grants are also earmarked. As my predecessor, Governor Green, said to you last week, we have an unencumbered balance of about 100 million dollars in the State Treasury after allowing for anticipated deficiency appropriations and all legal or moral commitments.

On the other side of the ledger our bonded debt is 466 million dollars, the second largest of any state in the union. Moreover, to operate those state functions which are not financed from earmarked sources, we are now spending at a rate in excess of our income. Recent estimates show that expenditures of non-reserved funds in this fiscal year will exceed revenues by some 40 million dollars.

This is the background against which we must assess the obligations of our state to its citizens. Many school units are hard pressed despite increased property taxes. Many face increasing enrollments with inadequate buildings. Low salaries make it difficult to recruit and retain the best teachers. Likewise municipalities quite generally face grave difficulties in maintaining their essential services.

The people are impatient with bickering between the state and local governments over the division of duties and revenues. They look only for efficient and responsible government by whatever agency is best fitted. As taxpayers, they are entitled to a governmental structure both state and local which will insure the most economical administration of all government services. There is no justification for preserving the frills and extravagances of one government when the functions of other governments within the boundaries of the same state have been reduced beyond the minimums of common welfare. The citizens of the towns and school districts of this state are also the citizens of the state. We want no feast within our borders when there is also famine.

The problems of all governments in Illinois are the concern, indeed the major concern, of the state. Consistent with maintaining the state's credit and discharging its own prior responsibilities for the general welfare, our greatest single challenge lies in finding the means for better financing of schools, roads and local services. To shoulder this heavier responsibility certainly it is our obligation to squeeze the water and the waste out of governments at every level. Before imposing additional state taxes, certainly it is our obligation to enforce completely and effectively those we already have.

A greater participation in the financing of local government requires that the state demand economical and efficient local government. I do not think that state funds should be used to perpetuate structures that can not do an economical and effective job of good administration. But for well-organized local units the state should relax restrictions for its aid so as to insure the maximum of local initiative and responsibility in the management of local affairs.

The able Revenue Commission appointed by the 65th General Assembly, of which Senator Merritt J. Little is chairman, will shortly make detailed recommendations to you concerning these basic problems of revenue and state aid. I anticipate that its conclusions will reflect its concern for our best interests and will be made with a vision which transcends fleeting political considerations.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

Directly related to the problem of revenue, and to other road blocks to better government is, of course, the Constitution of 1870.

I cannot now describe in detail all of its impediments. But everyone knows that uniformity of taxation of property, commanded in 1870 when land was the principal form of wealth, is impossible today. We avoid compliance by individual and official evasion and subterfuge. The price we pay is an inequitable taxing system with real estate carrying a disproportionate share of the burden, and a serious breakdown in respect for law. Irreverence for constitutions threatens the foundations of constitutional government itself.

The flat constitutional command of legislative reapportionment every ten years has not been complied with since 1901. Realistically, I apprehend that it is not going to be complied with so long as reapportionment would give control of both houses of the General Assembly to Cook County, as it would under the present Constitution. And in the meantime there is practical disenfranchisement of a very large number of citizens.

The present constitutional limitation on municipal indebtedness has resulted in a proliferation of local governments which increases costs, diffuses responsibility and hampers effective control of government by the people.

The rigid constitutional pattern for the administration of the state's justice has resulted in a complex, unbusinesslike judicial establishment.

The hands of the legislature are tied in many respects by detailed unnecessary constitutional legislation. To use Governor Lowden's words of 32 years ago: "To withhold necessary power from a public official because he may abuse it, is to confess the failure of our form of government."

Experience has demonstrated virtual impossibility of revising the Constitution by the process of piecemeal amendment. The need, therefore, is to assemble a constitutional convention to deal with the problems, promptly and comprehensively.

Accordingly, I request the General Assembly to adopt a joint resolution submitting to a referendum the question whether a constitutional convention shall be called. I am confident that the General Assembly will afford our people the opportunity to express themselves on this important question.

But legislative action alone is not enough. We must overcome those obstacles which have combined to defeat so many past efforts to revise our Constitution.

The fear so frequently expressed that a new constitution will permit a graduated income tax or turn over to Cook County domination of the legislature is probably the best assurance that the convention will refrain from doing so.

I know of no large number of our people who favor a state income tax. I know a great many who oppose it. Rather than risk the rejection of a new constitution because of this apprehension I would urge the convention to leave the income tax problem precisely where it stands at present.

I do not believe that Cook County wants legislative dominance in both houses. Even if Cook County wanted that dominance it could not get it in a constitutional convention, for there the distribution of voting strength as between Cook County and downstate would be precisely the same as in the General Assembly. The problem of achieving a balance of legislative power is neither novel nor complex. It was solved in our federal system and it has been solved in the constitutions of other states.

Other objections will be raised to a constitutional convention. Some will oppose it because of the ensuing uncertainties of interpretation, or because of the fear that hard won gains and advantages will be lost. At best this is going far afield to borrow trouble; at worst it is according the convenience of the few precedence over the welfare of the many.

In the past political parties in Illinois have laid aside partisan differences in the consideration of basic constitutional issues. A vigorous non-partisan effort is again imperative. The support of interested groups must be enlisted. And I hope you will change our election laws and restore to political parties the responsibility for constitutional issues which the men who wrote the Constitution of 1870 contemplated they should have.

I firmly believe that if we approach the task of revising our Constitution in the manner I have outlined, our people will not fear or mistrust a constitutional convention and that such a convention, when assembled, will approach its responsibilities in the solemn spirit of retaining all that is of proven value while adapting our fundamental law to the needs of the present day.

PERSONNEL

Government, however good the laws, will not rise above the quality of the men that comprise it. Administration will be no better than the administrators. Revitalizing public service can't be achieved with good intentions and elocution about good government. The conditions of good morale are a sense of mission, self respect and dignity.

The problem of personnel administration in a business spending half a billion dollars a year merits the closest attention of you, the board of directors, and of us, your executive officers. It will have mine, I assure you.

Meanwhile let me comment on three aspects of the personnel problem. In the first place, responsibilities of this magnitude demand highly competent and scrupulous men at the top. It is obvious to all that many of the senior positions in the state's service do not pay enough to support, let alone attract the quality of management and leadership these positions demand and the people deserve, except upon a basis of unselfish sacrifice. And too often, as many have noted, the reward for sacrifice in public service is not gratitude in lieu of dollars, but abuse, criticism and ingratitude. Government cannot, will not, and should not attempt to match the salary scales of private business. But government can and must, if it is to be good government, pay salaries which are not an invitation to carelessness, indolence or even worse—corruption. And in good government, good men will find their supplementary reward in personal satisfaction, public esteem and respect.

I will propose, therefore, while you are considering general salary levels, substantial increases in the salaries of key positions.

In the second place, competent and incorruptible men at the top are not enough. It is the men and women in the ranks who translate legislation and executive policy into action, who give government its meaning and character. In a real sense they are the government. And its quality depends not on the majestic buildings symbolic of the power and dignity of government but upon the spirit and competence of these people who are the government.

These employees of the state are not employees of a political party. They must not be so considered.

Today the major emphasis in civil service administration is on recruiting, training and promoting the best possible body of men and women to administer the public business. I have carefully considered whether, in view of our lack of progress in this most important field, I should urge you to consider the adoption of a more modern system of personnel administration to secure the necessary emphasis upon recruitment and training aspects of a genuine merit system.

I have concluded, however, that a sincere effort must first be made to achieve progress under our present machinery. One significant legislative change is essential, however. The function of position classification is an integral part of personnel administration, and I urge the General Assembly to restore that function to the Civil Service Commission where it belongs.

In the third place, the modern goal of government is career service. Too large a segment of our employees are political transients rather than career servants. Ideally a change of administration should mean a change in policy-making personnel only. Hard, practical considerations point to the same goal. Current appropriations for personnel service are some one hundred million dollars a year. The prudent expenditure of such a sum for the best possible public service imposes a grave responsibility upon the General Assembly and the Governor.

I have no illusions that progress in this field will be easy. But I know that the patronage system of the past is inefficient because effective administration is impossible when employees owe their allegiance and responsibility not to their supervisors but to their political sponsors. And I know that the system is even of diminishing political value as the electorate finds it more and more distasteful. Witness the last election in Illinois.

I believe sincerely that we are sufficiently mature to encourage the policy of career service and an expanding merit system in Illinois.

Incidentally the phrase "the government of Illinois belongs to the people of Illinois" has too often been abused by empty lip service. A healthy antidote to payroll padding and familiar political practices would be to invite constant public scrutiny of payroll facts and figures. The policy of my administration will be to require as complete and current payroll information as is feasible and looking to the future I urge the adoption of legislation expressing that policy.

PUBLIC WELFARE AND ASSISTANCE

Public welfare is perhaps our most moving and urgent problem. During the early stages when we were setting up assistance programs for dependent children, the aged and the handicapped, we developed a two-headed organization to provide welfare services and assistance, frequently at the same time to the same people. It duplicates procedures and costs, and provides a double standard which affects salaries and methods of operation.

We have now had a broad experience in this field. I believe that by integrating the related services of the Illinois Public Aid Commission and the Department of Public Welfare into a single unit, we shall achieve not only economies and increased efficiency but better service to the citizen who does not want two, three, or four agencies visiting his home. I urge that legislation effecting this integration be adopted.

I also recommend for the director of this much enlarged department a strong advisory and policy approving board.

Our dependent children, our old people, our handicapped and mentally ill whose welfare would be entrusted to this single department will in the future as in the past merit our first attention on humane grounds and also because such a large segment of the state's dollar will be allocated to their care.

I assume the General Assembly will wish to proceed promptly by emergency legislation to increase aid to those for whom the last Congress made additional provision. The old age pensioners, and the blind are in need of this additional aid which will increase maximum payments under old age assistance to at least fifty-five dollars a month.

In this connection I believe the legislature should also give consideration to providing pension payments for the aged and blind solely on basis of need and without arbitrary maximum. Ceilings other than the need of the recipients have been eliminated for old age pensions in one-fourth of the states and made subject to administrative change in an equal number of jurisdictions.

The population of our mental institutions is growing at an alarming rate. The deficiencies in their accommodations, care and treatment are well known. So is the appalling cost of new building on a scale to meet the demand. So also is the dearth of competent trained personnel to properly staff existing facilities, let alone large additional facilities.

Humanity, prudence and good sense compel us to attack this problem all along the line. Fire hazards, structural and sanitary deficiencies endanger the well-being and even the lives of too many of our wards and must be eliminated. The building program to enlarge our capacity and reduce pitiful overcrowding in some of our hospitals and to replace obsolete units cannot be deferred. Moreover the population of our mental institutions which now exceeds 40,000 can and should, I think, be reduced. Many of these patients are merely aged and infirm or senile. They do not need elaborate psychiatric and nursing care. Segregation with proper custodial facilities and care should both cost less and provide more humane care. Others could be discharged and maintained in their own or foster homes with the aid of old age pensions. Still other patients could be discharged and maintained at home, treated and cared for through local agencies under the supervision of the State.

And to arrest the rapid increase in the mental hospital population we must also find ways and means of providing that treatment before hospitalization is necessary. With proper early treatment in their own communities many tragic souls could have remained in their homes and lived useful lives.

Too often the easiest way has been to commit people to institutions. Added to the human tragedy of hurrying merely distressing cases off to institutions is the ever-mounting long-term cost of institutional care, whereas these same people would get along better in their own communities and with proper treatment many would recover.

So I am suggesting a shift of emphasis from state hospitalization to home care. This will require time and the assistance of the ablest authorities in the fields of health and welfare. It will require the mobilization of all our public and private resources. It will involve a change in our philosophy and attitude toward these victims of troubled minds in a troubled world, with less emphasis on institutional care and more on prevention and clinical treatment.

This is but the pattern of a beginning, but a beginning must be made to conserve useful human life and control the cost of institutional care.

In the service of helpless people we have a special responsibility for the careful selection of personnel. To attract doctors, nurses, social workers and skilled attendants we will have to give unmistakable proof of our determination to establish an attractive career service in public welfare in Illinois for those who have a sincere urge to help the less fortunate.

LABOR

Our position as one of the leading industrial regions of the world underscores our responsibility for enlightened leadership in protecting the welfare of labor. That the role of a state in labor legislation is less dramatic than the role of the national government, makes it no less important. In fact the foundation of the safety and welfare of the worker rests on state legislation. The gains already made must not be impaired, and the foundation requires constant re-examination to insure its adequacy.

Accordingly, it is necessary that you review again the adequacy of workmen's compensation awards in the light of the increased living costs of the injured workman. And it is imperative that I insure scrupulous and disinterested administration of a law which is of such critical importance to the workman and his employer.

The maximum benefits payable under our unemployment compensation act were last adjusted in 1944. The purpose of this legislation is to enable the unemployed worker to continue to purchase the necessities of life. Increases in wage scales and living costs since 1944 have obliterated the correlation between earnings and unemployment benefits which are now insufficient to cover non-postponable necessities.

Our statute extends the benefits of unemployment compensation only to workers in establishments which employ more than six employees. Twenty-seven states, employing more than 60% of all the workers covered by unemployment compensation have extended their coverage to establishments employing less than six, without, apparently, encountering serious administrative difficulties. I urge you to consider this matter with other legislative adjustments in the field of unemployment compensation.

Here too, there are problems for the executive as well as for the legislature. The importance of security to workers, the heavy cost to employers, the volume of claims presented—all combine to demand the utmost administrative care to protect our unemployment compensation system against abuse by officials as well as undeserving claimants.

When the employment service was restored to the state at the end of the war, Illinois separated the related functions of unemployment compensation and the free employment service. Experience has shown that this separation impedes efficient service and I recommend corrective legislation to permit close coordination of these functions.

While I think weekly benefits payable to unemployed workers should be raised, consideration should also be given to a reduction of employer contribution rates taking into account the present size of the fund and the potential need for funds in the foreseeable future.

I trust that when the legislature is considering unemployment compensation it will also explore the related question of temporary disability insurance.

I also ask you to consider the advisability of enacting legislation to enable the State to take an affirmative role in the settlement of labor disputes. The Federal government has, of course, its Mediation and Conciliation Service which participates in most labor disputes. Many states have such agencies, some successful and some unsuccessful. While I do not expect spectacular achievements from a state agency operating in this field, there may be a useful place for a state agency, operating on a modest budget with the co operation of industry and labor, to render useful public service. I believe the possibility should be explored.

I should like to urge your consideration of a subject which, while it is connected with labor, has even broader implications. I refer to Fair Employment Practices legislation. The ideals we so proudly proclaim cannot be reconciled with economic discrimination upon racial or religious grounds. To fall short of our professed ideals today, and in this field, has implications of hypocrisy and insincerity we dare not disregard. The eyes of the world are riveted upon our democracy. Prejudices can no longer find safe refuge in rationalizations. How we deal with this subject is intimately related to the world wide conflict of ideologies which is the battle for tomorrow.

Moreover it is obvious that only as new opportunities for employment are opened will those now at a disadvantage be able to help themselves. I earnestly bespeak your thoughtful consideration of legislation to that end and toward the solution of one of our most difficult problems.

HIGHWAYS

I have mentioned the formidable needs of our schools, of the distressed local governments and of our welfare institutions. Governor Green said to you last week: "One of the principal functions of modern state governments is the maintenance and improvement of highways." And I might add that it is also one of the most expensive. But good highways, country roads and city streets are no longer a luxury or a convenience; they have become essential to our agricultural and industrial economy.

We already have an enormous investment in our highway system. We face an even larger investment to conserve what we have already invested and to improve and reconstruct our highways. Consistent with other urgent demands for capital improvements and with an eye to the timing of public construction work in prosperity and depression, we must have the courage to adopt and initiate a long-range program suitable to our needs.

The 65th General Assembly created a commission to study the whole problem of highway traffic, construction and financing with a view to recommending a long-range highway program. Its report will be submitted to you by March 1.

If it is based, as I think it will be, on truth rather than conjecture, on demonstrable need rather than expediency; if it meets conflicts between political practice and public interest with courage and realism, I confidently believe that we will unite on its adoption. And I assure you that this administration will strive to execute it with honesty, non-partisanship and relentless determination to accomplish the maximum improvement of our highway system within the desire and ability of the people to finance.

AGRICULTURE

It must be the vigilant duty of the General Assembly and the Executive, working hand in hand, to foster the agricultural eminence of our prairie state, to co-operate with the Federal Government in control of floods and erosion, and in kindred problems. We must support the University of Illinois in its extension to the farmer of improved agricultural methods, but over and beyond all else we must think of the farm in terms of a living—a way of living and a place to live. Life on the farm in this age can and should be as attractive as urban life. I think we can well afford to give more thought to the amenities of life on the farm if we are to maintain the proud position of our basic industry, agriculture.

HOUSING AND RENT CONTROL

The outstanding paradox of our advanced age is the persistence of an acute shortage of one of the most elemental requirements of mankind—shelter—in the nation which beyond all others is the wealthiest, most productive and most resourceful.

It is not necessary to present statistics depicting the scope of the problem. It affects almost every community in the state, large or small. We know now that rural areas have their slums as well as do our larger urban centers. And we know the major part of the price we pay for our acute housing shortage is measured in the intangible but cruelly real terms of broken homes, moral deterioration, juvenile delinquency, cynicism and despair.

I have no magic formula to offer. I wish I did. It is clear that the problem is inherently one for private enterprise. And it is also clear that it cannot do the job at rentals or costs within the reach of those most in need. The combined resources of national, state and local governments are necessary for the solution of this problem. Presumably this Congress will enact legislation along the lines of the Wagner-Ellender-Taft bill which will provide the basis for an enlarged attack upon the problem. We must be receptive to new ideas and prepared to support the federal program with such legislation as is necessary.

However, there is one specific legislative change I would suggest. It is not a panacea, but legislation permitting more rapid acquisition of land for slum clearance and housing purposes should accelerate solution of the problem. Other states have had such legislation for many years. Ample provision can be made for the protection of property owners, and I urge you to consider legislation to this end.

One phase of the problem—the acute shortage of rental housing—requires a further word. Not only in Chciago, but throughout the state abnormal conditions prevail in the rental housing market. The continued existence of federal rent control has substantially alleviated the potential hardships. One important deficiency in federal rent control is its failure to provide for control of accommodations for non-transient occupants of hotels. The result has been that thousands of permanent residents of hotels have suffered rapid and often unwarranted rent increases.

The legislation enacted by the 65th General Assembly did not meet this problem. By its language no local controls can become effective until all federal control ceases. Hence local action to control this situation is impossible. But as the existing federal control terminates March 31, 1949, and an extension is probable, I presume you will wish to defer any action to remedy this situation pending determination of the federal course.

MINES AND MINERALS

The time has come, I believe, for you to give attention to the state's agency for discharging its responsibilities to those engaged in the mining and petroleum industries. The elements of good government are power and strict accountability for its exercise. I believe that in this light the organization of the Department of Mines and Minerals requires re-examination. In due course I will submit to you concrete proposals for its reorganization.

As there seems to be some ambiguity at present, I will also urge you to extend the civil service to include most of the employees of this department. Moreover, our mining laws contain much that is obsolete, and I strongly urge that they be rewritten in their entirety. Agencies are at hand to assist in this work and I shall have more to say to you in this connection at a later date.

CONSERVATION

Our natural resources of forest and wild life are presently administered by an executive department headed by a Director appointed by the Governor. Some twenty-seven states have adopted the non-political commission form of administration of their comparable services. None of them has reverted to the method which we retain. I think Illinois in its quest for more efficient and economical public administration could well take the same progressive step.

STATE POLICE

Another highly specialized field of the state service which should be removed from political control is the Highway Maintenance Police. A public service charged not only with fearless and equal enforcement of the law but with the protection of human life itself demands character, discipline and undiluted loyalty. The men who undertake this responsible and exacting work are entitled to a merit system which insures them protection and recognition for their service without fear or favor. It has been done in other states and it can and should be done in Illinois if our first interest is the quality of our government.

PUBLIC UTILITY REGULATION

I invite your attention to the Illinois Commerce Commission. It is regulating public utilities whose rates and charges now exceed two billion dollars a year. The five men who comprise the Commission have vast power, authority and responsibility. Because of the enormous volume of its work, the technical character of its proceedings, and the tremendous importance of its decisions, the qualifications of the men who serve as Commissioners are not alone the concern of a Governor but of the public and the utility companies alike.

Under existing legislation the men who are charged with these responsibilities are appointed by the Governor to serve for a two-year term. Their annual compensation is $7,500. In earlier years under the administrations of Governors Dunne and Lowden the approach toward this important agency was somewhat different. In those days members of what was then more aptly called the Public Utility Commission received $10,000 a year and served for a term of six years. The terms of the Commissioners were staggered to insure continuity and independence.

The importance of the work of the Commission has not declined in the intervening years; rather it has increased. Yet the system in Illinois is hardly conducive to indifference to the caprices of political fortune, nor is the compensation compatible with the responsibilities of the office.

I believe that the public will be better served by a Commission whose independence and continuity is increased by lengthened and staggered terms of office. And I further believe that to attract to this vital public service the character of men it deserves the compensation must more adequately reflect its responsibility.

CONCLUSION

In an effort to limit my remarks severely I have omitted any reference to many other matters of grave concern—the veteran, higher education, public health. I will have something more to say to you later about these and other subjects, and doubtless you will have still more to say to me!

In conclusion, I hope I have made it clear that the State of Illinois appears to me to be well off financially at present, but that with just demands increasing rapidly, and with matching revenue at best doubtful, in the next biennium if not this one, we may well face acute difficulties.

I hope I have made it clear that we should anticipate the future now, that I will have no reluctance to break boldly with the complacent, quiet past; that to match the relentless demands of these searching times for thrifty, efficient, honest government is the only desire of my colleagues and myself who have been so signally honored by our fellow citizens.

I hope I have made it clear that with sincere purpose, if limited talents, I want to execute your will, and serve my only ambition—to help to make of Illinois an example of the best in our democratic tradition, a leader in a noble future as it was in a noble past.

We Americans are proud that we were born of revolutionaries with a passionate faith in freedom and human worth.

We Illinoisans are proud that our state was born of simple folk who believed in an ever better future.

This is our inheritance. To preserve it, to enrich it in the great age that lies ahead we ask that God, in His infinite power for good, help us make of Illinois a land where justice, honesty and progress abound.

An original ode was read by Mr. Carl Sandburg.

The audience sang "The Star Spangled Banner," accompanied by the University of Illinois Concert Band.

The inaugural ceremony was concluded with prayer by Right Reverend Monsignor John B. Franz, Administrator of The Vacant See, of Springfield.

The Governor and other State officers, the Chief Justice and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, the Joint Inaugural Committee and the Ladies of the Joint Inaugural Committee having retired, at the hour of 1:45 o'clock P. M., Senator Cash moved that the Joint Assembly do now rise.

And the motion prevailed.

The Senate having withdrawn, the House resumed its session.

The Speaker in the chair.

At the hour of 1:50 o'clock P. M., Mr. James J. Ryan moved that the House do now adjourn.

The motion prevailed.

And the House stood adjourned.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1949, 10:00 O'CLOCK A. M.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

The Speaker in the chair.

Prayer by Rev. Francis Cunningham, of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, of Springfield.

Messages from the Senate

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the adoption of the following joint resolution, to-wit:

House Joint Resolution No. 3

Resolved, By the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring herein, that when the two Houses adjourn on Tuesday, January 11th, they stand adjourned until Tuesday, January 25, 1949, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

Concurred in by the Senate, January 11, 1949.

Edward H. Alexander, Secretary of the Senate.

General Resolutions

The House proceeding on the order of general resolutions, Mr. Allison offered the following resolution, which was ordered to lie on the Speaker's table:

House Resolution No. 17

Whereas, No segment of the American people has made a greater contribution, in peace and in war, to the welfare of our nation than have the working men and women of America; and

Whereas, This magnificient contribution was made possible through the long struggle of organized labor to secure for the working man recognition of certain fundamental rights; and

Whereas, Public Law 101 of the Eightieth Congress, otherwise known as the Taft-Hartley Act, attempts to abridge labor's fundamental rights and to set the cause of the working man back a generation; and

Whereas, The Taft-Hartley Act not only adversely affects organized labor but jeopardizes the peace and prosperity of the entire country, because whatever hurts labor hurts the nation; therefore, be it

Resolved, by the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That the Congress of the United States now assembled be urged to take immediate steps to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act and to restore to the working men and women of America the rights to which they are entitled and the respect they so richly deserve; and, be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent by the Secretary of State to the President of the United States, to the President of the United States Senate, to the Speaker of the House of Represenatives of the United States, and to each of the members of the Congress of the United States from the State of Illinois.

Messrs. Ferguson and Morris offered the following resolution, which was ordered to lie on the Speaker's table:

House Joint Resolution No. 4

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, that a convention is necessary to revise, alter or amend the Constitution of this State, and that the question of the calling of such convention shall be submitted to the electors of this State at the next general election, as provided in Article XIV of the present Constitution.

The Speaker announced the appointment of the following committee as provided for in House Resolution No. 14: Messrs. John Dreiske, Charles Whalen and Johnson Kanady.

At the hour of 10:40 o'clock A. M., Mr. James J. Ryan moved that the House do now adjourn.

The motion prevailed.

And in accordance therewith and pursuant to House Joint Resolution No. 3, the House stood adjourned until Tuesday, January 25, 1949, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1949, 10:00 O'CLOCK A. M.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

The Speaker in the chair.

Prayer by Rev. Elmer D. Palmer, of the First Methodist Church of Nokomis.

The Journal of Tuesday, January 11th, was being read, when, on motion of Mr. Hannigan, further reading of the same was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

By direction of the Speaker, the roll was called to ascertain the attendance of members, as follows:

WHEREAS, The Northwestern University football team climaxed a splendid football season on January 1, 1949 by a well-deserved triumph in the Rose Bowl game over the valiant team of the University of California; and

WHEREAS, The sterling sportsmanship exemplified by the players and coaching staff was a heart-warming testimonial to the fine traditions associated with this great American game; and

WHEREAS, The people of Illinois are justly proud of the gridiron exploits of the Wildcats and extend to them all good wishes for continuing success; therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That we congratulate the victorious football team of Northwestern University and all who were instrumental in realizing its objectives; that the University be invited to display movies of the Rose Bowl game before a joint session of this General Assembly; and that a suitably engrossed copy of this preamble and resolution be delivered to Mr. Bob Voigts, head football coach of Northwestern University.

And the resolution was adopted.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and asked their concurrence therein.

Mr. Topping offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Executive Committee:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 6

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That a convention is necessary to revise, alter or amend the Constitution of this State, and that the question of the calling of such convention shall be submitted to the electors of this State at the next general election, as provided in Article XIV of the present Constitution.

Mr. Kaindl offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Elections and Reapportionment:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 7

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That there shall be submitted to the electors of this State for adoption or rejection at the next election of the members of the General Assembly of the State of Illinois, in the manner provided by law, a proposition to amend Sections 6, 7 and 8 of Article IV of the Constitution, to read as follows:

ARTICLE IV

Section 6. The state shall be divided into 51 senatorial districts, 19 of which shall be in Cook County. The General Assembly shall apportion the state in 1951 and thereafter at the regular session following completion of each federal decennial census, by dividing the population of Cook County, as ascertained by the federal decennial census, by the number 19, and by dividing the population of the remainder of the state, as ascertained by the federal decennial census, by the number 32, and the respective quotients shall be the ratio of representation in the senate for Cook County and for the remainder of the state. Each district shall elect one senator whose term of office shall be four years. Districts shall be numbered consecutively from 1 to 51, beginning with the Cook County districts. The senators elected in the year of our Lord, 1952, in districts bearing odd numbers, shall vacate their offices at the end of two years, and those elected in districts bearing even numbers, at the end of four years; and vacancies occurring by the expiration of the term shall be filled by the election of senators for the full term. Senatorial districts shall be formed of contiguous and compact territory, bounded (except in Cook County) by county lines, and contain as nearly as practicable, an equal number of inhabitants; but no district shall contain less than four-fifths of the senatorial ratio. Counties (other than Cook) containing not less than the ratio and three-fourths, may be divided into separate districts, and shall be entitled to two senators, and to one additional senator for each number of inhabitants equal to the ratio contained by such counties in excess of twice the number of said ratio.

Section 7. The state shall be divided into 51 assembly districts. The general assembly shall apportion the state in 1951 and thereafter at the regular session following completion of each federal decennial census, by dividing the population of the state by the number 51, and the quotient shall be the ratio of representation in the House of Representatives. Each district shall elect three representatives in the year of our Lord, 1952, and every two years thereafter, whose term of office shall be two years. Districts shall be numbered consecutively from 1 to 51. Districts shall be formed of contiguous and compact territory, bounded by county lines, and contain, as nearly as practicable, an equal number of inhabitants; but no district shall contain less than four-fifths of the assembly ratio. Counties containing not less than the ratio and three-fourths, may be divided into separate districts, and shall be entitled to six representatives, and to three additional representatives for each number of inhabitants equal to the ratio contained by such counties in excess of twice the number of said ratio.

Section 8. In all elections of representatives, each qualified voter may cast as many votes for one candidate as there are representatives to be elected in the district, or may distribute the same, or equal parts thereof, among the candidates, as he sees fit. The candidates highest in votes shall be declared elected.

Death Resolutions

The House proceeding on the order of death resolutions, Messrs. Keller, Sullivan and Hugh Green offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

House Joint Resolution No. 8

Whereas, In the inscrutable designs of Almighty God death came on August 5, 1948 to His Excellency, the Most Reverend James Aloysius Griffin, D.D., for twenty-five years Bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Springfield in Illinois; and

Whereas, The life of Bishop Griffin was a life dedicated to the cause of religion and morality, to the works of charity, and to the social betterment of our people; and

Whereas, The religious and civic leadership of this son of Illinois, has brought honor to our great State of Illinois, therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the 66th General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That we memorialize the life and works of Bishop Griffin, and that we express the deep regret of our State upon the recent death of Bishop James A. Griffin; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this preamble and resolution be sent to His Eminence Samuel Cardinal Stritch, Metropolitan of the Roman Catholic Province of Chicago, to the Chancery Office of the Diocese of Springfield in Illinois, and to the bereaved Griffin family.

And the resolution was adopted.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and ask their concurrence therein.

At the hour of 12:07 o'clock P. M., Mr. James J. Ryan moved that the House do now adjourn.

The motion prevailed.

And the House stood adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 26, 1949, 10:00 O'CLOCK A. M.

Death Resolutions

The House proceeding on the order of death resolutions, Messrs. Keller, Bolger and Pearson offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

House Resolution No. 19

Whereas, The members of the House learned with profound sorrow of the death, on February 26, 1948, of the Honorable Harold D. Kelsey, Representative from the Eighth District; and

Whereas, It is characteristic of the career of Mr. Kelsey that he was, at the time of his death, in Springfield to attend a meeting in the interest of the people of the State; for a major portion of his life was devoted to unselfish public service; and

Whereas, Mr. Kelsey was not only serving his fifth term as a member of the General Assembly, but was chairman of the Agriculture Committee of the House of Representatives and a member of the Advisory Board of Livestock Commissioners; and

Whereas, He served for many years as a school board member and as a member of the county board of Lake County, also serving for two years as chairman of the last mentioned body; and

Whereas, His pleasing personality and devotion to duty won him the friendship and esteem of all who knew him; and

Whereas, His death is a distinct loss, not only to his family and his community, but to the entire State; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, that we express our profound sorrow at the loss of our friend and colleague, Harold D. Kelsey; that we extend our deepest sympathy to his widow, and to his son and daughter; that this resolution and its preamble be spread upon the Journal of the House, and that a suitably engrossed copy thereof be forwarded to the bereaved family; and, as a further mark of respect to the memory of Mr. Kelsey, that the House do now adjourn.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote; and in accordance therewith and pursuant to Senate Joint Resolution No. 7, at the hour of 10:20 o'clock A. M., the House stood adjourned until Tuesday, February 1, 1949, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1949, 10:00 O'CLOCK A. M.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

The Speaker in the chair.

HOUSE BILL NO. 48

A Bill for "An Act making deficiency appropriations for the ordinary and contingent expenses of the Department of Public Safety."

The foregoing bills, numbered 9, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47 and 48, were placed in the order of House Bills on third reading.

Messrs. Hannigan, McDonald, Hruby and Dillavou submitted the following report of the commission appointed pursuant to the provisions of Senate Bill No. 618 of the Sixty-fifth General Assembly, which was received and ordered printed in the Journal:

PRELIMINARY REPORT OF THE ILLINOIS AREA REDEVELOPMENT COMMISSION

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois:

The Illinois Area Redevelopment Commission, which was created by the 65th General Assembly, has the honor of presenting for your consideration the following preliminary report of its findings and recommendations.

This Commission has been charged with the duty of making "a thorough study and investigation of the industrial, agricultural, recreational and other economic resources in areas of the State in which it appears that such resources have not been fully developed or have suffered deterioration." While some of our studies and investigations are not as yet concluded, we wish at this time to urge upon you for immediate consideration the following remedial legislation which we deem necessary as a result of our deliberations and consultations to date:

1. There should be created a permanent State Planning and Development Commission to plan and promote the economic, social and recreational welfare of the State. This Commission should be responsible to the Governor and should be authorized to coordinate the work of regularly established, operating agencies of the State, as well as to advertise and promote the welfare of the State of Illinois. We recommend the establishment of this Commission as well as the appropriation of the sum of $300,000 per biennium of which $250,000 shall be utilized for research, promotion and advertising, and $50,000 for operating expenses. We further recommend that upon the establishment of this Commission that the Illinois Post War Planning Commission and the Illinois Development Council be abolished.

2. That the Department of Conservation be authorized to purchase and reclaim at least 10,000 acres per annum of sub-marginal land suitable for reforestation, soil conservation and recreation, and that the sum of $250,000 per year be appropriated for this purpose. This land should be purchased with the view of promoting the economic welfare in areas that now are deficient in economic opportunities.
3. We find that no department is authorized to spend money for the building and maintenance of roads connecting bond issue and federal aid primary and secondary roads with state parks, state institutions, tax supported institutions, tax supported hospitals, tax supported rest homes, recreational areas and airports. Therefore, we recommend that legislation be passed authorizing the Division of Highways of the Department of Public Works and Buildings to provide these facilities.
4. We recommend a continuation of the Governor's Advisory Council for the National Transport Terminal so that complete information will be available as to the feasibility and practicability of a National Transport Terminal.

In the near future we will submit additional recommendations together with a detailed report upon which the above conclusions were based. We feel that the above mentioned projects are vital to the welfare of the people of the State of Illinois and should have the immediate attention of the Legislature.

We trust that they will be given your careful and favorable consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

THE ILLINOIS AREA REDEVELOPMENT COMMISSION

(Signed) RICE W. MILLER

General Resolutions

The House proceeding on the order of general resolutions, Messrs. Ferguson, Powell, James J. Ryan, Morris, Mrs. Van der Vries, Messrs. Noble W. Lee, Topping and Arrington offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Executive Committee:

House Joint Resolution No. 9.

Whereas, In the opinion of members of the House of Representatives, concurred in by members of the Senate, it is necessary to revise, alter and amend our State constitution which was adopted in the year 1870 and which, in many respects, is failing to meet many important needs of our times; and

Whereas, The electors of the State should be given the opportunity to vote on the question of whether a constitutional convention shall be called for the purpose of making such revisions, alterations or amendments of the constitution as shall be deemed necessary; Now, Therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That a convention is necessary to revise, alter or amend the constitution of this State and that the question of the calling of such a convention shall be submitted to the electors of this State at the next general election, as provided in Article XIV of the present Constitution.

Mr. Carrigan offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Executive Committee:

House Joint Resolution No. 10

Whereas, The People of the State of Illinois, through their State government and public officials, are vitally interested and ready to assist in furthering the employment opportunities for self-reliant trained blind people; and

Whereas, The Illinois Federation of Organizations of the Blind, in conjunction with heads of State departments and divisions serving the blind, are in agreement with the purposes of this resolution; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly, the Senate concurring herein, That a Committee consisting of three members of the Senate appointed by the President thereof with the consent of the Executive Committee, and four members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker thereof, be created for the purpose of meeting with representatives of the Illinois Federation of Organizations of the Blind and with the heads of State departments and divisions concerned with serving the blind in order to determine means of furthering the employment opportunities of competent blind persons; and be it further

Resolved, That the Committee report its findings and recommendations for legislation to this General Assembly not later than March 1, 1949.

Death Resolutions

The House proceeding on the order of death resolutions, Messrs. Krasniewski, Gormley and Finucane offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

House Resolution No. 20

Whereas, The death, on New Year's Eve, of the Honorable Peter P. Jezierny, recently elected to his ninth term as a member of this House, brought to an end a long and distinguished career of public service; and

Whereas, In addition to his interest in government and politics, he was deeply devoted to the cause of his religion and was an active participant in many worthwhile civic and philanthropic endeavors; and

Whereas, The life of this man, who came to this country from Poland at an early age, bears eloquent testimony to the almost limitless possibilities offered by America to those who, like Mr. Jezierny, possess the qualities of heart, mind and spirit necessary to take advantage of its opportunities; and

Whereas, To those of us who had the privilege of knowing him personally, Mr. Jezierny's friendly personality and genuine affection for those with whom he was associated was a source of inspiration which will be greatly missed; therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we publicly express our profound grief at the loss of our friend and colleague, Peter P. Jezierny, and that we extend our sincere sympathy to the members of his bereaved family; that this resolution and its preamble be spread upon the pages of the Journal of the House; that a suitably engrossed copy thereof be sent to his daughter, Mrs. Leonard S. Sluzynski, and to his son, Fred R. Jezierny; and, as a further mark of respect to the memory of Mr. Jezierny, that the House do now adjourn.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote; and in accordance therewith, at the hour of 12:15 o'clock P. M., the House stood adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1949, 10:00 O'CLOCK A. M.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

The Speaker in the Chair.

Prayer by Rev. Wayne Dietrich, of the First Methodist Church, of Saunemin.

The Journal of yesterday was being read when, on motion of Mr. John G. Ryan, further reading of the same was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

By unanimous consent, Mr. James J. Ryan offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

House Joint Resolution No. 11

Resolved, By the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring herein. That when the two Houses adjourn on Wednesday, February 2nd, they stand adjourned until Tuesday, February 8, 1949, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

And the resolution was adopted.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and ask their concurrence therein.

Reports from Standing Committees

The House proceeding on the order of reports from standing committees, Mr. Downey, from the Committee on Enrolling, Transcribing and Typing of Bills, reported that a bill of the following title has been correctly transcribed and typed and is returned herewith:

House Bill No. 61

A Bill for "An Act making a deficiency appropriation to provide for the ordinary and contingent expenses of the office of the Attorney General, until July 1, 1949."

The foregoing House Bill No. 61 was placed in the order of House Bills on third reading.

The Speaker, as Chairman, submitted the following report of the Committee on Rules, with the recommendation that the rules be adopted, to-wit:

HOUSE RULES

Members

1. No member shall absent himself from the sessions of the House unless he have leave or be sick, or his absence be unavoidable. A majority of the House shall constitute a quorum, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, or for less time than one day.

2. No member shall name another member in debate.

3. No smoking shall be allowed in the hall, lobbies or galleries of the House.

4. No person shall be allowed to use the Representative Hall for the purpose of a public lecture.

5. No person, other than members and officers of the General Assembly, the elected State Officers, the Secretary to the Governor, the Judges of the Supreme Court, former Speakers of the House and employees of the Legislative Reference Bureau, shall be entitled to remain on the floor of the House while it is in session. The floor of the House shall include the halls surrounding the floor, the Speaker's Office, the Clerk's Office, the Appropriations Committee Room, the Post Office, and the House Telephone Office. Representatives of the Press while the House is in session shall have access to the galleries and places allotted to them by the Speaker.

The Speaker

6. The Speaker shall take the chair every day at precisely the hour to which the House shall have adjourned on the preceding day; shall immediately call the members to order, and, on the appearance of a quorum shall cause the Journal of the preceding day to be read.

7. He shall preserve decorum and order and for that purpose the officers and employees of the House shall be under his direction; may speak to points of order in preference to other members, rising from his seat for that purpose and shall decide all questions of order. Any ruling or decision of the Speaker or the chair on any matter may be appealed to the House of Representatives upon request of any member who is joined by four other members in said appeal, and such appeal shall prevail if supported by a vote of 77 members on roll call.

8. He shall rise to put a question, but may state it sitting.

9. The Speaker shall examine and correct the Journal before it is read; and the same shall be printed and upon the desks of the members before the same can be approved; he shall have general direction of the hall; he shall have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution shall not extend beyond five days after adjournment.

10. All Acts, addresses and joint resolutions shall be signed by the Speaker; and all writs, warrants and subpoenas issued by order of the House shall be under his hand and seal, and attested by the Clerk.

11. In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct on the floor of the House, in the lobby or galleries, by the spectators, the Speaker or Chairman of the Committee of the Whole House, shall have power to order the floor of the House, the lobby or galleries to be cleared of spectators, and for that purpose the officers and employees of the House shall be under the orders and direction of the Speaker or Chairman of the Committee of the Whole House, as the case may be.

Order of Business

12. (a) The following shall be the daily order of business in the House:
1. Reading of the Journal.

2. Petitions.
3. Reports from standing committees.
4. Reports from select committees.
5. Messages on the Speaker's table.
6. Introduction of bills.
7. Consideration of measures in Committee of the Whole House.
8. House bills on first reading.
9. House bills on second reading.
10. House bills on third reading.
11. Senate bills on third reading.
12. Senate bills on second reading.
13. Senate bills on first reading.
14. Senate messages other than bills.
15. Bills heretofore introduced, read by title and not assigned to committees.
16. General resolutions.
17. Death resolutions.

However, on each Tuesday and Wednesday that the House is in session immediately after the Speaker calls the House to order and after the reading of the Journal, the Clerk shall call the roll and record the members present.

Appropriation bills which contain provisions relating to nothing else than the appropriation, and apportionment bills, which contain provisions relating to nothing else than the apportionment, shall be in order in preference to any other bill unless otherwise ordered.

(b) The Clerk, under the direction of the Speaker, shall publish a daily calendar and cause it to be placed on the desks of the members before the convening of the House, showing all special orders of the day and all bills before the House in their proper order of reading.

Bills shall appear upon the calendar in numerical order, unless otherwise directed by the House, and it shall be the duty of the Clerk to cause the calendar to be so printed.

(c) The above order of business may be changed at any time upon the motion of any member, supported by four additional members arising in their seats and joining in the said motion, by an affirmative vote of seventy-seven members. Any bill or resolution may be considered out of its order under any order of business by a like motion, supported as aforesaid and the affirmative vote of seventy-seven members: Provided, however, that upon completion of the business under the order of business or under the item to which the change has been made, the House shall return to the regular order of business.

Upon motion supported as above and upon an affirmative vote of seventy-seven members, the House may likewise revert to any order of business already passed or to any item under any order of business already passed.

(d) The Rules Committee may report a special order for the day, which special order shall take the place of the regular order and shall be shown on the daily calendar, but the special order so reported may be suspended, amended or modified on roll call by an affirmative vote of seventy-seven members.

(e) In case any bill or resolution has been referred to a committee and remains in committee undisposed of, it shall be in order after reports of standing committees, for any member, on any Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday in which the House is in session, to move that the committee be discharged from consideration of such bill and that the bill be placed on the House calendar and such motion shall prevail if supported by a vote of seventy-seven members: Provided, that the members intending to make such motion, on the order of "Resolutions" at the session of the preceding legislative day, shall obtain recognition from the chair and give notice that he intends to make such motion.

COMMITTEES

13. All committees shall be appointed by the Speaker unless otherwise especially directed by the House. The Speaker Majority Leader and Minority Leader, shall be ex-officio members of each committee.

14. No member, other than the Speaker, Majority Leader and Minority Leader, shall be appointed to serve on more than five standing committees.

15. The following standing committees shall be appointed by the Speaker with leave to report by bill or otherwise and to them respectively shall be referred all bills pertaining to the subjects indicated by the names of said respective committees, to-wit:

Agriculture, consisting of 30 members.
Appropriations, consisting of 58 members.
Banks and Building and Loans, consisting of 25 members.
Contingent Expenses, consisting of 5 members.

To Visit Charitable Institutions, consisting of 5 members.
To Visit Educational Institutions, consisting of 5 members.
To Visit Penal Institutions, consisting of 5 members.
Waterways, Conservation, Fish and Game, consisting of 37 members.

When appointing a standing committee the Speaker shall designate a member thereof as chairman and may designate another member thereof as vice-chairman. The vice-chairman shall preside at all committee meetings in the absence of the chairman.

16. A majority of any committee, not including ex-officio members, shall constitute a quorum, but the question of the presence of a quorum of committee shall not be raised on the consideration of a bill or resolution in the House, unless the same question has been raised before the committee.

In case of failure of the chairman of any committee to call a meeting of such committee upon the request of a member, then 50 per cent or more of the members of such committee, other than ex-officio members, shall have the right to call a meeting of such committee. In the event this rule is resorted to then no posting of notice of such meeting shall be required.

17. No hearing by a standing committee upon any bill or resolution (except a postponed hearing) shall be held unless notice thereof is posted on a day when the House holds a session, in the following manner:

A written notice, in duplicate, signed by the chairman, shall be delivered to the Clerk of the House. Such notice shall state the time, both date and hour, and the place of the proposed hearing and the number of the bill or resolution to be considered. Such notice may contain the numbers of more than one bill or resolution to be heard at the same date and hour. The Clerk shall post one copy thereof on a bulletin board in or near his office, with an endorsement thereon of the exact hour and date of such posting, which shall be not less than 24 hours before the date and hour of the proposed hearing.

The other copy, with a similar endorsement, followed by the signature of the Clerk, shall be returned after the hour set for the hearing to the chairman of the committee and accompany the information sheet hereinafter referred to. When more than one bill or resolution is listed in such notice, an additional copy for each such bill or resolution shall be made, endorsed and returned as aforesaid. No notice by posting shall be required as to any meeting held within one week prior to the sine die adjournment of the House.

18. The chairman or acting chairman of each committee of the House shall keep, or cause to be kept, a record in which there shall be entered:

(a) The time and place of each hearing, and of each meeting of such committee.

(b) The attendance of committee members at each meeting.

(c) The name and address of each person appearing before the committee with the name of person, persons, firm or corporation and addresses, in whose behalf such appearance is made.

(d) The vote of each member on all motions, bills, resolutions and amendments acted upon.

Such a record shall be ready and approved by the Chairman before the expiration of ten days after each committee meeting or at the next regular meeting of the committee.

Every committee hearing shall be open to the public.

There shall be filed, in the proper envelope, with every bill or resolution reported upon, a sheet containing the foregoing information as to such bill or resolution, to be filed by the Clerk of the House numerically by the number of the bill in such form as to be most accessible for the use of the members and the public, during the session, and at the end thereof in the office of the Secretary of State.

19. When a resolution shall be offered, other than a death resolution, a resolution for adjournment or a motion made to refer any subject other than bills, such resolution or other subject shall be referred to the Executive Committee without debate.

20. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Enrolling, Transcribing and Typing of Bills to examine all bills, correct any mistakes therein and report the bills to the House forthwith; and it shall be in order for it to report at any time.

21. When any bill is about to be considered by a committee, an introducer of the bill shall be notified by the chairman of such committee of the time and place where such bills shall be considered by such committee. Such notice may be a copy of the written notice provided in Rule 17.

22. No committee shall sit during sessions of the House, without consent of the House.

Bills

23. When the roll shall be called for the first introduction of bills, each member may introduce not more than three bills. Each bill introduced, shall be accompanied by three (3) copies thereof. Should the call be suspended by adjournment or otherwise, the calling of the roll shall be taken up when that order of business is reached, at the point at which it was discontinued, and this order shall be observed until the roll call shall be alphabetically completed. No bill shall be introduced after April 14th, except upon each Tuesday and except by Standing Committees of the House.

24. The Clerk shall endorse on every original bill and each copy thereof, the number thereof, the name of the member introducing it, the date of the introduction, and the several orders taken thereon; and when printed, said several indorsements shall be printed at the head of the bill.

25. The original of all bills shall remain in the custody of the House.

26. When a bill is introduced it shall be read by title, ordered printed and referred to the proper committee for consideration.

When a Senate bill is delivered to the Clerk he shall at the earliest opportunity report the bill and message accompanying it to the House, whereupon it shall be put upon the order of messages on the Speaker's table.

Thereupon the bill shall be read by its title, ordered printed and placed in the order of Senate bills on first reading: after being read a first time, it shall be referred to the proper committee for consideration.

In the case of a bill which amends a prior statute, the author of the bill shall indicate the particular changes in the introduced bill in the following manner:

(1) New words and figures in the section amended and all new matter to be underscored.

(2) Words and figures in the section amended which are to be omitted or superseded by new words and figures to be shown crossed with a line.

27. No bill shall be printed unless the provisions of rule 26 have been complied with. Both House bills and Senate bills in the House shall be printed with the new words and figures and all new matter in italics and omitted or superseded words and figures enclosed in brackets and underlined.

Omitted and superseded words and figures crossed with a line as provided in clause 2 of rule 26, not being a part of the bill to be enacted, shall not be included in the engrossed copy of the bill but shall be omitted entirely.

28. The Clerk shall, as soon as any bill is printed, place the same on the desks of the members.

29. Amendments to bills except amendments striking out an emergency provision may be offered at the conclusion of the second reading and shall be printed when adopted, and shall be placed on the desks of the members one day before such amended bill shall be read for the third time.

30. After the second reading of the bill, and amendments, if any, the Speaker shall state the bill is ready to be ordered transcribed and typed for a third reading.

31. No subject matter shall be included in any Conference Committee report on an appropriation bill unless such subject matter directly relates to matters of difference between the House and Senate and has been specifically referred to the Conference Committee. No appropriation bill shall be passed and no report of any Conference Committee on an appropriation bill shall be considered unless the bill or report has been printed in its final form and placed on the desks of the members at least three legislative days prior to the final passage of the bill or the consideration of the report.

32. The vote on the passage of all bills shall be by yeas and nays, upon each bill separately, and shall be entered upon the Journal, and when a bill shall fail to receive a constitutional majority upon its passage, the Speaker shall declare that the bill has failed to pass.

33. When an emergency is expressed in the preamble or body of an Act, as a reason why such Act should take effect prior to the first day of July next after its passage, and when such an Act contains a clause or proviso fixing such time prior to the first day of July, the question shall be, "Shall the bill pass?" and if decided affirmatively by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to the House, then the bill shall be deemed passed; and if, upon such vote a majority of said members elected, but less than two-thirds thereof, vote affirmatively on said question, then the vote on said bill shall be deemed reconsidered, and the bill subject to amendment by striking out such part thereof as expresses an emergency and the time of taking effect, and then said bill shall be under consideration upon its third reading, with the emergency clause and time of taking effect stricken out: Provided, however, that such amendment, striking out the emergency clause, shall be printed and placed on the desks of the members before said bill is again considered upon third reading.

34. Every bill shall be read at large on three different days.

35. When a bill passes it shall be certified by the Clerk, who at the foot thereof, shall note the day it passes.

36. Appropriations for the offices of Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, Treasurer, Auditor of Public Accounts and Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be made by separate bills for each office.

References

37. All bills for appropriations of money from the State Treasury, or providing for the expenditure of money when referred to other committees and by them reported back to the House with favorable recommendation, shall be referred to the Committee on Appropriations for its consideration before being finally acted upon by the House.

The Speaker may reserve any bill or resolution introduced of general State importance, or in case of emergency, on the Speaker's table and lay the same before the House; after the same has been printed, and with the consent of the House the same may be considered as in Committee of the Whole House, in the order in which such measures may be entered; otherwise, or upon the failure of the House to consent to such reference, the bill or resolution shall be referred to its appropriate committee; provided, however, that no bill or resolution may be considered in the Committee of the Whole House, until two days after the same shall have been printed and placed on the desks of the members.

38. All questions relating to the priority of business to be acted upon, not otherwise provided for in these rules, shall be decided by the Speaker without debate.

39. When a question has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for a member voting on the prevailing side to move for a reconsideration thereof, or on being recognized by the chair, give notice that he will make such a motion within the time prescribed by these rules. for which time he shall control the motion. But no motion for the reconsideration of any vote shall be in order after a bill, resolution, message, report, amendment or motion, upon which the vote was taken, shall have gone out of the possession of the House, nor shall any motion for reconsideration be in order unless within the next day of actual session of the House: Provided, that should the member giving notice of a motion to reconsider, not make such motion within the time prescribed by the rule, any other member voting on the prevailing side, may make such motion, within the next succeeding legislative day. Such motion shall take precedence to all other questions, except a motion to adjourn. And, provided, further, that when a bill has passed the House it shall require a constitutional majority to reconsider the vote by which the same was passed: And, provided, also, when a motion to reconsider the vote by which a bill is passed or an amendment is adopted or rejected is made, or a notice is given that such motion will be made within three days of the last legislative day of the session, it will then be in order for any member to move that such motion or notice of motion may be taken up and disposed of.

Practice

40. Upon the demand of five members which may be oral or in writing and made before or after a viva voce vote, or before or after a division, the yeas and nays shall be taken on any question, and entered upon the Journal. Such demand shall be made before proceeding to other business.

41. Upon a call of the House for the yeas and nays on any question the names of the members shall be called in alphabetical order.

42. After the roll has been called, and before any announcement of the result, any member may demand a verification of the vote. The Clerk shall then read first the names of those members voting in the affirmative, then of those voting in the negative, and any member may have his vote corrected. No member shall be permitted to change his vote, as recorded after the roll call has been verified and the result declared.

43. A motion to strike out the enacting words of a bill shall have the precedence of a motion to amend, and, if carried, shall be considered equivalent to its rejection.

44. No person shall visit or remain at the Clerk's desk, while the yeas and nays are being called, and in the performance of their duties all Clerks of the House shall be under the supervision and control of the Speaker.

45. A motion for commitment, until it shall be decided, shall preclude all amendments to the main question.

46. A motion to lay any particular proposition on the table shall apply to that particular proposition only.

47. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of an amendment.

48. Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the Speaker or any member desires it.

49. When a motion is made, it shall be stated by the Speaker, or if it be in writing, it shall be read aloud by the Clerk before debate thereon.

50. After a motion is stated by the Speaker or read by the Clerk it shall be considered in possession of the House, but may be withdrawn at any time before decision or amendment by leave of the House.

51. Any member may call for a division of the question, when divisible, but a motion to strike out and insert shall be indivisible.

52. Whenever any member is about to speak in debate, or deliver any matter to the House, he shall rise and respectfully address himself to "Mr. Speaker," and confine himself to the question under debate, and avoid personality, and no motion shall be considered in order unless made from the seat occupied by the member.

53. When two or more members arise at once the Speaker shall name the member who is to speak first.

54. All questions, except as provided in rules 55 and 61 whether in the Committee of the Whole or in the House, shall be disposed of in the order in which they are moved, except that in filling up blanks the largest sum and the most remote day shall be the first put.

55. The rules of the House shall be observed in all committees as far as may be applicable.

56. When the Committee reports a substitute for an original bill, with the recommendation that the substitute pass, it shall be in order to read the substitute a first time at once and order it printed.

57. Petitions, memorials and other papers addressed to the House may be presented by any member, who shall state briefly to the House the contents thereof, which may be received, read and referred on the same day.

58. No member shall speak longer than thirty minutes at one time, nor more than once on the same question, except by leave of the House; but the member who introduced a measure shall, in all cases, have the right to close the debate, and this right shall not be denied him even after the previous question has been ordered, although he may have spoken once on the same subject: Provided, the member so speaking shall not be allowed more time in all than is permitted by the rules of the House to other members. No member shall speak longer than five minutes in explaining his vote on any roll call.

59. While the Speaker is putting a question or addressing the House, or when a member is speaking no person shall walk out of or across the room, or pass between the member speaking and the Chair, or entertain private discourse.

60. If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the House the Speaker shall, or any member may, call him to order.

61. When a question is under debate no motion shall be received but—

To fix the time to which to adjourn.
To adjourn.
A call of the House.
To lay on the table.
The previous question.
To commit.
To postpone to a day certain.
To postpone to a day indefinite.
To amend.

Which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are named; and no motion—

To postpone to a day certain.

To commit or

To postpone indefinitely.

Being decided, again shall be allowed on the same day, or at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

Provided, that when a call of the House, or a roll call upon any bill, resolution or motion, shall disclose the fact that there is not a quorum present, then the following shall be the order of business—

A motion: To produce a quorum by compelling the attendance of absent members.

To fix the time to which to adjourn.

To adjourn.

A motion for a call of the House.

62. The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Robert's Rules of Order, shall govern the House in all cases in which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the House, or the joint rules of the Senate and House of Representatives.

63. If a question be lost by adjournment of the House, and revived on the succeeding day, no member who has spoken on the preceding day shall be permitted to speak again on the same question without leave.

64. Any two members shall have the liberty to dissent from, and protest, in respectful language, against any act or resolution which they think injurious to the public or any individual, and have the reasons of their dissent entered upon the Journal.

65. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form, viz: "As many as are of the opinion that" (as the case may be) "say 'Aye'" and, after the affirmative vote is expressed, "As many as are of the contrary opinion say 'No'." If the Speaker doubts, or if a division be called for, the House shall divide; those in the affirmative shall first rise from their seats, and afterwards those in the negative.

66. In forming a Committee of the Whole House, the Speaker shall leave his chair, and a chairman to preside in the committee shall be appointed by the Speaker. No amendment shall be offered to any bill or resolution while being considered by a Committee of the Whole.

Adjournment

67. The hour at which every motion to adjourn is made shall be entered on the Journal.

Ten o'clock in the morning shall be the standing hour to which the House shall adjourn unless otherwise ordered by a majority vote.

68. A motion to adjourn shall be decided without debate and not be subject to amendment.

Suspension or Amendment of Rules

69. Any rule other than the portion of Rule 12 which relates to discharging a committee from consideration of a bill or resolution, may be suspended by a vote on roll call or division of seventy-seven members or two-thirds of the members present and voting. No rule shall be altered or amended without one day's notice being given on the motion thereof, and the vote on roll call of two-thirds of the members present, but any amendment or alteration having the approval of the Rules Committee may be adopted on roll call or division by a majority of the members elected.

Previous Question

70. The previous question shall be put in this form: "Shall the main question be now put?" and until it is decided shall preclude all amendments or debate. When it is decided that the main question shall not be put, the main question shall be considered as still remaining under debate.

The effect of the main question's being ordered shall be to put an end to all debate, and bring the House to a direct vote, first, upon all amendments reported or pending in the inverse order in which they are offered. After the motion for the previous question has prevailed, it shall not be in order to move for a call of the House unless it shall appear by yeas and nays, as taken on the main question, that no quorum is present; or to move to adjourn prior to a decision of the main question: Provided, if a motion to postpone is pending the only effect of the previous question shall be to bring the House to a vote upon such motion.

71. All resolutions or petitions calling for the appointment of committees which involve the expenditure of money, and all orders in reference to the appointed employees, or the increase of compensation of employees, or the expenditures of moneys for incidental expenses of the session shall be referred to the Executive Committee without debate.

72. The Clerk of the House shall, at the time of delivery, receive a receipt from the Secretary of the Senate for all messages transmitted from the House to the Senate, and shall deliver to the Secretary of the Senate a receipt for all messages transmitted from the Senate to the House at the time of delivery.

Mr. James J. Ryan moved that the report of the Committee on Rules be concurred in and said rules be adopted as the Rules of the House.

The motion prevailed, the House concurred in the report of the committee, and said rules were adopted as the Rules of the House.

Ordered that the title be as aforesaid, and that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and ask their concurrence therein.

Messages from the Senate

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the adoption of the following preamble and joint resolution, to-wit:

House Joint Resolution No. 8

Whereas, In the inscrutable designs of Almighty God, death came on August 5, 1948, to His Excellency, the Most Reverend James Aloysius Griffin, D.D., for twenty-five years Bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Springfield in Illinois; and

Whereas, The life of Bishop Griffin was a life dedicated to the cause of religion and morality, to the works of charity, and to the social betterment of our people; and

Whereas, The religious and civic leadership of this son of Illinois, has brought honor to our great State of Illinois; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That we memorialize the life and works of Bishop Griffin, and that we express the deep regret of our State upon the recent death of Bishop James A. Griffin; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this preamble and resolution be sent to His Eminence Samuel Cardinal Stritch, Metropolitan of the Roman Catholic Province of Chicago, to the Chancery Office of the Diocese of Springfield in Illinois, and to the bereaved Griffin family.

Concurred in by the Senate, February 2, 1949.

Edward H. Alexander, Secretary of the Senate.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has adopted the following preamble and joint resolution, in the adoption of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

Senate Joint Resolution No. 10

Whereas, Recent extraordinary climatic conditions have caused many rivers and streams within and adjoining the State of Illinois to overflow their banks, inundating hundreds of acres of land, destroying thousands of dollars worth of property, and making many residents of Illinois homeless and destitute; and

Whereas, The havoc wrought by these floods and the consequent hardship to citizens of Illinois is a matter of State-wide concern; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Senate of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the House of Representatives concurring herein, That a committee consisting of seven members of the Senate appointed by the Committee on Committees, and seven members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker, be created and authorized to visit and inspect the flooded areas in the State and to determine in what manner and to what extent the State may help in alleviating the suffering and damage caused by the floods; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee select a chairman from its membership, and that the expenses of the committee, upon joint approval of the Committee on Committees of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, be paid equally from the appropriations for committee expenses of the Senate and House of Representatives, respectively; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee report its findings and recommendations to this General Assembly as soon as possible.

Adopted by the Senate, February 2, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

The foregoing message from the Senate, reporting Senate Joint Resolution No. 10, was ordered to lie on the Speaker's table.

House Joint Resolution No. 13

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That there shall be submitted to the electors of this State for adoption or rejection at the next election of members of the General Assembly of the State of Illinois, in the manner provided by law, a proposition to amend Section 2 of Article XIV of the Constitution, to read as follows:

Section 2. An Amendment to this Constitution may be proposed in either House of the General Assembly, and if the same shall be voted for by two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, such proposed amendment, together with the yeas and nays of each House thereon, shall be entered in full on their respective journals, and said amendment shall be submitted to the electors of this State for adoption or rejection, at the next election of members of the General Assembly, in such manner as may be prescribed by law. The proposed amendment shall be published in full at least three months preceding the election, and if two-thirds of the electors voting on the amendment proposed shall vote for its adoption it shall become a part of this Constitution. But the General Assembly shall have no power to propose amendments to more than three articles of this Constitution at the same session, nor to the same section of the same article oftener than once in four years. The proposition for the adoption or rejection of the proposed amendment shall be printed on a separate ballot or in a separate column on the ballot as the General Assembly by law may provide and the votes thereon shall be cast by voting upon such separate ballot or in such separate column, as the case may be.

Mr. Gibbs offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 24

WHEREAS, The needs of sick, aged, infirm, and convalescing veterans in the various parts of the country continue to require the establishment of hospitals for their care by the government of the United States; and

WHEREAS, It is desirable so to locate these institutions as to best serve the interests and convenience of veterans residing in various portions of the United States; and

WHEREAS, The State of Illinois, recognizing the conditions stated above and responsive to her obligations to those who served their country, has for some sixty years maintained a home for soldiers and sailors at Quincy, Illinois; and

WHEREAS, There are now domiciled at this home approximately 1,200 veterans, many of them sick, aged, and infirm, with a long waiting list of applicants for admission to this home already in existence; and

WHEREAS, There does not exist at this time anywhere in this region adequate federal facilities for full hospitalization of sick, aged, infirm, or convalescing veterans, because other veterans' hospitals in Illinois are not located so as to serve west-central Illinois and adjoining areas in neighboring states; and

WHEREAS, There is sufficient vacant land adjacent to the Illinois Soldiers and Sailors Home at Quincy now owned by the State of Illinois which is particularly suited for use for a veterans' hospital and convalescing home; and

WHEREAS, The proper agencies of the State of Illinois are ready and willing to offer a full measure of cooperation to the federal government in locating a new institution at this site; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That the proper authorities of the United States Government be and are hereby urged to examine the need for veterans' hospital services in the territory surrounding Quincy, Illinois, and to examine the desirability of utilizing the land located and now unused by the State of Illinois; and be it further

Resolved, That the Illinois Veterans' Commission and other appropriate agencies of the State of Illinois are hereby authorized and instructed to confer with the proper authorities of the federal government as to the desirability of carrying out the provisions and purposes of this resolution; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be prepared and forwarded by the Secretary of State to the Honorable Scott W. Lucas, the Honorable Paul H. Douglas, and to the twenty-six Representatives of the State of Illinois in the Eighty-first Congress of the United States.

And the resolution was adopted.

Messrs. Arrington, Armstrong, Weber, Shannon, Jenkins and Fred J. Smith offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Executive Committee:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 25.

WHEREAS, The General Assembly created the Chicago Transit Authority in 1945 for the purpose of improving transportation facilities and adding to the convenience of residents of the metropolitan area of Cook County, and it was not the intention of the General Assembly that anyone should be inconvenienced thereby; and

WHEREAS, Residents of the metropolitan area who are dependent upon the elevated lines for transportation between their homes and places of employment have long been accustomed to the stops which were established by the former operators of the elevated lines; and

WHEREAS, The Chicago Transit Authority has recently inaugurated a policy of eliminating a number of these stops, so that fast elevated trains do not stop at certain stations; and

WHEREAS, This policy not only leads to great misunderstanding and confusion, but also discriminates against persons who have been accustomed to use the stops which are now skipped by many trains, forcing such persons to walk unreasonable distances in order to catch their trains, causing them great inconvenience and, in many cases, working an acute hardship; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we request the Chicago Transit Authority to discontinue its policy of establishing "skip stops" for fast elevated trains, and to require its trains to stop at all regular stops; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Chicago Transit Authority.

Messrs. Gray and Skyles offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 26

WHEREAS, The recent alleged trial of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary is an affront to freedom loving Americans of all religious beliefs; and

WHEREAS, The brutal persecution of Catholics in Hungary and denial of religious freedom in that unhappy state is reprehensible to the entire civilized world. Be it therefore

Resolved, By the House of Representatives, That the people of the State of Illinois, through their Representatives in the General Assembly, do hereby condemn the mock trial of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty as a travesty on justice; and be it further

Resolved, That the people of the State of Illinois, through their Representatives in the General Assembly, do hereby petition Harry S. Truman, President of the United States of America, to sternly protest the imprisonment of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty and do petition the President of the United States of America to use all peaceful means to obtain the release of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty from imprisonment; and that a copy of this preamble and resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of State to the President of the United States.

And the resolution was adopted.

Mr. James J. Ryan offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 14

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That the two Houses convene in joint session in the hall of the House of Representatives at 11:00 o'clock A. M., Tuesday, February 22, 1949, to commemorate with appropriate ceremonies the two hundred seventeenth anniversary of the birth of George Washington.

DEATH RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of death resolutions, Messrs. Holten and Edw. C. Hunter offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 27

WHEREAS, Death has removed from our midst the Honorable Victor A. Olander, outstanding labor leader, constructive citizen and great American; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Olander served as secretary-treasurer of the Illinois State Federation of Labor for more than half the period of that organization's history; and

WHEREAS, An ardent champion of the cause of the working people of America, Mr. Olander led the fight that resulted in the enactment of the La Follette seamen's act of 1913, which divorced seamanship from serfdom, and eloquently pleaded Labor's cause in numerous controversies before the General Assembly, contributing mightily to the enactment of many progressive measures; and

WHEREAS, His death is a distinct loss not only to his family, to the organization which he served, and to the labor movement generally, but to the entire State; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we express our deep sorrow at the loss of that great labor statesman and distinguished citizen, Victor A. Olander; that we extend our most sincere sympathy to his bereaved family; that this resolution and its preamble be spread upon the Journal of the House; that a copy hereof be sent to his widow and, as a representative of the organization with which Mr. Olander's name is inseparably linked, to the President of the Illinois State Federation of Labor; and, as a mark of further respect to the memory of Mr. Olander, that the House do now adjourn.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote; and in accordance therewith and pursuant to the motion heretofore adopted, at the hour of 11:10 o'clock A. M., the House stood adjourned until 9:00 o'clock A. M. tomorrow.

House Bills on Second Reading

The House proceeding on the order of House Bills on second reading, House Bill No. 55, a bill for "An Act making provision for the transfer of township road and bridge funds to the general fund or other fund of said township when such township road and bridge funds are no longer needed for road and bridge purposes."

Having been printed, was taken up and read at large a second time.

Mrs. Van der Vries offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amendment No. 1

Amend printed House Bill No. 55 by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Whenever the road and bridge fund of any township contains a balance no longer needed for road and bridge purposes, occasioned by the fact that the township no longer has any roads or bridges under its jurisdiction, the voters of the township at any annual town meeting or at a special town meeting called for the purpose, may by resolution by a majority vote of the voters present and voting thereon transfer said balance to the general town fund or to any other town fund or funds.

Section 2. Whenever the legal voters at an annual town meeting or at a special town meeting direct the transfer and payment of any such balance in the road and bridge fund to the general town fund or to any other town fund or funds, as provided by Section 1 of this Act, it shall be the duty of the treasurer of the road and bridge fund to pay such balance into such fund or funds as directed and take credit therefor.

Section 3. Whenever any such balance from the road and bridge fund is paid into the general town fund or into other town fund or funds as by this Act provided, any valid and enforceable claim that any person has against funds so transferred shall be valid and enforceable against the town."

And the amendment was adopted.

There being no further amendments, the foregoing Amendment No. 1 was ordered printed; and the question then being, "Shall the bill, as amended, be transcribed and typed for a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

Messages from the Senate

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary.

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has passed a bill of the following title, in the passage of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

Senate Bill No. 5

A bill for "An Act to add Section 135a to 'An Act to revise the law in relation to roads and bridges', approved June 27, 1913, as amended."

Passed by the Senate, February 15, 1949.

Edward H. Alexander, Secretary of the Senate.

By unanimous consent the foregoing Senate Bill No. 5 was taken up, read by title, ordered printed and to a first reading.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the adoption of the following preamble and joint resolution, to-wit:

House Joint Resolution No. 12

Whereas, The ceremonies attendant upon the inauguration of the several State officers on January 10, 1949, have required diligent effort and earnest cooperation on the part of Major General Leo M. Boyle, The Adjutant General, his staff, the Illinois National Guard, Director Mark Hindsley and the University of Illinois concert band, and the members of the Legislative Inaugural Commission; and

Whereas, A sincere spirit of devoted public service has actuated their efforts in this regard and has culminated in a display of pageantry befitting the significance of the occasion; and

Whereas, An expression of appreciation of the people of this State to all those who have contributed so unselfishly of their time and talent in order that this historic public function might be observed under the most favorable conditions will, in some measure, convey our thanks; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That we gratefully acknowledge the splendid service rendered by General Boyle and all who assisted him in making the inaugural ceremonies an outstanding success.

Concurred in by the Senate, February 15, 1949.

Edward H. Alexander, Secretary of the Senate.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the adoption of the following joint resolution, to-wit:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 14

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That the two Houses convene in joint session in the hall of the House of Representatives at 11:00 o'clock A. M., Tuesday, February 22, 1949, to commemorate with appropriate ceremonies the two hundred seventeenth anniversary of the birth of George Washington.

Concurred in by the Senate, February 16, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the adoption of the following joint resolution, to-wit:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 15

Resolved, By the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring herein, That when the two Houses adjourn on Wednesday, February 16th, they stand adjourned until Tuesday, February 22, 1949, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

Concurred in by the Senate, February 16, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

DEATH RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of death resolutions, Mr. Sullivan offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 28.

WHEREAS, The House has learned with deep sorrow of the death of the Honorable West M. Rourke, postmaster at Springfield, Illinois; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Rourke had been postmaster since 1934, fulfilling the responsibilities of that position for a longer period of time than any other person in the history of the Springfield office; and

WHEREAS, Prior to assuming the duties of postmaster, Mr. Rourke had enjoyed a long and honorable career in business; and

WHEREAS, Despite the press of his official duties, he was active in religious, civic and social affairs, being a member and trustee of Blessed Sacrament church and a former grand knight of the Springfield Knights of Columbus and having served as a member of the building committee of both the Elks and the Knights of Columbus; and

WHEREAS, His death is a great loss, not only to his family, to the postal service, and to the community he served so many years, but to the entire State as well; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we publicly express our profound sorrow at the death of the Honorable West M. Rourke; that to his bereaved family we extend our most sincere sympathy; that this resolution and its preamble be spread upon the Journal of the House, and that a suitable copy thereof be sent to Mrs. Rourke; and, as a further mark of respect to the memory of Mr. Rourke, that the House do now adjourn.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote; and in accordance therewith and pursuant to House Joint Resolution No. 15, at the hour of 11:25 o'clock A. M., the House stood adjourned until Tuesday, February 22, 1949, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1949, 10:00 O'CLOCK A. M.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

The Speaker in the chair.

Prayer by Rev. John C. Watson, of the Detroit Methodist Church, of Detroit.

The Journal of Wednesday, February 16th, was being read when, on motion of Mr. Holten, further reading of the same was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has adopted the following preamble and joint resolution, in the adoption of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 9

WHEREAS, The laws of the several states relating to birth registrations and delayed birth registrations are conflicting, and in some states are non-existent, and

WHEREAS, There are many native born citizens who served honorably in the Armed Services of the United States whose births were not registered or recorded and who, when required to produce evidence of their native birth status, are unable to do so by any official birth registration, and

WHEREAS, Many former members of the Armed Services of the United States are deprived of certain rights and privileges because of their inability to produce official records of their birth, which, as native born Americans they are entitled to, and

WHEREAS, The State of Illinois has provided that a person may establish a legal record of the time and place of his birth as it appears on the face of his certificate of discharge, other than dishonorable, from any of the Armed Services of the United States or women's auxiliary thereof, or the State Militia called in Federal service, by filing such certificate with a county recorder, and her sister States have made similar or other provisions for establishing a legal record of native birth status; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Senate of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the House of Representatives concurring herein, That the Congress of the United States of America is hereby requested to provide by law that the Federal Government and any agency thereof shall allow any person to establish his native birth status by any method allowed by the state wherein he resides so that all honorably discharged veterans of the Armed Services of the United States may receive the benefit of all the rights and privileges to which they are entitled; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of State send a copy of this resolution to each of the Representatives in the Congress of the United States from the State of Illinois, and to each of the United States Senators from the State of Illinois, and to the President of the United States.

Adopted by the Senate, February 16, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

The foregoing Senate Joint Resolution No. 9 was referred to the Executive Committee.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has adopted the following preamble and joint resolution, in the adoption of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 13

WHEREAS, On the 14th day of February, 1949, the State of Israel, pursuant to procedures expressing the will of a free people, established a parliamentary form of government to be founded upon principles of a constitutional democracy; and

WHEREAS, The historic significance of the creation of the State of Israel and of its adoption of a form of government predicated upon the highest and noblest of human aspirations symbolizes the rededication of mankind to the deathless spiritual principles underlying the eternal quest for a true world brotherhood of man, and gives inspirational affirmance to the great moral truths of all religions and all faiths; and

WHEREAS, The State of Israel has entered into the family of nations in a spirit of true humility and with a deep sense of the responsibilities and obligations it bears to its people, its neighbors, and to the world, and it is fitting that in its endeavors to promote the high objectives and purposes which impelled its creation, recognition be accorded the faith and confidence with which other democracies view its attempts to fulfill its destiny; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Senate of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the House of Representatives concurring herein, That we hereby extend to the State of Israel, and to its government and people, our heartfelt congratulations upon the occasion of the establishment of its parliamentary form of government, and express our sincere hope and conviction that its endeavors will be crowned with success and that this new free nation will reflect credit and glory upon the partnership of nations throughout the world in the unceasing endeavors of mankind to bring to fruition the highest principles of justice, equality and fraternity for all; and, be it

Resolved, Further, That a suitably engrossed copy of this preamble and resolution be forwarded to the provisional president of the State of Israel, the Honorable Chaim Weizmann, at the seat of government in Israel.

Adopted by the Senate, February 16, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

The foregoing message from the Senate, reporting Senate Joint Resolution No. 13, was ordered to lie on the Speaker's table.

GENERAL RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of general resolutions, Messrs. Gray and Skyles offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Executive Committee:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 17

WHEREAS, The arrest and imprisonment of leaders of the Protestant Clergy in the Communist dominated State of Bulgaria constitute an unwarranted attack on religious freedom; and

WHEREAS, Said persecution of the Protestant Clergy endangers the religious freedom of peoples of all religious beliefs; and

WHEREAS, Said religious persecution is obnoxious to the principles of all democratic government; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly, the Senate concurring herein, That we condemn the persecution of the Protestant Clergy in Bulgaria; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent by the Secretary of State to the President of the United States and that the people do petition the President of the United States to protest said religious persecution and to use all peaceful means to obtain the release of the Protestant Clergymen so imprisoned.

The report of the committee was concurred in and House bills numbered 92, 93 and 95 were ordered to a first reading.

Mr. Gorman, from the Committee on Insurance, to which was referred House Bill No. 94, being a bill for "An Act to amend Sections 5, 9 and 13 of the 'Illinois Insurance Code', approved June 29, 1937, as amended."

Reported the same back with amendments thereto, with the recommendation that the amendments be adopted and that the bill, as amended, do pass.

The report of the committee was concurred in and the bill ordered to a first reading.

Mr. Schuler, from the Committee on Public Aid, Health, Welfare and Safety, to which was referred bills of the following titles, to-wit:

HOUSE BILL No. 112

A bill for "An Act to amend Section 3 of 'An Act in relation to the care and assistance of aged persons and providing for their burial', approved June 29, 1935, as amended."

HOUSE BILL No. 113

A bill for "An Act to amend Section 5 of 'An Act in relation to assistance for blind persons, to repeal an Act herein named, and to make appropriations for certain administrative expenses incident thereto', approved July 9, 1943, as amended."

Reported the same back with amendments thereto, with the recommendation that the amendments be adopted and that the bill, as amended, do pass.

The report of the committee was concurred in and House bills numbered 112 and 113 were ordered to a first reading.

Mr. Edwards, from the Committee on Education, to which was referred bills of the following titles, to-wit:

HOUSE BILL No. 96

A bill for "An Act to amend Sections 3-27, 26-4 and 26-5 of 'The School Code', approved May 1, 1945, as amended, and to repeal Section 26-3 thereof."

HOUSE BILL No. 122

A bill for "An Act to amend Section 19-10 of 'The School Code', approved May 1, 1945, as amended."

HOUSE BILL No. 123

A bill for "An Act to legalize the annexation of certain territory to Community High School Districts."

Reported the same back with the recommendation that the bills do pass.

The report of the committee was concurred in and House bills numbered 96, 122 and 123 were ordered to a first reading.

Mr. Edwards, from the Committee on Education, to which was referred House Bill No. 98, a bill for "An Act to amend Sections 6-36 and 7-13 of 'The School Code', approved May 1, 1945, as amended."

Reported the same back with the recommendation that the bill do not pass.

The report of the committee was concurred in and the bill ordered to lie on the table.

The Speaker laid before the House the following report of the Illinois Highway and Traffic Problems Commission, which was ordered printed in the Journal:

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Commission in carrying on its work has had the benefit of the cooperation and assistance of many different organizations and individuals. It wishes, by means of this statement, to make formal acknowledgment of such help and to extend its thanks to all those who furnished the Commission with information and suggestions, and who facilitated its work in other ways. It would be virtually impossible to list the names of all who rendered assistance in such fashion, but prominent among them are those mentioned in the following paragraphs.

Several state government agencies furnished valuable information to the Commission. With the cooperation of the Division of Highways, the Commission selected independent consultants to prepare an engineering and financial report, in accordance with a detailed outline approved by the Commission, on a highway improvement program for Illinois. This comprehensive report was made available to the Commission and has been printed separately for the information of all who are interested. The Division of Highways has also made much supplementary information available to the Commission, and personnel from the Division have met with the Commission from time to time upon the Commission's request. Other state agencies which have furnished information at the Commission's request are: the Illinois Legislative Council; the Department of Revenue; and the Office of the Secretary of State.

The United States Public Roads Administration, Federal Works Agency, cooperated with the Illinois Division of Highways and with the consultants in the preparation of the consultants' report by reviewing estimates, reviewing drafts of chapters of the report, and furnishing much valuable information.

The assistance given by county, municipal, township, and road district officials throughout the state has been invaluable to the Commission and is gratefully acknowledged at this point. Also, certain organizations of local government officials have been very helpful to the Commission. Among them are the Illinois Municipal League, the Illinois Association of County Superintendents of Highways, and the Legislative Committee of the Township Officials of Illinois.

Other organizations, all of them interested in the Illinois highway problem, which have offered many valuable suggestions for the Commission's consideration are: the Illinois Agricultural Association; the Illinois State Federation of Labor; the Illinois Highway Users Conference; the Illinois Rural (Mail) Carriers Association; and the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois.

1. INTRODUCTION

This report of the Illinois Highway and Traffic Problems Commission is made pursuant to the provisions of an Act of the Sixty-fifth General Assembly of the State of Illinois (House Bill 592, approved July 8, 1947). A copy of this act is shown in Appendix A. The Commission was organized in late 1947 and proceeded to hold preliminary discussions relating to the planning of its own studies and inquiries.

As a result of these discussions, the Commission decided: (1) to secure the services of consultants in the preparation of a comprehensive report on the highway problem in Illinois; (2) to hold hearings at which those interested in the highway problem would be invited to present facts and suggestions; and (3) to prepare its own report to the General Assembly in the light of all the information received.

With the cooperation of the Division of Highways, arrangements were made to secure the services of an organization of consultants to prepare an engineering and financial report on highways in Illinois, in accordance with a detailed outline authorized by the Commission of the subjects to be covered in the writing of the report. Griffenhagen & Associates, a national organization of consultants in public administration and finance, with offices in Chicago, were retained in March 1948 to prepare such a report.

Their report has been very valuable to the Commission in its work. It has been printed separately for the information of the members of the General Assembly and others interested in Illinois highway problems. Although the Commission is not in agreement with some of the conclusions and recommendations of the consultants, it commends them for the thoroughness of their report and for their courtesy in reviewing their findings and recommendations in detail with the Commission.

The Commission has held numerous meetings in Springfield and Chicago and has had the benefit of many helpful suggestions from organizations and individuals interested in Illinois highways.

Separate acknowledgment is made at an earlier point herein of the assistance received by the Commission during the course of its work.

On the basis of the information made available to it and its own inquiries, the Commission has reached its own conclusions and recommendations. These are presented hereinafter under appropriate headings. A special effort has been made to shorten the presentation as much as possible.*

2. NEED FOR INCREASED PROTECTION TO LIFE AND PROPERTY

A. General Comments

One of the most pressing highway problems in Illinois relates to the need for increased protection to life and property. Greater highway safety can be brought about through better education, stricter enforcement of present laws, and enactment of measures designed to plug gaps in existing laws relating to highway use. A by-product of stricter enforcement of legal restrictions on highway use will be the protection of the existing highway physical plant from further deterioration caused by misuse. It would be grossly inconsistent to talk, in one breath, about additional revenues (which are sorely needed) and not, at the same time, to take steps for the protection of existing highway facilities from unwarranted and costly damage. Accordingly, the Commission wishes early in its report to discuss some suggestions for added protection to life and property on the highways and to highway facilities themselves.

B. Highway Safety

Highway traffic accidents in Illinois each year take an average of 2,000 lives, injure another 30,000, and result in millions of dollars lost in property damage. There are added indirect costs in providing ambulance, hospital, and medical services, safety devices, law enforcement, and other remedial and preventive measures. This terrific toll of human lives, injury, and property damage demands that all possible steps be taken to improve the state's highway safety record.

The General Assembly would be fully justified in making very liberal provision for a comprehensive highway safety program. Prominent among the features of such a program would be widespread safety education and much more vigorous law enforcement. The responsibility for guiding and coordinating the safety education work done by the state should be placed in one agency, and every highway user should be made conscious of the importance of highway safety.

The need for better law enforcement in highway safety matters exists in both urban and rural areas. The state government, through its Department of Public Safety, should set an example for local police forces by instituting a well-planned, active program of enforcing the laws governing the use of the highways. Unfortunately, law enforcement in the past has left much to be desired. Vigorous impartial enforcement efforts will yield large dividends in improving the state's highway safety record.

Another thing that can be done is to build safer highways. Grade separations and the channelization of traffic can minimize intersection collisions. Median strips separating opposing streams of traffic virtually preclude the possibility of head-on collisions. Good alignment and adequate sight distances help to reduce accidents by providing good view of the highway and oncoming traffic. The limiting of the number of access points to high speed highways reduces the probability of turning accidents. To the extent that such features are engineered into the highway improvement program on which the state needs to embark, they will be of real importance in increasing highway safety.

* The comprehensive report of the consultants is printed separately, and reference may be made to that report for more detailed discussion.

Highway safety measures are even more important to the future than they are to the present, because traffic is on the increase. It is obvious that the highways of the future must be better and safer than they are today.

In addition to the foregoing general suggestions as to increased highway safety, there are a number of specific recommendations the Commission wishes to make. They are as follows:

(1) Legislation should be enacted to prohibit the installation of television receiving sets in motor vehicles used on the highways. Nothing so distracting to drivers can be permitted. Of course, transmitting equipment mounted on motor vehicles is not included within the scope of this recommendation.

(2) At present, there is no maximum legal speed limit for passenger cars on most rural highways. The Commission is convinced that excessive speeds on the highways are responsible for a large share of the accident record. It believes that some way must be found to eliminate these excessive speeds. It is recommended, therefore, that legislation be enacted setting the maximum speed limit for passenger cars at 60 miles an hour during daylight hours and at 50 miles an hour at night. The limit for night driving should be lower than that for day driving because of decreased visibility at night. These maximum speed limits should not apply, of course, on roads or streets where lower maximum speed limits are now fixed.

(3) National standards for determining the places at which grade separation structures should be built are not adequate for Illinois because they apply only to interstate highways. These constitute a very small part of the total road mileage of the state. Furthermore, the conditions set forth in the national standards as warranting such structures take account of only the railroad traffic factor. There is a need for specific standards by which the necessity for railway-highway grade separation can be determined. Various means of determining a hazard index, giving weight to the many factors that make such intersections dangerous, have been proposed, but there is no one standard that is generally recognized for universal use. Therefore, the Commission recommends that the Division of Highways make a special study of the various criteria that have been evolved for the purpose of establishing a suitable standard for Illinois.

(4) In accordance with Illinois law, the Division of Highways has published a "Manual of Uniform Traffic Control Devices for Streets and Highways." This manual includes standards for signs conforming closely to national standards. The law specifies that all authorities, state and local, shall comply with the standards set in the Illinois manual with respect to the signs that are erected, but local authorities are permitted to place signs where they see fit. Thus, there is standardization as to the actual signs, but none as to where they shall be erected in relation to traffic. It is just as serious a departure from standard procedure to omit a necessary sign as to misplace one, or to use a sign different from the adopted standard design. The Commission recommends, therefore, that the statutes be amended to place definite responsibility on appropriate local officials in county and municipal governments for the installation of signs and markings in accordance with the established state standards.

(5) One of the dangers with which motorists are confronted arises from the spray of water, mud, or slush generated by the rear wheels of trucks, trailers, or other vehicles without adequate protective rear wheel guards. This spray on the windshields of passing vehicles obstructs the vision of their drivers and thus creates a traffic hazard. The Commission recommends the enactment of legislation requiring the installation of protective guards over the rear wheels of such vehicles or vehicle combinations.

(6) Another traffic hazard is created by the failure, in some instances, to cover freshly oiled surfaces with crushed aggregate or other suitable cover material, especially at points of intersection of such oiled surfaces with thoroughfares. The Commission recommends, therefore, that legislation be enacted requiring the treatment of freshly oiled surfaces with appropriate cover material within 100 feet of an intersection with a thoroughfare.

C. Protection of the Existing Highway Physical Plant

Another of the vital highway problems in Illinois today, in the opinion of the Commission, is that of protecting existing highway facilities. This problem relates primarily to vehicle size and weight limitations and has reached such serious proportions that its importance can scarcely be overemphasized. Steps toward its solution should be accorded a very high order of priority.

For purposes of this discussion, the problem may be divided into two main parts, although it is recognized, of course, that these two parts are very closely related and, hence, not mutually self-exclusive. First is the matter of deciding just what vehicle size and weight limitations should be imposed. And second is the matter of enforcing the limitations that are imposed.

Turning to the first part of the problem, that of what the size and weight limitations should be, the Commission calls attention to the well known fact that there has been a distinct trend toward larger and heavier vehicles. Legal restrictions on maximum size and weight have been raised from time to time to accommodate the pressures that account for this trend. In 1921, the gross weight of any one vehicle with its maximum load was limited to 32,000 pounds. In 1927, the law was amended to permit a gross weight of 40,000 pounds (including the load) for a vehicle of six or more wheels, providing the axle spacing was at least 40 inches from center to center. The limit on trailers and semitrailer vehicles remained at 32,000 pounds. However, combinations of truck, or truck-tractor and semitrailer, with a full trailer were allowed gross weights as high as 72,000 pounds. In 1945, the law was again amended and the maximum gross weights (including loads) of several combinations of trucks, semitrailers, and trailers were specified in detail. The gross weights were based on axle-loading limits of 18,000 pounds, except for tandem axle loads which were based on 16,000 pounds for each axle. Since the early days, the number of heavy vehicles has increased five-fold to a total of over 25,000 heavy vehicles.

The development of motor vehicles has always been ahead of highway improvements. Automobiles have become capable of higher speeds than the highways were built for, and trucks have become capable of carrying heavier loads than those the pavements were designed to withstand. Highway agencies all over the country have been almost frantically trying to keep pace with motor vehicle development in the new pavements they build, knowing that practically all the rest of their highway plants have already been rendered functionally obsolete by the kinds of vehicles that use them. The restrictions against increased sizes, weights, and speeds have not been effective. No sooner are the limitations raised than the clamor for new increases begins again. The folly of such a process is fully apparent, yet no stopping point has been reached. This Commission is of the definite opinion that it is time to call a halt.

It would appear to be essential that all concerned—the highway users, the automobile manufacturers, the taxpayers, and the highway agencies—come to a general agreement as to highway standards and as to the vehicles that can safely be permitted to use the highways built to those standards. This would not stifle progress in the automobile industry but rather would redirect its efforts from the building of larger and faster vehicles toward the producing of more economical transportation within the size and weight limitations decided upon as proper for publicly financed highways. It would also appear that the vehicle size and weight limitations imposed should not be such as to discourage unduly the flow of truck traffic from state to state.

In April 1946, the American Association of State Highway Officials published recommendations concerning maximum weights and dimensions of motor vehicles to be operated over the highways of the United States. Although the present Illinois limitations are at some variance with those recommended national standards, being somewhat more restrictive in a few respects and somewhat less restrictive in others,* the Commission believes that variance is not great enough to justify a change in the present Illinois limitations. However, Illinois does not impose any limitation on vehicle height, and the Commission recommends that the national standard in this respect—12 feet, 6 inches—be adopted in Illinois.

At the same time, the Commission is strongly of the opinion that the time has come for the State of Illinois to serve notice that it will not increase its maximum vehicle size and weight limitations any further for a long period of years ahead. If such a policy is not adhered to, and loads and sizes are permitted to exceed highway design limits, it is obvious that highway obsolescence and deterioration will accelerate beyond anticipated rates, and maintenance of the highway system of the state to desirable standards will be impossible.

Accordingly, the Commission recommends that the General Assembly write into the law a statement of policy and intent in the strongest possible language for the guidance of future legislators, in effect serving notice that it is the policy of the State of Illinois not to raise vehicle weight and size limitation for a period of 20 years to come.

The second part of this general problem of vehicle weight and size limits has to do with the enforcement of the limits actually set by law. The Commission is sorry to report that the enforcement record in Illinois, until just recently, left much to be desired. The loadometer surveys made from time to time in the past by the Division of Highways reveal a high incidence of overloading, and the arrest records of the Department of Public Safety indicate that law enforcement efforts in this respect were extremely inadequate. The number of arrests amounted to only about 0.5 percent of the estimated overload violations in 1945 and about 0.4 percent of the estimated violations in 1946.

The disastrous effect of excessive loads on the highways is illustrated vividly by a test section, on Illinois Route 83 from U. S. Route 66 south to the Santa Fe Railroad, that has been under observation by the Division of Highways for a number of years. This section is a concrete pavement that was built in 1933. The road regularly carries trucks heavily loaded with petroleum products on its northbound lane from Lockport and Lemont to Chicago, these trucks returning empty on the southbound lane. Petroleum trucks constitute about 30 per cent of the truck traffic. Surveys made in August of 1944 and 1945 showed that over half of the loaded trucks on the northbound lane exceeded both the allowable gross load and the axle load limit of 18,000 pounds. There have been more structural failures of every type in the northbound lane than in the southbound lane, and in 1944 it was necessary to replace 1,400 feet of the northbound lane as compared to a replacement of 52 feet of the southbound lane.

In addition to the fact that overloads break up the highways, the failure to enforce the weight provisions of the license statutes means that the state loses hundreds of thousands of dollars each year in uncollected revenues.

The reasons for the ineffectiveness of enforcement may be traced partly to the law itself, and partly to the methods of enforcement. According to the law, enforcement agencies are not required to investigate overloading, but simply have the power to investigate when there is "reason to believe" that a vehicle on the highway is overloaded. Similarly, the law does not require removal of excess weight on the spot, but merely gives officers discretionary authority to require such action. The levying of fines is the only punitive measure provided when arrests are made and this apparently is not a deterrent, either because the fine itself is too small or because it is not imposed in enough cases to cause hardship. It would almost appear as if the law invites lax enforcement.

On the other hand, the existing law can be made more effective, as has recently been demonstrated, if enforcement agencies take full advantage of its provisions. Certainly more violators can be apprehended than have been apprehended in the past, as has just recently been demonstrated. And if on-the-spot unloading of excess weight were made a standard practice, truckers would soon tire of the resulting inconvenience and expense.

Nothing short of a well-planned, comprehensive attack on the practice of overloading trucks will suffice. The necessary changes in the law must be enacted, and then a positive, vigorous enforcement program must be put into effect. Accordingly, the Commission recommends that:

(1) The law be changed to require the enforcement agency to investigate overloading; to require the removal of excess loads on the spot at a suitable place designated by the arresting officer; to require the arrest of violators; and to increase the amount of the fines to a $250 maximum for the first offense, a minimum of $100 and a maximum of $500 for the second offense, and a minimum of $250 and a maximum of $1,000 for third and subsequent offenses within one year.

(2) A systematic and vigorous program be inaugurated and sustained by the executive branch of the state government under which all trucks in a particular area will be weighed, and under which all roads and all areas will be investigated and reinvestigated as long as the practice of overloading continues. As a matter of fact, such an enforcement program has just recently been inaugurated by the Department of Public Safety at the direction of Governor Adlai E. Stevenson. When Governor Stevenson learned of the importance which the Commission attached to this matter, he invited its members to confer with him on the subject. Almost immediately, a revitalized program of enforcing vehicle weight limitations was put into effect, with very gratifying results. The Commission wishes to compliment Governor Stevenson on his prompt and effective action and to express the hope that this law enforcement program will be sustained. This recent executive action does not, of course, lessen in any way the need for the changes in legislation heretofore set forth.

(3) Positive records of convictions be maintained by the enforcement agency so that the effectiveness of the program over a period of time can be ascertained.

There is another point at which the law should be amended with respect to size limitations. At present, agricultural machinery, regardless of size, may be moved temporarily on the highways. While the probable intent of the law was to permit farmers to move their machines from one part of a farm to another, the abuses by commercial haulers have become serious enough that some clarification of the law is desirable. In the first place, the term "temporary" is not defined, and it can easily be claimed that any movement from one end of the state to the other is "temporary." Furthermore, it is not clear that such agricultural machines being transported on a truck or trailer are exempt from the general provisions of the law, yet long hauls of such loaded machinery are made apparently to the hazard of the motoring public. The Commission recommends that an amendment be made to Section 125 of the Motor Vehicle Act of 1935 relating to uniform traffic by inserting after the word "products," the word "towing."

D. Need for Maintenance Standards

Motor vehicle operators have a right to expect all roads and streets to be maintained in safe condition for normal use. Proper maintenance is also necessary as a means of protecting the investment made in the highway plant. It is essential, therefore, that uniform maintenance standards be established and adopted for use by all highway agencies. Such standards should be set up according to the design classes of roads and streets.

With only minor exceptions, roads and streets in the same class should be maintained to the same standard, not only as to the condition of the surface, but also as to the marking of danger points, the placing of signs, the removal of snow, and other phases of maintenance.

The only way any reasonable degree of uniformity in maintenance can be realized is for the Division of Highways to develop and promulgate complete standards for maintaining primary highways, secondary highways, municipal streets, and local rural roads. These standards should be published in the form of a manual so that each highway agency concerned may have a guide to the care and protection of its facilities and to the proper methods of keeping them safe for travel. The Commission recommends that the Division of Highways, in cooperation with local officials, prepare and publish such a manual.

3. NEED FOR RECLASSIFICATION OF HIGHWAYS

There are so many different highway systems now recognized in Illinois that it is very difficult to treat with them intelligently in legislation, and almost impossible to talk about them in ordinary conversation without being misunderstood. There is a primary system, a system of state highways, an interstate system, a state bond issue system, and a federal-aid system; there is a state-aid system (sometimes called the county road system) and a federal-aid secondary system; there is a municipal street system, an arterial street system, and a major streets system; and there is a local rural road system (sometimes called the township road system) and, also, a secondary and feeder-roads system. A considerable amount of overlapping exists as among some of these systems, so that a particular stretch of road may be on two, or three, or even more, systems. Furthermore, no good purpose is being served by the recognition of some of the systems now in existence.

There is a crying need for simplifying the classification of highways in Illinois, if for no reason than that of providing a basic terminology which will be understandable. However, this is by no means the only purpose that would be served. An adequate revision of the classification of highways in Illinois would make it possible to:

a. Integrate highways into complete systems and these systems into a comprehensive network to serve the highway transportation needs of the state.

b. Bring together in a single system those highways that should be under the same jurisdiction because of the type and extent of demands for highway transportation service.

c. Achieve a higher degree of administrative efficiency.

d. Provide for a more equitable distribution of highway costs.

e. Group together those highways requiring the same level of technical competence for design, construction, and operation.

f. Provide for integrated and systematic planning and orderly development in accordance with actual needs.

g. Group highways basically so that they can be readily subclassified to meet minor needs.

Taking all these things into account, the Commission recommends that all highways in Illinois be reclassified into four principal systems. These may be further divided into subclasses as may prove to be necessary for administrative purposes. The four systems are:

a. Primary highway system

b. Secondary highway system

c. Municipal street system (including subclasses for arterial streets and access streets)*

d. Local rural road system

* The word municipal, as used in this report, refers to cities, villages, and incorporated towns.

The primary highway system would include all of the present primary system of Illinois and such additions or reductions of mileage as may from time to time be properly authorized. It would include such roads whether traversing rural or urban areas of the state. The "interstate system," which is a federally designated network, would be included within the primary highway system. The so-called "system of state highways," now recognized in some of the state statutes, and the "state bond issue system" would no longer be recognized. The "federal-aid system" would coincide with the primary highway system.

The secondary highway system would include, and replace, the present "state-aid system" (sometimes called the "county road system") with such additions or reductions of mileage as may from time to time be properly authorized. It would include such roads traversing rural areas only, and would not extend into urban areas. The "federal-aid secondary system" in rural areas would coincide with the secondary highway system.

The municipal street system would include all streets within municipalities, except those streets on the primary highway system. There should be established within the municipal street system two distinct subclasses, as follows:

a. The arterial street system, similar to that required by Section 10½, Paragraph 2, of the Motor Fuel Tax Law, approved March 25, 1929, as amended.

b. The access street system, to include all other municipal streets (i.e., all municipal streets except those on the primary highway system and the arterial street system).

The local rural road system would embrace all public roads outside municipalities, except (a) those roads on the primary and secondary highway systems and (b) those roads under the exclusive jurisdiction of the federal government.

The primary highway system, rural and urban, would be administered by the state government; however, there would be no restriction on any county or municipality in the use of its funds in cooperating with the appropriate authorities in the building or maintenance of highways on the primary highway system within such county or municipality. The secondary highway system would be administered by the counties; however, there should be no restriction on any county in the use of its funds in cooperating with the appropriate authorities in the building or maintenance of highways on the primary system or of streets on the arterial street system within such county. The municipal street system would be administered by the municipalities. There should be no restriction, however, on any municipality in the use of its funds in cooperating with the appropriate authorities in the building or maintenance of extensions of municipal streets onto the secondary or local rural road systems outside such municipality. The local rural road system would be administered by the townships and road districts.

After the establishment of this new, simplified classification plan for four principal highway systems in Illinois, it will, of course, be necessary to designate by some formal process the particular system on which each mile of highways is to be placed. Also, provision should be made for transferring highways from one system to another as changes occur in their use characteristics. It is essential that this formal process be such that the highways will be placed in their proper classes on a strictly factual basis and that the reclassification be made under the supervision of experienced highway technical personnel to assure an impartial segregation. As a basis for the factual determination of which highways should be placed on which system, it will be necessary to establish detailed standards and precise definitions against which the characteristics of the various individual highways may be measured in placing them on the proper systems.

The Commission recommends, therefore, that the necessary legislation be passed authorizing and directing the Division of Highways to reclassify highways in Illinois, placing them on the four major systems already described, in accordance with specific standards and definitions developed by the Division.

4. NEED FOR IMPROVING THE HIGHWAY PHYSICAL PLANT

The improvement needs for highways in Illinois are little short of overwhelming. There are several reasons why these needs are so great. The most important of these reasons are as follows:

a. A large part of the existing primary highway plant was built many years ago and is in need of replacement by reason of age.

b. Local rural roads have never been improved adequately.

c. A great war necessitated the postponement of most highway construction and even the deferment of a large amount of maintenance work, with resultant deterioration.

d. Motor vehicle transportation has been increasing by leaps and bounds. Not only has the volume of traffic increased, but also the characteristics of highway use and of the vehicles themselves have changed considerably since the time much of the existing highway plant was built.

e. Overweight vehicles have contributed to the deterioration of highways over which they have traveled.

The Commission has received most of its information as to highway improvement needs from the report, to which reference has previously been made, of Griffenhagen & Associates to the Division of Highways. A detailed survey by state and local government highway personnel was made to obtain the figures entering into the report. The procedure that was followed, the standards that were used against which to measure highway deficiencies, the unit costs employed in arriving at the statement of needs, and other pertinent information are all detailed therein. The reader is referred to the consultant's report for such supporting information. However, the Commission does wish to present in the following paragraphs a summary statement of the highway improvement and operating needs, as reported by the consultants, to give an indication of the magnitude of the problem.

According to the consultant's report, over 70 percent of the total mileage of highways are now deficient, or will become deficient in the next ten years, when measured by the reasonable standards of adequate highway service set forth in the report. A summary of this mileage of deficient highways is shown as follows:

Highway System	No. of Miles in System	No. of Miles Deficient	Percent of Mileage Deficient Within Each System	Percent of Total Mileage Deficient
Primary highway system, rural..	10,460[1]	5,365[2]	51.3	6.1
Primary highway system, urban.	1,779[3]	866[2]	48.7	1.0
Secondary highway system.....	18,321[1]	14,163	77.3	16.1
Municipal street system.....	17,772[3]	11,205	63.0	12.8
Local rural road system.....	75,853	56,160	74.0	64.0
All systems	124,185	87,759	70.7	100.0

[1] A total of 129 miles of secondary highways carrying an Illinois or U. S. traffic route marking was surveyed with the primary highway system and is included in the primary highway system mileage.

[2] Does not include duplicate mileage resulting from multiple lane.

[3] A total of 52 miles of urban secondary highways carrying an Illinois or U. S. traffic route marking was surveyed with the primary highway system and is included in the primary highway system mileage.

Of the total of 87,759 miles reported as deficient, about 64,900 miles are deficient now and the remaining miles are expected to become deficient during the next ten years.

From an analysis of all the data presented to the Commission, the total highway improvement and operating needs in terms of money, even if the retirement of the deficiencies were spread out over a 20-year period, are reported to the Commission to be as follows:

Highway System	Total for 20-Year Period	Annual Average
Primary highway system	$ 2,452,072,326	$ 122,603,616
Secondary highway system	679,136,992	33,956,850
Municipal street system	2,363,322,227	118,166,111
Local rural road system	1,401,730,093	70,086,505
All systems	$ 6,896,261,638	$ 344,813,082

The Commission cites these huge figures not as representing the amounts which it believes can be raised to provide highway service in Illinois but rather to illustrate what it believes to be a plain fact, namely, that even with all of the increased revenues measures hereinafter recommended, Illinois cannot have highways built to the standards laid down in the consultant's report. The Commission regrets that highways are as costly as they are and that it is not practicable at the present time, in the opinion of the Commission, to raise the funds required to meet all of these large needs. With these comments in mind, it is now appropriate to turn to a consideration of the revenue program the Commission recommends for adoption.

5. REVENUE PROPOSALS

A. General Comments

As has already been indicated, it is clear to the Commission that increased revenues are needed if only a part of the highway improvement program that would be desirable is to be carried forward. The fiscal support for highways will, of course, have to come from both highway users and non-highway users. The Commission has a number of recommendations to offer for increases in highway user revenues. Although it is realized that general and special non-user revenues will have to be provided for highways, the Commission refrains from making definite recommendations as to such revenue sources. General and special non-user revenues for highway purposes must be considered not only in relation to other general revenue measures but also in relation to the revenue needs for all other functions of state and local government. These are tasks falling outside the scope of the Commission's assignment. It might be noted parenthetically at this point that another interim legislative commission is considering general revenue laws and problems.

The Commission's principal proposals on highway user revenues relate to increases in the motor fuel tax, motor vehicle licenses, and motor vehicle operator licenses.

B. Motor Fuel Tax

The motor fuel tax rate in Illinois has been three cents a gallon since 1929. Only one state (Missouri) has a lower rate. Forty-three states have a higher rate. In view of the great need for additional highway revenues, the Commission recommends that the rate in Illinois be raised to five cents a gallon. This would raise an estimated $85,000,000 a year, net after refunds and fixed charges, or a net increase of about $34,000,000 a year.

The Commission further recommends that the net motor fuel tax collections (i.e., collections after deducting refunds and fixed charges*) be distributed among the various highway systems as follows:

Highway System	Share of Net Motor Fuel Tax Collections (Percent)
Primary highway system	37.5
Secondary highway system	25.0
Municipal street system	25.0
Local rural road system	12.5
All systems	100.0

* Exclusive of principal and interest on relief bonds.

At present, the first three systems share equally in the distribution of the motor fuel tax proceeds. The proposed distribution of the estimated 1949 proceeds of the five cent tax in comparison with the 1948 distribution of the proceeds of the three cent tax is shown as follows:

	Distribution of Annual Proceeds
	1948 at 3c Rate		Estimated for 1949 at 5c Rate
Highway System	Amount	Percent	Amount	Percent
Primary highway system	$16,895,354	33.4	$31,938,007	37.5
Secondary highway system	16,895,354	33.3	21,292,004	25.0
Municipal street system	16,895,354	33.3	21,292,004	25.0
Local rural road system	.....	....	10,646,002	12.5
All systems	$50,686,062	100.0	$85,168,017	100.0

The Commission recommends that the restrictions imposed by existing law on the use of motor fuel tax funds by counties for secondary highways and by municipalities for city streets be retained, with one exception. This exception relates to the use of such funds by municipalities on streets not on the arterial street system. At present, municipalities may use up to 15 percent of such funds for non-arterial streets. The Commission recommends that this limitation be raised to 25 percent to give the municipalities more flexibility in the use of the additional funds that would be provided. The Commission also suggests that certain restrictions be placed on the receipt of motor fuel tax funds by townships for local rural roads; however, a discussion of these restrictions appears later in connection with the Commission's recommendations on highway administration.

C. Motor Vehicle Licenses

Motor vehicle license fees for passenger cars were reduced in 1935 to the present level. In view of the need that now exists for increased revenues, the Commission believes that passenger car license fees should be restored to the pre-1935 level. This restoration to pre-depression rates would mean approximately $3,500,000 a year in added revenues. The fees recommended to be restored, in comparison with present fees are shown as follows:

Classification	Present Rates	Recommended Rates (Restoration to Pre-1935 Level)
Passenger cars:
25 horsepower and less	$ 6.50	$ 8.00
35 h.p. and more than 25 h.p.	10.50	12.00
50 h.p. and more than 35 h.p.	17.00	20.00
More than 50 h.p.	22.00	25.00
Motorcycles	3.00	4.00

The Commission also recommends substantial increases in truck, bus, and trailer licenses. Present Illinois taxes on vehicles of these types are among the lowest in the country, and these vehicles should contribute their share of the increased revenues required. In arriving at the license fee rates it recommends, the Commission has adopted the premise that the increases should be much larger in the case of heavy vehicles than in the case of light vehicles. Highway facilities are more costly because of the need to accommodate the heavy vehicles; and, furthermore, heavy vehicles have been paying smaller user taxes per ton-mile in Illinois than have the light vehicles.

The new schedule of rates for trucks, busses, and trailers recommended by the Commission, in comparison with the present rate schedule, is shown as follows:

Description	Present Rates	Recommended Rates*
Trucks and busses:
3,000 lbs. and less	$ 10	$ 12
8,000 lbs. and more than 3,000 lbs.	12	14
10,000 lbs. and more than 8,000 lbs.	24	29
12,000 lbs. and more than 10,000 lbs.	35	42
14,000 lbs. and more than 12,000 lbs.	50	60
16,000 lbs. and more than 14,000 lbs.	75	90
20,000 lbs. and more than 16,000 lbs.	110	132
24,000 lbs. and more than 20,000 lbs.	150	180
30,000 lbs. and more than 24,000 lbs.	250	240
36,000 lbs. and more than 30,000 lbs.	250	300
41,000 lbs. and more than 36,000 lbs.	250	350
45,000 lbs. and more than 41,000 lbs.	275	450
50,000 lbs. and more than 45,000 lbs.	300	600
More than 50,000 lbs. and not over 59,000 lbs.	350	900
Trailers:
2,000 lbs. and less	6	6
5,000 lbs. and more than 2,000 lbs.	12	15
10,000 lbs. and more than 5,000 lbs.	25	30
15,000 lbs. and more than 10,000 lbs.	60	75
20,000 lbs. and more than 15,000 lbs.	90	132
24,000 lbs. and more than 20,000 lbs.	175	180
30,000 lbs. and more than 24,000 lbs.	175	240
36,000 lbs. and more than 30,000 lbs.	175–195	300
41,000 lbs. and more than 36,000 lbs.	195	350

The Commission also recommends that vehicles being towed on the highway by a farm tractor, such as farm wagons or like vehicles, trailers, or semi-trailers, be subjected to the flat five dollar license fee imposed upon other vehicles, the fee to be applicable only to the rear vehicle being so towed. It is not the sense of this recommendation, of course, that farm wagons and similar vehicles merely being towed across the highways to a different field on the same farm be subjected to a license fee.

In addition to the foregoing recommendations on license fees for trucks, busses, and trailers, the Commission is of the opinion that the present optional ton-mile tax on trucks and busses should be repealed. This tax operates in favor of a small group of highway users, at the expense of other users. Furthermore, if those exercising the option of paying on a ton-mile basis were required to pay on the regular license fee basis, approximately $1,600,000 in additional revenues would be collected.

The Commission further recommends that the definition of "motor vehicles" in the licensing law be changed to include electric trolley busses within the scope of the definition, thus subjecting such vehicles to the same license fees as are charged against other busses.

All of these changes as to truck, bus, and trailer licenses, including repeal of the optional ton-mile tax, would result in the collection of approximately $6,400,000 in additional revenues.

D. Motor Vehicle Operator Licenses

From the data which have been submitted to the Commission, it is apparent that the receipts from motor vehicle operator licenses are not sufficient to pay the costs of collection, administration, and enforcement properly attributable to vehicle operators as distinguished from vehicle owners. It is recommended, therefore, that the fee for a motor vehicle operator license be increased from $0.50 for a three-year period to $1.00 for a three-year period. A rate of $1.00 for three years would still be lower than that imposed in many states.

There would be considerable justification for increasing the rate in Illinois beyond $1.00 per three-year period as a means of contributing still further to enforcement costs, but the Commission is inclined to the view that for the present an increase beyond $1.00 would not be desirable. However, the Commission does recommend that future appropriations made from the road fund to the department of public safety be limited to the amount necessary to cover the cost of state police forces in enforcing licensing and traffic laws, the remainder of the expenses of such police forces to be met from the general fund.

The increased license fees would yield added revenues of something over $500,000 a year on the average.

E. Summary Statement As to Increased Revenues

The revenue proposals set forth hereinabove would yield estimated increases in annual revenues as follows:

Motor fuel taxes	$34,000,000
Passenger car licenses	3,500,000
Truck and bus licenses*	6,400,000
Motor vehicle operator licenses	500,000
Total	$44,400,000

Annual yields for highway purposes from existing revenue measures employed by state and local governments are estimated at something over $100,000,000. If the proposed increases are added to this amount, the new total would be something over $144,400,000 a year. This new annual revenue total would still be far short of the $344,813,082 a year that is needed, if the figure already cited from the consultant's report were to be taken as representing the desirable level of highway service. However, the Commission is convinced that the increases it has recommended represent the maximum increases that highway users can reasonably be expected to pay under present conditions. At the same time, the Commission wishes to emphasize the fact that the recommended increases are badly needed if highway service in Illinois is to be provided at a level even approaching adequacy.

The Commission is also convinced that the state should not rely on further bond issues as a means of financing highway improvements. However, the Commission does believe that a start should be made in financing expressways (superhighways) by tolls. These facilities are of special benefit to motorists wishing to save time or to travel more conveniently, and tolls for this extra service are an appropriate means of paying for it. The Commission is of the opinion that the part of the report of the Illinois Superhighway Commission recommending the construction of at least one toll superhighway, with the best prospects of self-liquidation from the tolls, should be put into effect.

6. HIGHWAY ADMINISTRATION

For the most part, the Commission believes that the existing arrangement for highway administration in Illinois is serving satisfactorily, as a practical matter, and should not be disturbed. The Division of Highways in the Department of Public Works and Buildings should continue to administer the primary highway system. The counties should administer and maintain the secondary highway system. The municipalities should continue to administer the municipal street system. The townships and road districts should continue to administer the local rural road system.

The Commission is of the opinion, however, that there would be some very definite advantages in the consolidation of some township road districts into larger administrative units. But the Commission also believes that such consolidation should not be made mandatory by the General Assembly. Rather, the voters of the respective local units should approve any such consolidations by referenda before the larger units are created. This is not to say, however, that the distribution of motor fuel tax funds to townships should not be restricted in such a way as to provide an incentive for small townships' units to consolidate for purposes of highway administration. The Commission recommends, therefore, the adoption by law of a plan with the following features:

* Including repeal of the optional ton-mile tax.

a. Provision that motor fuel tax funds allocated to townships be used only for surfacing or maintenance of surfacing (with the 25 percent exception now allowed), and be distributed annually among the several townships (and equivalent districts) on the same basis as provided under present law governing distribution of moneys appropriated from the general fund to assist in the building and maintenance of local rural roads.

b. Provision that after two years, the townships or township road districts must meet one of the following qualifications as a requisite to receiving motor fuel tax funds:

(1) Have levied taxes necessary to construct and maintain grading and culverts (not exceeding three feet in diameter) under roadways; or

(2) Have levied the maximum statutory limits authorized by law; or

(3) Have in excess of 40 miles of local rural roads.

c. Provision for extending to any consolidated township road district, organized for highway purposes, the same taxing power for highways now extended, or which may hereafter be extended, to townships in counties under the township form of government; and, also, the same bonding powers and powers to increase taxes, by referendum, now or hereafter extended to townships.

d. Provision for the organization and functioning of a consolidated township road district for highway purposes, when authorized by referendum, as follows:

(1) The supervisors and township clerks of the townships consolidated into a new township road district to constitute a Board of Auditors for the new district, they to organize by electing one of their number as Chairman and another of their number as Treasurer of the new district.

(2) Compensation for the services of such supervisors and township clerks meeting as a Board of Auditors to be paid from their respective township funds, but the compensation of the Treasurer of the consolidated township road district to be paid from the funds of that district.

(3) A township district commissioner to be elected in such consolidated township road district, as now authorized by statute, such township district commissioner to perform all duties necessary for the building and maintenance of roads in such township road district, including the employment of such assistance as may be necessary.

(4) Any purchases necessary to the functioning of such township road district to be made by the township district commissioner, except that the Board of Auditors is to approve all purchases exceeding $500 in amount before any contracts for purchases are made.

(5) There to be no restriction by law to limit the township district commissioner from performing road work or any duties connected with his office, his salary to be paid from the funds of the township road district.

(6) For the first five years after the consolidated township road district is formed, the funds of such district received from the state to be expended for servicing in the respective townships of the district, in the same manner as provided for the distribution of state moneys among the several townships.

e. Provision that when a petition is filed for an election, and an election is held, for three or more townships to unite in a consolidated township road district, and one of the townships does not vote for such consolidation, then the remaining townships, if contiguous territory, may again petition and hold an election for consolidation of such remaining townships, but only after 60 days intervene and only upon a new petition.

Turning to another problem of administration, the Commission wishes to call attention of the General Assembly to the serious shortage of qualified engineers and technical highway personnel at all levels. The chief reason for the difficulty appears to be the low salary level in relation to that prevailing for comparable positions elsewhere. The Commission recommends, therefore, that the General Assembly provide for substantial salary increases for such personnel in the state service. At the same time, the Commission realizes that the compensation of such personnel cannot be treated as an isolated problem, separate and distinct from that of the proper relative pay levels for other positions in the state service.

The Commission also recommends that legislation be enacted requiring the payment of prevailing wage rates on any new highway construction projects paid for in whole or in part from state-collected revenues.

The Commission further wishes to record its belief that perhaps the most important betterment that can be made in highway administration lies in the field of planning and programming highway improvements. The lack of adequate planning, programming, and scheduling of the improvement work of the Division of Highways makes the administration of highways much more difficult than necessary, and probably results in a less effective use of available funds. Plans and programs should be developed on the basis of demonstrated needs, and the projects should be arranged in the order of relative urgency as nearly as can be determined. Programs should be decided upon definitely at least a year ahead of the actual work.

Long-range programming makes it possible to schedule the necessary preliminary steps in a systematic way and to accomplish them without unnecessary rush. With sufficient advance notice, peaks in workloads can be flattened out in all the bureaus and field offices affected. With a more uniform flow of work, greater efficiency is almost inevitable. One of the greatest benefits of proper planning and programming, however, is that the responsible officials are relieved of the severe pressure of demands from special interests that highways be built or other facilities be provided for ahead of their proper order. With the program for a given year formally established, requests for preferential treatment must be deferred until the fomal program for the succeeding year is being considered, at which time such requests will of necessity be evaluated along with all other needs and placed in their proper positions according to relative urgency.

The Commission recommends that from the long-range plans of the Division, the component projects be arranged according to urgency, and that definite projects be established in an annual improvement budget, starting at the top of the list and continuing until a reasonable year's work is included. This improvement budget should be approved by the chief highway engineer and formally adopted and published. For the succeeding year, the urgency order of the remaining projects in the long-range plan should be rearranged as necessary to give effect to the relative urgency existing at the time.

Similarly, the Division of Highways should sponsor the development of long-range plans and annual improvement budgets in the various other highway agencies in the state. Such improvement budgets should be published for the information of all concerned. In general, the Commission believes that the Division should assume a somewhat more positive role as the parent highway body in the state to foster sound management practices, to encourage the use of good technical methods, to provide consulting services to other highway agencies, and to promote a greater degree of cooperation among all highway agencies.

Finally, the Commission offers two additional recommendations having to do with the effective utilization of highway funds:

a. Recognizing the large amount of revenue this Commission is recommending be made available for the construction and reconstruction of highways, and statements made before this Commission that state officials are not informed as to the cost of producing or providing basic materials necessary for this work, the Commission recommends that authority and direction be given the Division of Highways to keep currently informed on the cost of manufacturing or providing these basic materials, and should the profit appear to be excessive, the matter be called to the attention of the Governor.

b. In the interests of removing duplication of authority and of bringing about greater economy, provision should be made for placing all responsibility for the issuance of motor vehicle licenses, drivers' licenses, and chauffeurs' licenses with the Secretary of State, and for placing all responsibility and authority for the enforcement of laws having to do with the licensing of motor vehicles, operator licenses, and traffic laws with the Department of Public Safety.

7. CONCLUSION

In conclusion, the Commission wishes to summarize very briefly its principal findings and recommendations:

a. The highway safety record in Illinois must be improved. A comprehensive safety program of education and law enforcement, with some changes in existing law, can be expected to have good results. The General Assembly and the executive branch will both have to do their full part.

b. The highway physical plant itself must be protected against abuse. Changes in existing law as to the enforcement of overweight restrictions are required. The executive branch has recently embarked on an active program of preventing overweight violations. This program should be sustained despite any pressures to relax it.

c. Highways should be reclassified into four principal systems—the primary highway system, the secondary highway system, the municipal street system, and the local rural road system.

d. The fiscal needs for improving and operating the highway physical plant at a reasonable service level are so great that they cannot possibly be met at the present time, even with the increased revenues which the Commission proposes should be raised.

e. Highway user revenues should be increased substantially to provide the means of going at least part way in meeting the huge fiscal needs. The motor fuel tax rate should be increased to five cents a gallon, the net proceeds to be distributed as follows: to the state, 37.5 percent; to the counties, 25.0 percent; to the municipalities, 25.0 percent; and to the townships and road districts, 12.5 percent. Passenger car licenses should be restored to the pre-1935 level. Truck, bus, and trailer licenses should be increased moderately in the lower weight brackets and steeply in the higher weight brackets, as specifically set forth earlier herein. Motor vehicle operator licenses should be increased to $1.00 per three-year period.

f. The added revenue from these increases will approximate $44,400,000 a year, but the total highway revenues will still fall short of what is needed. However, it is the judgment of the Commission that, all things considered, further increases in highway user taxes at this time would not be expedient.

g. Laws should be enacted to give townships having less than 40 miles of local rural roads some incentive to consolidate into larger administrative districts.

h. The planning, programming, and scheduling of highway improvements should be formalized as a means of making more effective use of highway funds and as a means of resisting pressures to construct improvements that are not needed or to place a project ahead of others having greater relative urgency.

Finally, the Commission wishes to say that its assignment has been a most challenging one. The recommendations it offers by no means afford the final answers to all highway problems in the state. The Commission does believe, nevertheless, that a great stride forward will have been made in rendering better highway service to the people of Illinois if its recommendations are put into effect.

APPENDIX A

HOUSE BILL NO. 592 (APPROVED JULY 8, 1947)

AN ACT to create a Commission to investigate, study and formulate a road and bridge program for the State, to define its powers and duties and making an appropriation therefor.

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, represented in the General Assembly:

Section 1. A commission of 17 members to consist of 5 members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker thereof, 5 members of the Senate appointed by the President thereof upon the advice of the Executive Committee, 5 citizens of this State appointed by the Governor and, ex-officio, the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, is hereby created. Such Commission shall organize and designate one of its members as chairman.

Section 2. Such Commission shall:

(a) Make a scientific study and survey of traffic needs and requirements, including reasonably anticipated needs and requirements, in this State;

(b) Investigate the desirability or necessity for widened roads in congested areas, for highway and railway grade separations, for elimination of dangerous traffic conditions, for superhighways, for freeways and for the repair, construction or reconstruction of present highways;

(c) Investigate, survey and study the needs of the state aid and county road system, of the township and road district road system and of the streets of cities, villages and incorporated towns;

(d) Investigate, survey and study problems in connection with bridges and the maintenance, repair, rebuilding or replacement of bridges in the state;

(e) Investigate, survey and study the organization, administration and financing of the highway system of the state including the state highway system, the state aid and county highway system, the township and road district road system and the city, village and incorporated town streets.

Section 3. The Commission shall make a thorough study of the engineering, economic, financial and practical problems involved and shall formulate and recommend a comprehensive highway program for the state, including all types of roads, bridges and streets and provision for their construction, reconstruction, improvement and maintenance. The Commission shall also make recommendations concerning the organization and administration of the road and bridge system of the state, methods of financing roads, bridges and streets, including the allocation of funds as between the State of Illinois and the several local governmental agencies involved and the portion of the cost thereof to be borne by local taxes and such other matters as the Commission may deem desirable or relevant.

Section 4. The Commission may employ such assistants as may be necessary and fix their compensation. The Commission may request the Department of Public Works and Buildings to make available such information as it may have and to assist in the work of the Commission.

Section 5. Members of the Commission shall serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed for the actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties. Any vacancies occurring on the Commission shall be filled by the Governor and in making such appointments to fill a vacancy he shall select new members from the group in which the vacancy occurred.

The Commission shall make a detailed report of its findings and recommendations to the 66th General Assembly not later than March 1, 1949.

Section 6. The sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary is appropriated to the Commission hereby created for carrying out the provisions of this Act.

Messages from the Senate

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has adopted the following joint resolution, in the adoption of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

Senate Joint Resolution No. 14

Resolved, By the Senate of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring herein, that when the two Houses adjourn on Wednesday, February 23d, they stand adjourned until Tuesday, March 1, 1949, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

Adopted by the Senate, February 22, 1949.

Edward H. Alexander, Secretary of the Senate.

By unanimous consent, the foregoing Senate Joint Resolution No. 14 was taken up for immediate consideration.

Mr. Downey moved that the House concur with the Senate in the adoption of said resolution.

The motion prevailed.

And the House concurred with the Senate in the adoption of Senate Joint Resolution No. 14.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary.

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has passed a bill of the following title, in the passage of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

Senate Bill No. 7

A Bill for "An Act to amend Section 11 of 'An Act to revise the law in relation to the supreme court', approved March 23, 1874, as amended."

Passed by the Senate, February 22, 1949.

Edward H. Alexander, Secretary of the Senate.

The foregoing Senate Bill No. 7 was taken up, read by title, ordered printed, and to a first reading.

Concurred in by the Senate, February 23, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

GENERAL RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of general resolutions, Messrs. Keller and Clyde Lee offered the following resolution:

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 30

WHEREAS, A bill has been introduced in the present session of the Eighty-first Congress to provide well-deserved monthly pensions for war veterans; and

WHEREAS, The original proposal contemplated pensions starting at $60 per month at the age of sixty, but the Veterans' Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives has approved a substitute measure providing for pensions of $90 per month starting at the age of sixty-five; and

WHEREAS, The Spanish-American War Veterans were eligible for pensions at the age of fifty; and

WHEREAS, Since the probability that a person will require medical and hospital services increases tremendously when he reaches the age of sixty, the refusal to grant a pension until the veteran reaches sixty-five would tend to make many veterans between the ages of sixty and sixty-five a burden on society and would further tax the facilities of our already overcrowded hospitals; and

WHEREAS, The granting of a reasonable pension at the age of sixty would add to the peace, security, well-being, health and happiness of countless deserving veterans and their families, thus making a significant and valuable contribution to the welfare of the nation; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, that we urge the Eighty-first Congress of the United States to reconsider the action of the House Veterans' Affairs Committee and to enact into law the original proposal calling for the commencement of veterans' pensions at the age of sixty in order to afford greater benefits to a larger number of veterans; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to each of the following persons by the Secretary of State: the Honorable John E. Rankin, Chairman of the Veterans' Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives; the Honorable Millard E. Tydings, Chairman of the Armed Services Committee of the Senate; the Honorable Scott W. Lucas and the Honorable Paul H. Douglas, United States Senators from Illinois; and to each of the Representatives in Congress from the State of Illinois.

Mr. Keller asked unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Unanimous consent being refused, House Resolution No. 30 was referred to the Executive Committee.

Mrs. O'Neill offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 18

WHEREAS, Illinois is fortunate in possessing a truly outstanding musical organization in the York Community High School Band, under the very capable direction of Mr. Theodore Chopp; and

WHEREAS, This group of talented young musicians has made a number of highly successful appearances in the State of Wisconsin, as well as in northern Illinois, winning public acclaim and receiving warm commendation from eminent music critics; and

WHEREAS, Various civic groups and public-spirited citizens of Elmhurst are interested in giving the members of this splendid organization an opportunity to visit the capital city of Illinois and the home of Abraham Lincoln, and have volunteered to underwrite the expenses of a trip to Springfield; and

The House proceeding on the order of death resolutions, Messrs. Ferguson, Wilson and Rogers offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 31

WHEREAS, The House is grieved at the death of one of its former members, the Honorable Dan Dineen; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Dineen's death brought to a close a long and distinguished career of public service, during which he served as Mayor of the City of Decatur, as a mediator for the State Industrial Commission, and as a member of the House of Representatives from the Twenty-eighth District for seven consecutive terms; and

WHEREAS, To those of us who were privileged to work with him, Mr. Dineen's integrity, diligence, and buoyant personality served as a constant source of inspiration; and

WHEREAS, His death is a great loss to his relatives, to his community, to the district which he represented, and to the State of Illinois; therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, that we express our profound sorrow at the death of our beloved friend and colleague, the Honorable Dan Dineen; that we extend our sincere sympathy to his bereaved family; that this resolution and its preamble be spread upon the Journal of the House, and that a suitably engrossed copy thereof be forwarded to his family; and, as a mark of further respect to the memory of Mr. Dineen, that the House do now adjourn.

General Resolutions

The House proceeding on the order of general resolutions, Mr. Schaefer offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Executive Committee:

House Joint Resolution No. 19

Whereas, The Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois, with the cooperation and assistance of members of the General Assembly and Governors of the State of Illinois, has established and maintained one of the largest and most highly recognized Universities in the world; and

Whereas, One of the most important phases of instruction offered by the University of Illinois is in the field of medicine; and

Whereas, The number of applicants for instruction in the medical sciences at the University of Illinois has increased tremendously during the past few years, substantially due to the fact that so many of these young men and women were engaged in World War II and, thereby unable to continue their studies during that time; and

Whereas, Although the University of Illinois accepts the largest number of students in its College of Medicine of any University in the United States, it has, due to lack of facilities, been unable to accommodate more than one-fourth of the number of residents of the State of Illinois who meet all of the minimum requirements for admission thereto; and

Whereas, In the selection of the approximately one-fourth of the qualified applicants who are residents of the State of Illinois and for which facilities were available, it has been deemed expedient to establish a committee on admissions which has thoroughly investigated and considered the qualifications of all the applicants for admission to the College of Medicine; and

Whereas, The single most important factor considered by such committee on admissions in determining who among all the applicants should constitute the group to be admitted annually, has been the scholastic average maintained by such applicants in University studies prior to the date of their application; and

Whereas, The members of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, in recognition of the need for medical practitioners in rural areas throughout the State believe that particular attention should be given to the communities in which they live in determining which applicants are to be admitted to the College of Medicine if the health and welfare of the people in those rural areas shall not be impaired; and

Whereas, The members of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly believe that University students residing in rural areas are more likely to be required to at least partially support themselves while attending school, thereby lessening the time they are permitted to devote to their studies and having an adverse effect on their scholastic averages; and

Whereas, The members of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly believe that sons and daughters of persons residing in the rural areas are more likely to return to those areas and engage in the practice of medicine thereby making more certain that residents from all parts of the State shall have adequate medical service available in their time of need; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That we urge the Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois to take into particular consideration the rural areas in which sufficient doctors are not now practicing to maintain the high standard of health to which all of the residents of this great State of Illinois are entitled in considering applications for admission to the College of Medicine of the University of Illinois to the end that a definite preference be shown to the sons and daughters of the residents of those needy areas when those sons and daughters express at the time of their application an intention to return to their home communities upon completion of their medical course.

Death Resolutions

The House proceeding on the order of death resolutions, Messrs. Brands, Gray, Holten, McDonald, T. J. Thornton, Powell and McRoberts offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

House Resolution No. 33

Whereas, The death of His Excellency, the Most Reverend Henry Althoff, for thirty-three years Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Belleville, Illinois, terminated an illustrious career of religious leadership; and

Whereas, His life was dedicated to the furtherance of the divine principles of charity, justice, morality and love of fellow-man with an unswerving fidelity that evoked the admiration of persons of all creeds; and

Whereas, His exemplary character exerted a powerful influence for good upon the culture of our State that will endure beyond contemporary material accomplishment and invites emulation by all men of good will; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we express the deep regret of our State upon the death of Bishop Henry Althoff; and that suitably engrossed copies of this preamble and resolution be delivered to his bereaved brother and sister, John and Catherine Althoff; to his ecclesiastical superior, His Eminence Samuel Cardinal Stritch, Metropolitan of the Catholic Province of Chicago; and to Bishop Althoff's successor as head of the Belleville Diocese, His Excellency, the Most Reverend Albert R. Zuroweste; and, as a further mark of respect to his memory, that the House do now adjourn.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote; and in accordance therewith, at the hour of 11:50 o'clock A. M., the House stood adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 2, 1949, 10:00 O'CLOCK A. M.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

The Speaker in the chair.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has adopted the following joint resolution, in the adoption of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 16

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the House of Representatives concurring herein, That the Joint Rules of the Senate and House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois shall be as follows:

JOINT RULES OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF THE SIXTY-SIXTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY

1. When a message shall be sent from the Senate to the House of Representatives, or from the House of Representatives to the Senate, it shall be respectfully communicated to the Clerk or Secretary by the person by whom it may be sent, and said Clerk or Secretary shall receipt for said message.

2. Messages shall be sent by such person as a sense of propriety in each House may determine to be proper, and where such message refers to a Bill or Joint Resolution, it may contain the name or names of the member or members of the House to which the message is directed, who are authorized by the first sponsor in the originating House and who have given to the Clerk or Secretary, as the case may be, of the House directing the message, a written consent to sponsor such Bill or Joint Resolution in the House to which the message is directed; which name or names shall be printed at the head of the House Bill in Senate, or Senate Bill in House, or Joint Resolution, as the case may be.

3. In every case of disagreement between the two Houses, if either House request a conference, and appoint a committee for that purpose, the other House shall appoint a committee to confer therewith upon the subject of their disagreement. But no subject matter shall be included in any conference committee report on an appropriation bill unless such subject matter directly relates to matters of difference between the Houses and has been specifically referred to the Conference Committee.

Said committees shall meet at a convenient time to be agreed upon by their chairman, and, having conferred freely, each shall report to its respective House the result of their conference. In case of an agreement the report shall be first made, with the papers referred accompanying it, to the disagreeing House, and there acted upon.

No appropriation bill shall be passed and no report of any Conference Committee on an appropriation bill shall be considered unless the bill or report has been printed in its final form and placed on the desks of the members at least three legislative days prior to the final passage of the bill or the consideration of the report. Such action shall be immediately reported by the Clerk or Secretary to the other House, the papers referred accompanying the message. In case of disagreement, the papers shall remain with the House which referred them.

The agreeing report of a conference committee shall be made, read and signed in duplicate by all members of the committee, or by a majority of those of each House, one of the duplicates being retained by each House. Should either House disagree to the report of the committee, such House shall appoint a second committee and request a second conference, which shall be acceded to by the other House before adhering.

In making appointments to any committee hereunder, each House shall be governed by its own rules. Conference committees and all other joint committees shall have an equal number of members from each House.

The motion for a committee of conference, and the report of such committee, shall be in order at any time. When both Houses shall have adhered to their disagreement, a bill or resolution is lost.

4. Any Bill which, when introduced, consists of over twenty-five typewritten pages shall, before it is entitled to consideration by either House or any committee thereof, be accompanied by a printed index showing the contents of such Bill.

5. While Bills are on their passage between the two Houses they shall be accompanied by a message signed by the Clerk or Secretary, as the case may be.

6. After a Bill has passed both Houses, it shall be transcribed and typed in its final form by the Clerk of the Committee on Enrolling, Transcribing and Typing of Bills of the House in which the Bill originated before it is presented to the Governor.

7. After examination, each Bill shall be signed in the respective Houses by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and by the President of the Senate; and certified by the Clerk or the Secretary of the House in which it originated.

8. After a Bill shall have been signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, it shall be presented by said Clerk of said Committee of either House to the Governor for his approval.

9. All resolutions and memorials shall be signed by the presiding officer of each respective House, and attested to by the Clerk or Secretary thereof, and filed with the Secretary of State.

10. When a Bill or resolution which shall have passed one House is rejected in the other, information thereof shall be given to the House in which the same shall have passed.

11. When a Bill, memorial or resolution which has passed one House is rejected in the other, it shall not again be introduced during the same session, except in the House so rejecting, and after three days' notice and leave of that House by a majority of the members elected.

12. While the two Houses are acting together upon elections, or on any other matter, the Speaker shall preside, and all questions of order shall be decided by him, subject to an appeal to both Houses, as though but one body was in session. A call of members of either House may be had in joint meeting by order of the House in which the call is desired, and to constitute a quorum of the joint assembly, a majority of all the members elected to each House shall be present and voting.

13. Motions to postpone or adjourn shall be decided by a joint vote of both Houses, and yeas and nays upon such motions, if required, shall be entered upon the Journals of both Houses.

14. Upon questions arising requiring the separate decision of either House, the Senate shall withdraw until the decision is made: Provided, that questions upon motions for a call of either House shall not come within the provisions of this rule.

15. Each House shall have the liberty of ordering the printing of Bills, messages and reports without the consent of the other.

16. Whenever any message, Bill, report or document shall be ordered to be printed by the Senate or House, for the use of both Houses, it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Senate or Clerk of the House (as the case may be) immediately to report the fact of the passage of such order to the other branch of the General Assembly, together with the number so ordered to be printed in case the same shall exceed 300.

Adopted by the Senate, March 2, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

The foregoing message from the Senate, reporting Senate Joint Resolution No. 16, was referred to the Committee on Rules.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the passage of a bill of the following title, to-wit:

Resolved, By the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring herein, that when the two Houses adjourn on Wednesday, March 2nd, they stand adjourned until Tuesday, March 8, 1949, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

Concurred in by the Senate, March 2, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

GENERAL RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of general resolutions, Mr. Horsley offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 21

WHEREAS, On the first day of March, 1949, a large group of students appeared before the Judiciary Committee of the State Senate in opposition to pending legislation which would control subversive activities in the State of Illinois, and

WHEREAS, It appeared that practically all of such students were from the University of Chicago and Roosevelt College, both located in the City of Chicago, Illinois, and

WHEREAS, It appears that these students are being indoctrinated with Communistic and other subversive theories contrary to our free systems of representative government, and

WHEREAS, It further appears that Communist Clubs are known to exist at both schools with the knowledge and approval of such schools to the extent that same may well become a menace to our present system of government, and that an immediate investigation should be made of such matters so that legislation may be enacted at this session of the Legislature to control the same; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly, the Senate concurring herein, That the Chairman of the State Seditious Activities Investigation Commission of the State of Illinois shall immediately take steps to investigate fully and completely any and all subversive activities which may now exist in any connection whatsoever at the University of Chicago and at Roosevelt College, and to exercise all powers heretofore granted by this Legislature to said Commission; and be it further

Resolved, That said Commission shall report such investigation to the Sixty-sixth General Assembly on or before April 15, 1949.

And the resolution was adopted.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and ask their concurrence therein.

Mr. Marzullo offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Executive Committee:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 22

WHEREAS, Numerous complaints have been made concerning the administration of employed personnel at the Illinois Research and Educational Hospitals in Chicago; and

WHEREAS, The Medical Director of the hospitals, who is also the Dean of the College of Medicine of the University of Illinois, has allegedly replaced numerous civil service employees with temporary employees who are reported to be paid double salaries; and

WHEREAS, Several suits by discharged civil service employees are now pending, and the University has hired a law firm to defend these suits, due to the practices of the director thus involving a needless waste of taxpayers' money; and

WHEREAS, These arbitrary and capricious practices have disrupted the morale of employees of the hospitals; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That a committee consisting of three members of the Senate appointed by the Committee on Committees, and three members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker, be created for the purpose of investigating these matters of administration of the Research and Educational Hospitals, and to recommend suitable legislative action for its improvement if necessary. The Committee shall select a chairman from its membership. In the conduct of its investigation, the Committee may, under the signature of its chairman, issue subpoenas to compel the appearance and testimony of witnesses and the production of books, papers, documents and other memoranda. The Committee shall report its findings to the General Assembly not later than May 1, 1949, and shall submit such recommendations for legislative consideration as it deems necessary as a result of its investigation; and be it further

Resolved, That the expenses of the Committee, upon joint approval of the Committee on Committees of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, be paid equally from the appropriations for committee expenses of the Senate and House of Representatives, respectively.

Messrs. Ronan, Touhy and Meyer offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Executive Committee:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 23

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That there shall be submitted to the electors of this State for adoption or rejection at the next election of members of the General Assembly of the State of Illinois, in the manner provided by law, a proposition to amend Section 1 of Article VII of the Constitution to read as follows:

ARTICLE VII

Sec. 1. Every person having resided in this State one year, in the county 90 days, and in the election district 30 days next preceding any election therein, who obtained a certificate of naturalization before any court of record in this State prior to January 1, 1870, or who is a citizen of the United States, above the age of 18 years, shall be entitled to vote at such election.

At the hour of 12:35 o'clock P. M., Mr. James J. Ryan moved that the House do now adjourn.

The motion prevailed.

And in accordance therewith and pursuant to House Joint Resolution No. 20, the House stood adjourned until Tuesday, March 8, 1949, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

Amendment No. 1.

Amend printed House Bill No. 16, in line 2 of the title, by striking "Section" and inserting in lieu thereof "Sections 4-30 and"; and on page 1, by striking all of line 1 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Sections 4-30 and 8-6 of 'The School Code', approved May 1, 1945, as"; and by inserting immediately following line 2, a new section to read as follows:

"Sec. 4-30. The trustees of schools may, at any regular semi-annual meeting, or, at any special meeting held for the purpose not sooner than twenty days after filing a petition therefor, change the boundaries of elementary, consolidated, community consolidated, township high school, community high school, consolidated high school or non-high school districts situated wholly within the township, so as:

1. To divide a district into two or more districts when petitioned by a majority of the voters of the district.

2. To consolidate two or more districts into one district, when petitioned by a majority of the voters of each district.

3. To detach territory from one district and add it to an adjacent district, when petitioned by a majority of the voters of each district; or when petitioned by two-thirds of the voters residing within the territory described in the petition, asking that the territory be detached from one district and added to an adjacent district. Provided, that if territory is to be detached from a non-high school district and annexed to a township, community or consolidated high school district, or detached from a township, community or consolidated high school district and annexed to a non-high school district, upon a petition signed by at least fifty (50) voters or twenty per cent (20%) of the voters of each district being filed with the county superintendent of schools, the county superintendent of schools shall call an election, to be held within thirty (30) days after the petition is filed with him at which election the voters of the respective districts shall vote upon the proposition.

Notice of the election shall be posted by the county superintendent of schools at least ten days prior to the date thereof, in three of the most public places in each of the districts affected. The notice shall specify the place or places where such election is to be held, the time of opening and closing the polls and the question or questions to be submitted. The county superintendent of schools shall appoint the judges and clerks at the election. The place or places of holding the election shall be designated by the county superintendent of schools. The polls shall be opened not later than noon, and shall not be closed before 7:00 o'clock P. M. The ballot to be used shall be in substantially the following form:

OFFICIAL BALLOT.

Instructions to voters: Place a cross (x) in the space opposite the word indicating the way you desire to vote.

Shall the boundaries of School districts No..... and No..... in .....County (or Counties), be changed by detaching the following described territory, to wit:..... ..... (Here describe territory) from School District No..... of ....County, Illinois, and adding the same to School District No..... of .....County, Illinois.	YES
	NO

The county superintendent of schools shall report the result of the election to the board or boards of trustees of the township or townships affected by the boundary change and if a majority of the votes cast at the election in each district affected is in favor of the boundary changes, the trustees of schools shall forthwith make the boundary changes in conformity with the result of the election. No other election involving the same boundary changes shall be held unless at least one year has elapsed since the last election upon the proposition.

4. To create a new district from territory belonging to two or more districts, when petitioned by a majority of the voters of each district; or when petitioned by two-thirds of the voters residing within the territory described in the petition, containing not fewer than ten families, asking that such territory be created into a new district.

5. To create a new district by dividing the territory of an existing district, when petitioned by two-thirds of the voters residing within the territory described in the petition, containing no fewer than ten families, asking that such territory be created into a new district; but no school district shall be so divided if the territory of each district after such division does not possess the qualifications required for organization of such type of district in the first instance."; and on page 2, line 26, by striking "one-half" and inserting in lieu thereof "two-thirds"; and by adding immediately following line 33 a new paragraph to read as follows:

"No territory shall be detached from any school district if the territory of the district after detachment does not possess the qualifications required for organization of such type of district in the first instance."

And the amendment was adopted.

Edward H. Alexander, Secretary of the Senate.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has adopted the following preamble and joint resolution, in the adoption of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

Senate Joint Resolution No. 18

Whereas, Due to the determination of General Assemblies and Governors of Illinois that equal university educational opportunities shall be available to all the sons and daughters of Illinois, a great University of Illinois has been created and has steadily progressed to attain a most prominent status among all the Universities of the world; and

Whereas, Governing Boards and Presidents of the University of Illinois have consistently recognized the high value of athletic training and participation in athletic contests as an integral part of its educational program; and

Whereas, In keeping with its attainments in the sphere of scholarship and in the study of the sciences the University of Illinois has in the field of Intercollegiate Athletics chosen to compete in all years and in all sports with schools represented by the very best athletic teams and in furtherance thereof has for many years been a member of the Big Nine competing in all sports; and

WHEREAS, During the academic year of 1948-1949 the University of Illinois has been most fortunate in having as its Director of Athletics, Douglas R. Mills, as its Basketball Coach, Harry Combes, as its Assistant Basketball Coach, Walter Roettger and as its Basketball players, Captain Dwight Eddleman of Centralia; Bill Erickson, Rockford; Jim Marks, Edwardsville; Walt Kersulis, East St. Louis; Wally Osterkorn, Chicago; Fred Green, Urbana; Burdette Thurlby, Kirkland; Don Sunderlage, Elgin; Van Anderson, Sullivan; Richard Foley, Paris; Ted Beach, Champaign; Roy Gatewood, Salem; all being residents of this great State of Illinois; and

WHEREAS, Without thought of individual glory they have combined to bring to the University of Illinois the undisputed Basketball championship of the Big Nine recognized as the leading Basketball Conference in the land and in the winning of this championship which they so richly deserve they have scored more points than any Big Nine team in the history of the Conference; Therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Senate of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the House of Representatives concurring herein, That we are extremely happy to join with the Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois, the President, Faculty, Staff and Student Body of that great University and all basketball fans in this great State in extending our congratulations to Director of Athletics, Douglas R. Mills, Basketball Coach, Harry Combes, Assistant Basketball Coach, Walter Roettger and to Captain Dwight Eddleman and players Bill Erickson, Jim Marks, Walt Kersulis, Wally Osterkorn, Fred Green, Burdette Thurlby, Don Sunderlage, Van Anderson, Richard Foley, Ted Beach, Roy Gatewood, for the glory, honor and distinction they have brought to the University of Illinois by their ability, sportsmanship, fair play and determination to win resulting in gaining an undisputed Basketball Championship of the Big Nine making them the envy and subject of admiration of all basketball players and coaches in this nation; and be it further Resolved, That suitable copies of this Resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of State to Douglas R. Mills, Director of Athletics, Harry Combes, Basketball Coach, Walter Roettger, Assistant Basketball Coach, and Dwight Eddleman, Captain, and Bill Erickson; Jim Marks; Walt Kersulis; Wally Osterkorn; Fred Green; Burdette Thurlby; Don Sunderlage; Van Anderson; Richard Foley; Ted Beach; Roy Gatewood; players.

Adopted by the Senate, March 8, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

And the question being, "Shall the bill be transcribed and typed for a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

House Bill No. 23, a bill for "An Act to amend Section 18-6 of 'The School Code', approved May 1, 1945, as amended, and to add Section 2-29 thereto."

Having been printed, was taken up and read at large a second time.

The Committee on Education offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 1

Amend line 2 of the title of House Bill No. 23 by striking "18-6" and inserting in lieu thereof "3-1"; and

On page 1, line 1 of Section 1, by striking "18-6" and inserting in lieu thereof "3-1"; and

On pages 1 and 2, by striking all of Sec. 18-6; and

On page 2 by adding immediately following line 4 of Sec. 2-29, the following:

"Sec. 3-1. On Tuesday next after the first Monday in November 1946, and quadrennially thereafter, there shall be elected in every county a county superintendent of schools, who shall enter upon the discharge of his duties on the first Monday of August next after his election. No one shall be eligible to file his petition at any primary election for the nomination as candidate for the office of county superintendent of schools nor to enter upon the duties of such office who is not of good character, [who has not at some time during the two preceding years been actively engaged in teaching or supervising in the public schools of the State,] and who does not hold a valid state limited supervisory certificate or a valid state life supervisory certificate and who has not had at least four years' experience in teaching.

No county clerk shall place the name of any candidate for the office of county superintendent of schools upon the ballot in any primary election or in any general election unless there has been filed with the county clerk the certificate of the Superintendent of Public Instruction certifying that the candidate holds a valid state limited supervisory certificate or a valid state life supervisory certificate and has had at least four years' experience in teaching."

And the amendment was adopted.

There being no further amendments, the foregoing Amendment No. 1 was ordered printed; and the question then being, "Shall the bill, as amended, be transcribed and typed for a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

House Bill No. 183, a bill for "An Act to validate the organization of certain community high school districts."

Messages from the Senate

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary.

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has refused to concur in Amendments numbered 1 and 2 to Senate Joint Resolution No. 16, consisting of the Joint Rules of the Senate and House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois.

I am further directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate requests a Committee of Conference to consist of three members from each House to consider the differences of the two Houses in regard to the amendments to the resolution, and that the Committee on Committees has appointed as such Committee on the part of the Senate the following: Senators Butler, Thompson and Libonati.

Action taken by the Senate, March 9, 1949.

Edward H. Alexander, Secretary of the Senate.

Mr. Sullivan moved that the House accede to the request of the Senate for a Committee of Conference to adjust the differences arising between the two Houses on House Amendments numbered 1 and 2 to Senate Joint Resolution No. 16.

And the motion prevailed.

The Speaker appointed as such committee on the part of the House, Messrs. Powell, Sullivan and Jenkins.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary.

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has passed a bill of the following title, in the passage of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

Senate Bill No. 59

A bill for "An Act to amend the title of and to add Section 5a to the 'Blind Assistance Act', approved July 9, 1943, as amended."

Passed by the Senate, March 9, 1949.

Edward H. Alexander, Secretary of the Senate.

The foregoing Senate Bill No. 59 was taken up, read by title, ordered printed, and to a first reading.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the adoption of the following preamble and joint resolution, to-wit:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 21

WHEREAS, On the first day of March, 1949, a large group of students appeared before the Judiciary Committee of the State Senate in opposition to pending legislation which would control subversive activities in the State of Illinois, and

WHEREAS, It appeared that practically all of such students were from the University of Chicago and Roosevelt College, both located in the City of Chicago, Illinois, and

WHEREAS, It appears that these students are being indoctrinated with Communistic and other subversive theories contrary to our free systems of representative government, and

WHEREAS, It further appears that Communist Clubs are known to exist at both schools with the knowledge and approval of such schools to the extent that same may well become a menace to our present system of government, and that an immediate investigation should be made of such matters so that legislation may be enacted at this session of the Legislature to control the same; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly, the Senate concurring herein, That the Chairman of the State Seditious Activities Investigation Commission of the State of Illinois shall immediately take steps to investigate fully and completely any and all subversive activities which may now exist in any connection whatsoever at the University of Chicago and at Roosevelt College, and to exercise all powers heretofore granted by this Legislature to said Commission; and be it further

Resolved, That said Commission shall report such investigation to the Sixty-sixth General Assembly on or before April 15, 1949.

Together with the following Amendments (which amendments have been printed by the Senate), in the adoption of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend the first sentence of the fifth paragraph of House Joint Resolution No. 21 by striking the words "Chairman of the" therefrom.

AMENDMENT NO. 2

Amend the second sentence of the Sixth paragraph of House Joint Resolution No. 21 by striking the word "April" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "May".

Passed the Senate, as amended, March 9, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

The foregoing message from the Senate, reporting Senate amendments to House Joint Resolution No. 21, was ordered to lie on the Speaker's table.

GENERAL RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of general resolutions, Messrs. Brands and Choate offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Executive Committee:

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 34.

WHEREAS, Recent newspaper articles have carried sensational accounts concerning alleged expenditures for unnecessary luxuries in the warden's quarters of the Pontiac and Menard branches of the Illinois State Penitentiary and charging that officers of the Department of Public Safety have resorted to various subterfuges in order to circumvent approved purchasing practices; and

WHEREAS, Rumors are being circulated to the effect that officers and employees of the Department of Public Safety are showing favoritism in the enforcement of the weight limitations for trucks upon the highways of the State; and

WHEREAS, Fairness to the public and to the Department requires that the truth of these charges be promptly and thoroughly investigated; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That there be created a committee of five members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker to investigate the charges that have been made in connection with the administration of the Menard and Pontiac branches of the Illinois State Penitentiary, the purchasing practices of the Department of Public Safety, and the alleged discriminatory practices in enforcing motor vehicle weight limitations. The Speaker shall designate the chairman of the Committee. In the conduct of its investigation, the Committee may, under the signature of its chairman, issue subpoenas to compel the appearance and testimony of witnesses and the production of relevant books, papers, documents and other memoranda. The Committee shall report its findings to this General Assembly not later than May 15, 1949, and shall submit such recommendations for legislative consideration as it deems necessary as a result of its investigation; and be it further

Resolved, That the expenses of the Committee be paid from the appropriation for committee expenses of the House of Representatives.

At the hour of 12:40 o'clock P. M., Mr. James J. Ryan moved that the House do now adjourn.

The motion prevailed.

And in accordance therewith and pursuant to Senate Joint Resolution No. 17, the House stood adjourned until Tuesday, March 15, 1949, at ten o'clock A. M.

TUESDAY, MARCH 15, 1949, 10:00 O'CLOCK A. M.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

The Speaker in the chair.

Prayer by Rev. Francis O'Hara, of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, of Springfield.

The Journal of Wednesday, March 9th, was being read when, on motion of Mr. Holten, further reading of the same was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has adopted the following preamble and joint resolution, in the adoption of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 19.

WHEREAS, Any and all information concerning the true philosophy of the Communist Party of the United States is desirable; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Benjamin Gitlow is a founder of the Communist Party of the United States and was the General Secretary of that organization from its very beginning in this country in the year 1919; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Gitlow broke with Stalin and severed his official connections with the Communist Party and is now appearing under the sponsorship of the National Department of the American Legion as speaker for their four Area Anti-Subversive Conferences of recent date, in the interest of exposing the "Red Menace" and thereby furthering Americanism; and

WHEREAS, Since Mr. Gitlow has been a member of the Communist Party and was thoroughly schooled in Moscow in espionage, sabotage and other vicious means of furthering the "Red Menace", his first-hand knowledge and experience should be of great value; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Senate of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the House of Representatives concurring herein, That we cordially and respectfully request and invite Mr. Benjamin Gitlow to visit the City of Springfield on Tuesday, March 29, 1949, for the purpose of addressing a joint session of the General Assembly at 11:00 A. M. on that day; and be it further Resolved, That the Secretary of State be directed to prepare a copy of this resolution and forward the same to Mr. Gitlow.

Adopted by the Senate, March 16, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

By unanimous consent, the foregoing Senate Joint Resolution No. 19 was taken up for immediate consideration.

Mr. James J. Ryan moved that the House concur with the Senate in the adoption of said resolution.

The motion prevailed.

And the House concurred with the Senate in the adoption of Senate Joint Resolution No. 19.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary.

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has passed bills of the following titles, in the passage of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

SENATE BILL No. 2

A bill for "An Act to amend Section 29 of 'An Act in relation to State finance', approved June 10, 1919, as amended."

SENATE BILL No. 29

A bill for "An Act to add Sections 5a, 5b and 5c to 'An Act to provide for the creation, maintenance, and administration of a retirement and benefit system for certain officers and employees of the State of Illinois, their dependents and beneficiaries', approved July 23, 1943, as amended."

SENATE BILL No. 80

A bill for "An Act to amend Section 125 of the 'Illinois Insurance Code', approved June 29, 1937, as amended."

Passed by the Senate, March 16, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

The foregoing Senate Bills numbered 2, 29 and 80 were taken up, read by title, ordered printed and to a first reading.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the adoption of the following joint resolution, to-wit:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 24

Resolved, By the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring herein, That when the two Houses adjourn on Wednesday, March 16th, they stand adjourned until Tuesday, March 22, 1949, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

Concurred in by the Senate, March 16, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

GENERAL RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of general resolutions, Messrs. James J. Ryan and Noonan offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 36

WHEREAS, On the 17th day of March of each year the sons and daughters of Erin, as well as people of every nationality and race, pay honor to the great St. Patrick; and

WHEREAS, For more than fourteen hundred years the Irish people have held aloft for all the world to see, the torch of Liberty and spiritual freedom lit by the illustrious Patrick; and

WHEREAS, St. Patrick taught and inculcated into the Irish People, the love and belief in God; he instilled in them the virtues of Faith, Hope and Charity; he made them ardent believers in tolerance and taught them to spurn every form of enslavement; and

WHEREAS, The sons and daughters of the little Emerald Isle made the principles enunciated in the Declaration of Independence living and vibrant things; and

WHEREAS, Brilliant are the pages of our country's history with the deeds and courage of Irish men and women; and

WHEREAS, They have fought throughout the centuries on a thousand blood bought battlefields and have crimsoned the seven seas; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That, in honor of St. Patrick and the Irish sons and daughters in Illinois, this preamble and resolution be printed in the Journal of the House; and, as a further mark of respect to St. Patrick and his descendants, that the House do now adjourn.

VETO

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
SPRINGFIELD, March 18, 1949.

To the Honorable, the Members of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly:

I herewith return, without my approval, House Bill No. 149 entitled, "An Act to amend Section 39-2 of Article 39 and Section 53.1-2 of Article 53.1 of the 'Revised Cities and Villages Act', approved August 15, 1941, as amended". I veto and withhold my approval from this Bill for the following reasons:

This bill relates to taxes for fire and police protection purposes. The present statute apparently authorizes a local referendum only upon the question of the adoption of the maximum rate permitted. House Bill 149 is apparently designed to authorize a referendum upon the adoption of any rate below the maximum. I believe that the purpose of the bill is sound.

But the Attorney General has advised me that the bill as drafted may violate Section 13 of Article IV of the Illinois Constitution, and upon the basis of the reasoning in his opinion I cannot escape the conclusion that there is serious doubt as to the validity of the Bill in its present form.

In each case the ballot form submits the proposition of adopting the Article rather than authorizing a definite tax rate. The maximum tax rate is fixed in the first section of each Article, and these sections are not set forth and changed in the Bill. The amendments purport to authorize the fixing of a different maximum rate in the proposition to be submitted to vote without, however, so changing the first section of each Article. In other words, the use of the amended ballot form might result in the attempted adoption of an Article which does not, in fact, exist.

There is ample time for adoption at this session, of legislation which will accomplish the desired purpose and will be free from the legal doubts pointed out by the Attorney General.

For these reasons I veto and withhold my approval of House Bill No. 149.

Respectfully,
ADLAI E. STEVENSON, Governor.

The foregoing message from the Governor, transmitting veto to House Bill No. 149, having been received and filed in the Office of the Clerk of the House on Friday, March 18, 1949, at 2:00 o'clock P. M., was read by the Clerk and ordered placed on file.

At the hour of 10:35 o'clock A. M., Mr. Cutler moved that the House do now take a recess until 11:05 o'clock A. M.

And the motion prevailed.

11:05 o'Clock A. M.

The hour of 11:05 o'clock A. M. having arrived, the House resumed its session.

(a) Has attained the age of sixty-five years;

(b) Resides in this State and has so resided for at least five years within the nine years immediately preceding his application for an old age pension, the last year of which residence shall have been continuous and shall have immediately preceded the filing of the application for a pension provided for by this Act. The applicant shall submit proof of his residence within the State as herein required, and in case he has resided outside of the State during any time, within the five years immediately preceding the date of the filing of his application, the presumption shall be that he has not satisfied the residence requirements herein provided unless and until he submits competent evidence to prove such residence. No person shall receive a pension, unless he resides continuously within the State; provided, however, that upon application to the county department for permission to leave the State, stating the grounds therefor, the county department may, in its discretion grant permission to leave the State for such time as the county department may deem necessary under the circumstances. Provided, however, that no application or permit shall be necessary in case of any person desiring to leave the State for a period not exceeding ninety days. Absence from the State, while in the service of the State or nation shall not be computed, if a residence is not acquired outside of the State;

(c) Is a citizen of the United States;

(d) Except as otherwise provided in this section, is not an inmate of or being maintained by any municipal, county, state or national institution: Provided, that any person so situated may apply for a pension to be granted after he has ceased to be an inmate of any such institution, except that a pension for one month shall be paid to the person prior to his leaving the institution;

(e) Has not made a voluntary or involuntary assignment or transfer of property for the purpose of qualifying for a pension under this Act, at any time within five years immediately prior to the filing of the application for a pension pursuant to this Act, nor made a voluntary or involuntary assignment of property for the purpose of increasing his need for a pension;

(f) Has not sufficient income to provide a reasonable subsistence compatible with decency and health;

(g) Has not sufficient resources available to him for his support through contributions from children who are reasonably able to support him and only during the period that such children do not actually support him; and any sum so granted shall be recovered from such children as provided in Section 12½ hereof. It shall be the duty of the Commission to refer to the proper legal authorities all cases involving children who, although reasonably able to support needy parents, are refusing or failing to do so.

(h) If an inmate of or being maintained by a private institution, has not purchased care and maintenance either by cash or transfer of property, in the institution, or having purchased care and maintenance, the inmate shall be eligible for a pension under this Act when and after the amount of the cash or property has been wholly consumed for care and maintenance.

A person otherwise qualified hereunder who is an inmate of a home or institution, other than penal or correctional, provided and maintained by the county for the support and care of persons who are destitute, infirm or chronically ill, shall be eligible for a pension hereunder, if the facilities of such home or institution with respect to construction, sanitation and general hygiene are in conformity with standards prescribed by the Commission for the safeguarding of the health, safety and comfort of the inmates thereof; and any pension awarded to an inmate of such home or institution may be used by him to purchase care and maintenance therein.

The Commission shall, by rule, prescribe what shall constitute satisfactory evidence of age eligibility hereunder."

Mr. James J. Ryan moved to lay the amendment on the table.

AMENDMENT No. 5

Amend printed House Bill No. 112 by striking the title and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "A Bill For an Act to amend Sections 2 and 3 of "An Act in relation to the care and assistance of aged persons and providing for their burial", approved June 29, 1935, as amended, and to repeal Section 12½ thereof."; and on page 1, Section 1, by striking from line 1 the word "Section" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Sections 2 and"; and in Section 1 by striking from line 3 the word "is" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "are"; and on page 1, in Section 1, by adding a new section after line 3 as follows:

"Sec. 2. A pension shall be given under this Act to any person, or in behalf of such person as provided in Section 3, who:

(a) Has attained the age of sixty-five years; or who has attained the age of sixty years and is physically or mentally incapable of making a living;

(b) Resides in this State and has so resided continuously for one year immediately preceding his application for an old age pension;

(c) Is a citizen of the United States, or, if not a citizen, has resided in the United States continuously for the twenty-five years immediately preceding the date of the filing of the application;

(d) Except as otherwise provided in this section, is not an inmate of or being maintained by any municipal, county state or national institution: Provided, that any person so situated may apply for a pension to be granted after he has ceased to be an inmate of any such institution, except that a pension for one month shall be paid to the person prior to his leaving the institution;

(e) Has not made a voluntary or involuntary assignment or transfer of property for the purpose of qualifying for a pension under this Act, at any time within five years immediately prior to the filing of the application for a pension pursuant to this Act, nor made a voluntary or involuntary assignment of property for the purpose of increasing his need for a pension;

(f) Has not sufficient income to provide a reasonable subsistence compatible with decency and health;

(g) If an inmate of or being maintained by a private institution, has not purchased care and maintenance either by cash or transfer of property, in the institution, or having purchased care and maintenance, the inmate shall be eligible for a pension under this Act when and after the amount of the cash or property has been wholly consumed for care and maintenance.

A person otherwise qualified hereunder who is an inmate of a home or institution, other than penal or correctional, provided and maintained by the county for the support and care of persons who are destitute, infirm or chronically ill, shall be eligible for a pension hereunder, if the facilities of such home or institution with respect to construction, sanitation and general hygiene are in conformity with standards prescribed by the Commission for the safeguarding of the health, safety and comfort of the inmates thereof; and any pension awarded to an inmate of such home or institution may be used by him to purchase care and maintenance therein.

The Commission shall, by rule, prescribe what shall constitute satisfactory evidence of age eligibility hereunder."; and by adding on page 2 after line 30 a new section after Sec. 2 to read as follows:

"Section 2. Section 12½ of the Act is repealed."; and on page 2, Sec. 2, line 1 by striking the words "Sec. 2" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Section 3".

Mr. J. Ward Smith offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration moved its adoption:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 25

WHEREAS, The French "Merci Train" was sent to the United States by the people of France as an expression of appreciation for our gifts of food sent to that country in the "Friendship Train"; and

WHEREAS, One car of the "Merci Train," with its cargo of works of art, relics and historical documents, was presented to the State of Illinois and is now in Chicago; and

WHEREAS, During the next few months the General Assembly and the city of Springfield will be host to thousands of Illinois school children who will come to visit the seat of government and the historic Lincoln shrines; and

WHEREAS, It is fitting that these children be given the opportunity of viewing the priceless gifts sent to the State of Illinois by the French people; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That we respectfully request the Governor to make arrangements to have the Illinois car of the "Merci Train" placed on exhibit in the city of Springfield and that we also request the Secretary of State to find a suitable place for exhibiting the contents of the car in the State Capitol.

And the resolution was adopted.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and ask their concurrence therein.

Messrs. Sullivan, Powell, James J. Ryan, Kennedy, Stremlau, Touhy, Ronan, Weber, Cutler, Hugh Green, Thon, Horsley, Fred J. Smith, Davis and Mrs. Van der Vries offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 37

WHEREAS, The Most Reverend William Aloysius O'Connor was installed on March 17, 1949, as Bishop of the Springfield, Illinois, diocese of the Catholic Church; and

WHEREAS, The tremendous throngs of people of all denominations who welcomed him to our capitol city eloquently bespeak to a troubled world our fundamental reverence for the universal principles espoused by this militant religious leader; and

WHEREAS, The appointment of Bishop O'Connor is a well-merited recognition of his capacity for spiritual guidance of the many thousands of members of his faith in the Springfield diocese; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we extend to Bishop O'Connor the felicitations of the people of Illinois upon his appointment to an office of such distinction; and be it further

Resolved, That the House of Representatives cordially and respectfully invite His Excellency, Bishop O'Connor to appear before the House, upon the opening of some session of the House to him convenient, for the purpose of giving prayer; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this preamble and resolution be delivered to His Excellency, Bishop O'Connor.

And the resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

Mr. Clyde Lee offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 38

WHEREAS, The basketball team of Mt. Vernon Township High School last week wrote a glorious chapter in Illinois athletic history by winning the State High School Basketball Tournament; and

WHEREAS, Although composed largely of underclassmen, the Mt. Vernon team clearly demonstrated its right to join the select circle of teams which have worn the championship crown; and

WHEREAS, The skill, perseverance, courage and sportsmanship exhibited by the Mt. Vernon players and coaches will serve as a source of inspiration to the youth of our State; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we compliment and congratulate the administration, the coaching staff, the basketball squad and all others who have assisted in making possible the outstanding achievement of the Mt. Vernon Township High School Basketball Team; and be it further

Resolved, That suitable copies of this resolution be forwarded to Mr. R. L. McConnell and Mr. Stanley Changnon, principal and basketball coach, respectively, of Mt. Vernon Township High School.

And the resolution was unanimously adopted.

Mr. Clyde Lee offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 26

WHEREAS, The members of the General Assembly, together with all citizens of the State, take tremendous pride in the achievements of the championship basketball team of Mt. Vernon Township High School; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That we extend a cordial invitation to the coaching staff and the members of the basketball squad of Mt. Vernon Township High School to come to Springfield at a date convenient to them and to visit the Senate, the House of Representatives and the various State offices; and be it further

Resolved, That suitable copies of this resolution be forwarded to Mr. R. L. McConnell, and Mr. Stanley Changnon, principal and basketball coach, respectively, of Mt. Vernon Township High School.

And the resolution was unanimously adopted.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and ask their concurrence therein.

The Speaker announced the appointment of Messrs. John G. Ryan, Downey and Swanson as members of the Board of Trustees of the General Assembly Retirement System.

DEATH RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of death resolutions, Messrs. Mueller, Thon, Swanson, Mrs. Van der Vries, Messrs. Kaindl, Halick and Hruby offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 39

WHEREAS, The Honorable Warren Phinney, former legislative correspondent and political editor of the Chicago Daily News, died last week at the age of seventy-four; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Phinney covered the sessions of the General Assembly for many years and later served as executive secretary of the Legislative Voters League; and

WHEREAS, His warm and vibrant personality and his exceptional reportorial ability caused him to be loved and admired by all who knew him; and

WHEREAS, The entire State of Illinois joins with his widow and his brother and sisters in mourning the loss of an outstanding citizen; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we publicly express our deep sorrow at the death of the Honorable Warren Phinney, and that we offer our heartfelt sympathy to his bereaved family; that this preamble and resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House; that a copy hereof be sent to Mrs. Phinney; and, as an additional mark of respect to the memory of Mr. Phinney, that the House do now adjourn.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote; and in accordance therewith, at the hour of 2:25 o'clock P. M. the House stood adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23, 1949, 10:00 O'CLOCK A. M.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

The Speaker in the chair.

GENERAL RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of general resolutions, Mr. Johnson offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 40

WHEREAS, The General Assembly of the State of Illinois has honored the great basketball team of the University of Illinois and has heaped honor and praise on the University, the players and members of the coaching staff for winning the undisputed championship of the Big Nine Conference, thus adding to the glory and fame of the State of Illinois; and

WHEREAS, The General Assembly of the State of Illinois has extended praise and congratulations to the great football team of Northwestern University for its glorious victory in the Rose Bowl game; and

WHEREAS, The farmers of Henry County have brought an even greater championship to the great State of Illinois and have added substantially to the basic wealth of this State; and

WHEREAS, The Government of the United States, speaking through the Department of Agriculture and the Bureau of Census, has proclaimed that Henry County, Illinois, is the greatest hog-producing county in these United States, having wrested that title from the proud State of Iowa; and

WHEREAS, This championship has been an inspiration to the farmers of Illinois, and especially to the youths of the 4-H Clubs; and

WHEREAS, Hog producers from all parts of America attend the annual Hog Days celebration in the City of Kewanee, metropolis of Henry County, to pay tribute to His Imperial Majesty King Hog and to unite in hailing Kewanee as the Hog Capitol of the World; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we publicly express our pride in the high honor the farmers of Henry County have brought to the State of Illinois; and be it further

Resolved, That suitable copies of this Resolution be forwarded to the Board of Supervisors of Henry County, the President of the Henry County Farm Bureau, the Clerk of Henry County and the President of the Kewanee Chamber of Commerce.

And the resolution was unanimously adopted.

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS
URBANA, ILLINOIS

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

March 23, 1949

To the Honorable, the Speaker, and Members of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of Illinois

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: It has long been the custom of the General Assembly of Illinois to visit the University of Illinois biennially for the purpose of inspection. I need not urge upon the attention of your honorable body the importance of such an inspection of this your greatest State educational institution. The development of the University has been due largely to the intelligent grasp of its needs by the General Assembly. A personal inspection gives a clearer understanding of our common problems.

Accordingly, I am happy to invite your honorable body and the Senate to visit the University of Illinois on April 28 and 29. It has been customary for the delegation to leave Springfield some time during the afternoon of the first day, arriving on the University campus in time for dinner, staying overnight and to the following afternoon.

Complete arrangements for the visit, including transportation and hotel accommodations will be made by committees of the faculty in consultation with the Representatives and Senator from the twenty-fourth senatorial district and such other members of the General Assembly as may be designated for this purpose.

We shall all look forward with pleasure to your coming.

Respectfully yours,

(Signed) GEORGE D. STODDARD, President.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 27

WHEREAS, The Lincoln Ordnance Depot was established in the Springfield metropolitan area in 1942 and has ever since formed an integral part of the economic life of this community; and

WHEREAS, The recent deactivation order came as a complete surprise in view of the disturbed international situation and general state of preparedness which prevails throughout the nation; and

WHEREAS, We would be remiss in our duty to our state and nation if we supinely submitted to this apparently unwarranted action without voicing a vigorous protest; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That we respectfully urge the Secretary of the Army, Kenneth C. Royall, and Major General Everett S. Hughes, Chief of United States Army Ordnance, to re-investigate the factors that prompted the deactivation order, and that copies of this preamble and resolution be sent by the Secretary of State to President Harry S. Truman, Secretary Royall, Major General Hughes, Senator Scott W. Lucas, Senator Paul H. Douglas, Representative Peter F. Mack and each of the other Illinois members of Congress in order that they may take such action as may seem necessary.

Concurred in by the Senate, March 29, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

GENERAL RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of general resolutions, Messrs. Fred J. Smith, Davis, Skyles and Jenkins offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 42

WHEREAS, The fifth day of April is generally accepted as marking the birth of one of the choicest spirits that America has produced, the immortal Booker T. Washington; and

WHEREAS, Although there is no record of his birth, the life of Booker T. Washington is indelibly recorded upon the pages of our nation's history, and his spirit still lives within the hearts of men of good will everywhere; and

WHEREAS, His rise from a Virginia slave cabin to a position in which he was held in honor and respect by the entire world gave concrete expression to the hopes and aspirations of an entire people and serves as an inspiration to men and women of all races; and

WHEREAS, A special observance of the birthday of this illustrious leader will be held at his birthplace in Virginia from the second to the fifth day of April; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we take this occasion to pay tribute to the life and works of that great American, Booker T. Washington; and be it further

Resolved, That suitable copies of this resolution and its preamble be forwarded by the Secretary of State to the Honorable S. J. Phillips, President of the Washington Birthday Memorial at the Booker T. Washington birthplace, Virginia, and to the Honorable Frederick D. Patterson, President of Tuskegee Institute at Tuskegee, Alabama, which stands as a living memorial to the work of its great founder.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has adopted the following preamble and joint resolution, in the adoption of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House of Representatives, to-wit:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 22.

WHEREAS, By the provisions of the Constitution of Illinois, low water mark on the northwestern shore of the Ohio River, from its confluence with the Mississippi River to the mouth of the Wabash River, marks the boundary of the State of Illinois; and

WHEREAS, The Constitution recognizes "that this State shall exercise such jurisdiction upon the Ohio River as she is now entitled to, or such as may hereafter be agreed upon by this State and the State of Kentucky"; and

WHEREAS, The jurisdiction of the State of Illinois upon the Ohio River has never been determined, and there has never been any agreement between the State of Illinois and the Commonwealth of Kentucky regarding such jurisdiction; and

WHEREAS, This uncertainty regarding the jurisdiction of the State of Illinois on the Ohio River has long been and is yet the source of much expensive litigation and will, until determined, remain a cause of contention and dispute; and

WHEREAS, The common interest of the people of the State of Illinois and of the Commonwealth of Kentucky demands that the question of this jurisdiction be definitely determined; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Senate of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the House of Representatives concurring herein, That the Governor of the State of Illinois be requested and authorized to enter into negotiations for an agreement between the State of Illinois and the Commonwealth of Kentucky, having for its object the determination of the jurisdiction of the State of Illinois on the Ohio River.

Adopted by the Senate, March 30, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

The foregoing message from the Senate, reporting Senate Joint Resolution No. 22, was ordered to lie on the Speaker's table.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the adoption of the following preamble and joint resolution, to-wit:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 25

WHEREAS, The French "Merci Train" was sent to the United States by the people of France as an expression of appreciation for our gifts of food sent to that country in the "Friendship Train"; and

WHEREAS, One car of the "Merci Train", with its cargo of works of art, relics and historical documents, was presented to the State of Illinois and is now in Chicago; and

WHEREAS, During the next few months the General Assembly and the City of Springfield will be host to thousands of Illinois school children who will come to visit the seat of government and the historic Lincoln shrines; and

WHEREAS, It is fitting that these children be given the opportunity of viewing the priceless gifts sent to the State of Illinois by the French people; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That we respectfully request the Governor to make arrangements to have the Illinois car of the "Merci Train" placed on exhibit in the City of Springfield and that we also request the Secretary of State to find a suitable place for exhibiting the contents of the car in the State Capitol.

Concurred in by the Senate, March 30, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House in the adoption of the following joint resolution, to-wit:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 28

Resolved, By the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring herein, That when the two Houses adjourn on Thursday, March 31st, they stand adjourned until Tuesday, April 5, 1949, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

Concurred in by the Senate, March 30, 1949.

GENERAL RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of general resolutions, Mr. Downey, Mrs. O'Neill, Messrs. Wood, Shapiro, Topping, Kamp, Stremlau, Mrs. Peffers, Messrs. Schuler and Laufer offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 43

WHEREAS, The Most Reverend Martin D. McNamara was installed on March 24, 1949, as Bishop of the Joliet, Illinois, Diocese of the Catholic Church; and

WHEREAS, The tremendous throngs of people of all denominations who welcomed him to Joliet eloquently bespeak to a troubled world our fundamental reverence for the universal principles espoused by this militant religious leader; and

WHEREAS, The appointment of Bishop McNamara is a well-merited recognition of his capacity for spiritual guidance of the many thousands of members of his faith in the Joliet Diocese; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we extend to Bishop McNamara the felicitations of the people of Illinois upon his appointment to an office of such distinction; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this preamble and resolution be delivered to his Excellency, Bishop McNamara.

And the resolution was unanimously adopted.

At the hour of 1:35 o'clock P. M., Mr. Cutler moved that the House do now adjourn.

The motion prevailed.

And the House stood adjourned.

THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 1949, 10:00 O'CLOCK A. M.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

The Speaker in the chair.

Prayer by Rev. Henry Buege, of St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed Church, of Red Bud.

The Journal of yesterday was being read when, on motion of Mr. Grebe, further reading of the same was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

Messages from the Senate

A message from the Senate by Mr. Alexander, Secretary:

Mr. Speaker—I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has concurred with the House of Representatives in the passage of a bill of the following title, to-wit:

House Bill No. 112

A bill for "An Act to amend Section 3 of 'An Act in relation to the care and assistance of aged persons and providing for their burial', approved June 29, 1935, as amended."

Together with the following amendment thereto (which amendment has been printed by the Senate), in the adoption of which I am instructed to ask the concurrence of the House, to-wit:

Amendment No. 1.

Amend printed House Bill No. 112 in the Senate, page 1, Section 1, by striking all of line 11, and inserting in lieu thereof: "except as is hereinafter provided and except for such amount as is paid to the recipient or in behalf of"; and at the end of said Section 1 on page 2, by adding the following paragraphs:

"Until December 31, 1949, the maximum monthly pension allowable to any person, subject to the exceptions hereinabove provided, shall be $65, but during the month of December, 1949, the Commission shall adjust such maximum pension either upward or downward in the amount of $1.00 for each three full points of change upward or downward respectively occurring subsequent to the Index for the month of January, 1949 in the "Consumers' Price Index for Moderate Income Families in the City of Chicago—All Items", issued by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor, according to the latest available published statistics covering such Index. Such adjustment shall become effective as of January 1, 1950.

During each June and December thereafter, the Commission shall make a similar adjustment, at the rate and on the basis as aforesaid, to the extent of the change occurring in the above designated Index, as shown by the latest available statistics issued by the said Bureau, between the Index used in the month on which the last preceding adjustment was made and the latest Index available on the date on which another adjustment is to be made as herein provided. In any such periodic adjustment there shall be taken into account the unapplied portion of the change in the Index which occurred in the preceding adjustment, of less than three full points, which was not used in the calculation of the amount of such preceding change in the monthly pension as herein provided.

If at any such adjustment date, the variation in such price Index, taking into account the unapplied portion of the change which occurred in the Index in the preceding adjustment, is not as much as three full points from the Index figure used in making the adjustment for the period immediately next preceding the period in question, then the maximum pension allowable hereunder shall remain at the amount established at such preceding date. In any such periodic adjustment a rise in the said Index beyond 60 points above the Index figure shown for January, 1949, or a decline therein beyond 60 points below such figure, shall be ignored. Each such adjustment shall become effective as of the first day of the calendar month next succeeding the month of adjustment.

If the Bureau of Labor Statistics shall cease to issue said Consumers' Price Index from the base Index figure of 100, as established from average consumers' statistics for the years 1935 through 1939 inclusive, as determined by such Bureau, and the same or a substantially similar index reflecting the same base is issued by any other bureau, department or agency of the Federal Government, then the latter index shall thereafter be used by the Commission in making the periodic adjustments in pension as herein provided. If the issuance of any such publication by all bureaus, departments or agencies of the Federal Government is discontinued, or if the base index is changed, or if it is legally determined that adjustments cannot be made in the manner provided by this Section, then the maximum allowable pension shall thereafter remain at the amount last established by the Commission."

Passed the Senate, as amended, March 31, 1949, by a two-thirds vote.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

By unanimous consent, the foregoing message from the Senate, reporting Senate amendment to House Bill No. 112, was ordered to lie on the Speaker's table.

A bill for "An Act to enlarge the corporate limits of the Sanitary District of Chicago."

Passed by the Senate, March 31, 1949.

EDWARD H. ALEXANDER, Secretary of the Senate.

By unanimous consent, the foregoing Senate Bills numbered 79, 89, 137, 173 and 257 were taken up, read by title, ordered printed and to a first reading.

At the hour of 10:40 o'clock A. M., Mr. Sullivan moved that the House do now adjourn.

The motion prevailed.

And in accordance therewith and pursuant to House Joint Resolution No. 28, the House stood adjourned until Tuesday, April 5, 1949, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

TUESDAY, APRIL 5, 1949, 10:00 O'CLOCK A. M.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

The Speaker in the chair.

Prayer by Rev. James Fresh, of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, of Princeton.

The Journal of Thursday, March 31st, was being read when, on motion of Mr. Holten, further reading of the same was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

By direction of the Speaker, the roll was called to ascertain the attendance of members, as follows:

Answering present—144.

By unanimous consent, Messrs. Knauf and Ray were excused from attendance on account of sickness; Mr. O'Grady, on account of the serious illness of his wife; and Mr. Stremlau, on account of a death in his family.

Pursuant to a motion heretofore adopted, the address of Mr. Benjamin Gitlow delivered before a joint session of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly on March 29, 1949, is set forth as follows:

"Honorable Speakers of the House and Senate, Distinguished Members of the Legislature, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"I consider it a distinct and great honor to address the Joint Session of the Legislature of the great State of Illinois. I consider it a privilege and an honor, particularly at this time when our country is confronted with a great crisis that is testing those responsible with carrying on public affairs. I believe that it is proper for me to address this session on what I consider to be the most important problem facing the country.

"I want to give you a brief personal history: I was born in Elizabeth Port, New Jersey. At an early age I became a Socialist and joined the Socialist Party. The Socialist Party at that time was a democratic organization that believed in achieving socialism through democratic means—by use of the ballot and not by the bullet. When the Communist Revolution broke out in Russia in 1917, and when the Communists of Russia made an appeal to the socialists all over the world to support them, declaring that the Communists, in achieving the revolution in Russia had indicated to socialists in all countries how to quickly attain socialism, I tied up with the communist movement and was, in fact, one of the organizers and founders of the Communist Party. In 1919 I was the first Communist who was brought to trial for being a Communist. I was found guilty, and sent to prison. Unlike the communists of today, I then, before the Court, maintained that I had a right to advocate a communist program for the violent overthrow of our Government and its laws, and to set up in its place a Socialistic form of government. I was sent to prison for a term of from 5 to 10 years, and, after serving 3 years in prison, Governor Alfred E. Smith pardoned me. After being pardoned, I resumed my activities in the communist movement. I was an outstanding leader of the organization, and I was also a leader of the World Communist movement, known as the Comintern.

"In 1927 I made my first trip to Moscow at the request of the Russian rulers, and in Moscow I conferred with Joseph Stalin on American affairs and upon the program and activities of the Communist Party. In 1929 I was the candidate for Vice President of the United States on the Communist ticket. In 1929, when Stalin sought to remove the majority leadership of the American Communist Party, and to put in its place leaders selected personally by him, so that he could assume direct and personal control of the American Communist Party, I resented his measure and went to Moscow to appeal against his decision. I stayed in Moscow in 1929 for 3 months, engaged in a quarrel with Stalin, the head of the Soviet Union, and participating in that issue were such prominent figures in the Soviet Government like Molotov, Manuhesky, and others. Finally, Stalin drew up a decision in which he asked me, as the Secretary of the Communist Party, to sign a confession that I was a crooked politician; that, instead of following the Communist Party line, I was following the line of Herbert Hoover; and that I was supporting American imperialism.

"I rebelled against that decision, and told Stalin to his face that I would not sign the confession; that I was going back to the United States to fight against his determination to be the outstanding dictator of the American Communist movement. As a result, I was expelled and driven out of the communist movement. But I did not immediately cease to be a communist. My break with Stalin gave me an opportunity to re-study and to re-evaluate the program and philosophical basis of communism, with the result that by 1939—10 years later—I had completely broken with the communist movement and its philosophy, and I wrote my first book in the form of an autobiography, exposing American communism and its activities in the United States, and making clear my break with the philosophy of communism.

"That year Stalin made a pact with Hitler, and I realized that that pact, which ushered in World War II, was proof to me that the communists respected no principles—that they could unite with the Devil himself against humanity; and, feeling responsible for the role which I played in organizing the American Communist movement, I decided to make a public fight, regardless of the cost to me personally, against the movement. I appeared before the House Un-American Activities Committee in 1940, and for over a week I presented evidence and documents against State communists. I was advised by my best friends that such a move would prove very costly to me, and it did. Nevertheless, I determined to take that step. Since then I appeared before many legislative committees. I appeared before the Faculty Committee on Tenure, of Washington University, and I have devoted my entire life against what I consider to be the greatest menace facing the American people and humanity as a whole.

"The subject of communism is a very complicated subject for Americans—it is something new. Most Americans are only now beginning to realize what a gigantic colossus the World Communist movement is.

"Graphically stated, the world today is divided into two camps, diametrically opposed to each other—on the one side we have the communist camp, and on the other side we have the democratic camp. The center of communism is Moscow; the center of democracy is our own country; and the fight between communism and democracy represents two fundamental conflicting ideas: The communists believe that the State is supreme and that the individual is subservient to the State; that the individual must do whatever the State requires of him—not that the communist government is formed for the interest of the people, but that the people must serve the communist government. Our concept is that government is derived from the will of the people; that the State is an instrument of the people and not over the people. The communist subrogates the individual. The individual must lose himself in the collective of the communist police state. We, on the other hand, expound the theory of the dignity of the individual—it is the whole basis of modern civilization, society and democracy; it is a humanitarian approach to politics—and between these two ideas, which clash in every phase of our social, political and religious life, there can be no peace.

"Either one ideology or the other must prevail, and if communism prevails, then the dignity of the individual is abolished and we will enter into a period which destroys our democracy. The strength of communism depends on ideologies—on its ideas—and once the communists can get the people to think along certain lines, from that moment on the individual becomes a slave of the communist movement. The communists call their ideology Marxism, Leninism, and Stalin (a temporary leader who the newspapers report is very ill and ready to give up his rule), in other words signifies basically the dictates of communist ideology.

"People who become communists are subjected to a conditioning process. In other words, as soon as a person joins the communist party he is trained; his mental processes are attacked. He is psychologically conditioned, and, before a very long time expires, that individual is transformed; he becomes a different kind of a human being. I have seen, in the Communist Party, outstanding patriots become traitors of their country. I have seen intellectuals prostitute their intellectual accomplishments in the interest of the Communist Party. I have seen gentle men, idealists, with a great regard for humanity, become sadistic gangsters. In reality, the Communist Party is a marvelous thought conditioning machine, and once a person falls in its clutches, rest assured that his mind will be changed and his character also.

"The communist does not believe in the moral and religious beliefs of our society—in fact, they are very plain, and declare that the communists hold that the present moral and religious beliefs of our society serve only the interest of the capitalists, and are used to mislead and to exploit the great mass of people. They maintain that it is the duty of the communists to break down the moral and religious indoctrinations of present day society, and to set up in its place the modern State, the atheist concept of the communist. The communists have replaced belief in religion by a fanatical belief that through economic planning the world can be reshaped and made into a better world. But we have seen that, in the one country where economic planning prevails (in the Soviet Union, where they have had one five-year plan after another), the world has not been improved. For the people of Russia, liberty does not prevail. In Russia religious freedom does not prevail. In that country men and women have been enslaved, the living standards are low, and in order to maintain the power and might of the Russian State, a regime of terror has to be practiced, and in slave labor camps they have killed men and women in the number of 15 millions. Economic planning without our concept of religion and morals will make a Hades out of the world. It will not transform it into a Utopia. The communists' religion is characterized by a surge of violence and power. The communists believe that only through violence in all its forms can society be improved. In addition, the communists believe that before they can hope to set up in motion their measures for the transformation of the world, they must have power, and to attain power by whatever means employed is a fanaticism that holds each and every member of the Communist Party. Furthermore, the communists look upon their philosophy as a universal doctrine—as a religion replacing all other religions, but a religion without spirit, a religion without God, and the outstanding leader of the Communist Party in Italy, in an effort to make a deal with the Catholic Church, declared that the communists must be considered equally as religious with the Catholics because the communists, like the Catholics, believe in a universal doctrine.

"Among the communists, the Communist Party is a supreme organization and the Communist Party is not a political party in the sense that we understand a political party to be. The Communist Party is unlike the Republicans and the Democratic Party. By no stretch of the imagination (and I believe that no college professor of political science can prove to the satisfaction of a rational human being) is the Communist Party of the United States a political party functioning in a democratic country. It is quite the contrary, because the Communist Party of the United States is organized like a military machine—from the top down. The Communist Party of the United States disciplines its members and orders them around like a general orders the GI's around. The Communist Party of the United States is organized on a military basis, because the communists take the position that they are engaged, at the present time, in a class war that is as ruthless and as bloody and as vicious as actual warfare. And, again, the Communist Party of the United States is a party which is controlled by a foreign power. The rulers of Russia dictate the policies of the American Communist Party and the American Communist Party has no freedom to assert policies of its own on fundamental questions, and particularly on international affairs.

"In the Communist Party the role of the Soviet Union plays a very important part, and very few people understand the role which Soviet Russia plays in the communist movement. What is the concept of the communist? The communists believe that the revolution which took place in Russia in 1917, and catapulted the communists into power of a great country with 170 millions of people, was only the beginning of a war which will eventually develop on a global scale, in which the communists will come to grips with the rest of mankind for domination of the earth.

"The Communist Party of the United States, therefore, belongs to a World Communist organization, the center of which is a powerful government with unlimited resources, with the largest standing army in the world; and the communist, as soon as he joins the party, begins to realize that he is part of a great powerful organization; that as part of a great world power today he is part of the ruling class of that world power—and so communists hold in contempt their enemies' philosophy. They feel that they have the strength; given the conditioning, to come to grips with the capitalist world and to defeat it, and, of course, the international character of the communist movement must be kept in mind if we are to realize what is taking place in the United States at the present time.

"There are many who claim that the Communist Party in the United States is not to be taken seriously; that in recent years it has been subjected to severe blows; that in many trade unions where the communists have infiltrated, they no longer hold such influence; that our government has operated energetically against the communists; that the communists have been forced to adopt a program in the United States that divorces them from the rest of the citizens of our country.

"And I think that if we take such an attitude, it is like hiding our heads in the sand. The communists are engaged in world strategy. They look upon their fight as a campaign of military operations. The guiding heads for communism are the rulers of Russia, and if Russia decides on a policy which temporarily may prove very costly to the communists, that does not mean that the communist movement in the United States has been destroyed and that it must not be taken seriously. If you are aware of the military tactics, you will realize that a general sometimes knowingly sends a detachment into an area of the battle when he knows the detachment will be lost, but, by so doing, he will strengthen the main battle line of his army, and that is good tactics; and the communists engage in precisely such tactics, and if the American communists can temporarily lose ground (ground that will result in the communists in other countries gaining ground)—if they can lose ground and give the Soviet leaders an opportunity to slander the United States and to carry on an effective propaganda against our country—they will consider such strategy good strategy.

"Now let us deal concretely with the Communist Party of the United States. It is a revolutionary organization that believes in force and violence. Now, you don't have to take my word for it, because I am going to prove that condition to you from the communist record. I have here a book—the 'Elements of Political Education,' published by the Daily Worker, and in this book the following is stated—and this book serves as a text book for the education of communists who first join the Communist Party—and it puts this question to the communists: 'In what way can the proletariat free itself from the yoke of capitalism? Only through violent, armed methods, through civil war, revolution and dictatorship.' Any question where the communists stand on this question of force and violence?

"I want to refer you to another document I have here—the Communist Party Manual on Organization, published by a member of the Russian Politobureau, NKZD, Jay Peters (who is at the present time held for deportation), and in this manual it is stated as follows: 'The communist party is armed with the teachings of Marx, Engels, Lenin, and Stalin, as the leaders and organizers of the proletariat. The communist party of the United States leads the working class in the fight for the revolutionary overthrow of capitalism, for the establishment of the dictatorship of the proletariat and for the establishment of a Socialist Soviet Republic in the United States.'

"I think no other argument is necessary on that score. Both quotations mention the dictatorship of the proletariat. The communists believe that once they overthrow the United States Government, they must establish in its place a proletariat dictatorship in which only one party is allowed to operate—the Communist Party. In other words, the communists are believers in the establishment of a total dictatorship—the kind of a dictatorship we have had in Germany under Hitler, in Italy under Mussolini.

"What is the nature of the communist dictatorship? And, here again, instead of giving you my own personal view on that important question, I am going to refer to the outstanding theoretic spokesman of modern communish, Lenin—who assisted in leading the Russian communists' revolution to victory—and here is what Lenin says on the dictatorship of the proletariat: 'A dictatorship is an authority based directly on force, and authority which is absolutely unrestricted by any laws or regulations'. In other words, the communists want to establish a government based on force, unrestricted by any laws or regulations, and, if you desire to replace the democratic form of government by such a government, then you will follow the Communist Party. The Communist Party is an agency of a foreign power; its allegiance is not to the United States, but to the Soviet Union; it is loyal to that country only—and, here again, instead of my making the charge, I will quote from the Manual on Organization so that you can realize how fundamental that view point is among the communists, and here is what it says: 'The Soviet Union is the only fatherland of workers all over the world; therefore, the workers all over the world must help the Soviet Union in building a socialistic society and must defend it with all their power against the attacks of the capitalistic powers.' In other words, in the event of war between the United States and the Soviet Union, the communists will rally to the defense of their fatherland, the Soviet Union. They will do everything in their power as a fifth column to undermine our military force and will sabotage our industrial establishments in order to bring about the victory—not of the United States, but of the red flag of the hammer and cycle of the Soviet Union.

"The communists of the United States, when they put before themselves such a difficult task as destroying our way of life and changing America into a communist paradise, are not fools. They know how they want to do that particular job, and, if you will study the Communist Party, you will discover that their main activity is a concentration in the industrial centers and in the trade unions. They maintain that once they can gain control of the industrial workers, they will have in their hands the means and power also to cripple the economic life of our country, and to make any effort on the part of the Government to suppress them futile, and, here again, I will refer to the Manual—this good State of Illinois is one of the greatest industrial states of the Union—here we have oil, chemistry, steel, mining, machinery—and it says here, as follows: 'The communists must concentrate their activities in the basic industries in the country.' And, if you want to read the pattern for revolution, here it is: 'What are the basic industries? Those which produce the material for production (like steel, mining, oil, chemistry); those which deliver material to the place of production or consumption (like railroads, trucking, marine); those which produce power for running the wheels of industry (electrical power plants, steel and hydro-electric plants, etc.) It is important to concentrate all our energy to build the party in the auto, textile, and packing house industries because of their strategic importance on the economic system. Strong party organizations in these basic industries will deliver decisive blows to capitalism.' Give the communists domination of the unions in the basic industries, allow them and permit them to build up their communist party organization in these vital industries upon which our economic life depends, then the communists have a weapon to stop the flow of industry from moving, and to plunge our country into economic chaos, and in a war to deprive our armed forces of the means by which they must fight.

"Such an organization with such objectives must be taken seriously by all men and women who shoulder the responsibility for carrying on the affairs of our country.

"The Communist Party claims that it is desirous of becoming a mass party. What do the communists mean by that term? Do they mean that they want all the masses in the United States to become communists and joint the Communist Party? If they could achieve that objective they would like it very much, but the communists know that, when Lenin made the revolution in Russia, there were only 65 thousand Bolsheviks in his party, and, nevertheless, he crushed a mighty empire and took over the reins of government. What the Communist Party means by a mass party is that they want to have communists in strategic positions in unions, in schools, in universities, in churches, in every phase of our life; to have access to our people; to poison their minds and influence them in the communist direction.

"The Communist Party is not interested in just having members. It is a vanguard organization, and every communist is a leader, and they train their members to be leaders, and, in the language of the communist movement, the Communist Party is made up of what they term professional revolutionists. These men and women who devote all their time to the Communist Party. When I was a leader of the Communist Party, we had close to 6 thousand members in New York City, and out of those 6 thousand, over 4 thousand were either directly or indirectly employed by the Communist Party. They derived their income and living from the communist organization. That is why the Communist Party can mobilize its membership when it is impossible for any other group to do otherwise. From the Manual on Organization: 'A professional revolutionist is a highly developed comrade, trained in revolutionary theory and practice, tested in struggle, who gives his whole life to the fight of the interest of his own class. A professional revolutionist is ready to go wherever and whenever the party sends him—today he may be working in a mine, organizing the party; tomorrow, if the party so desires, he may be in a steel mill; day after tomorrow, a leader and organizer of the unemployed. Naturally, these professional revolutionists are supported by the party organization. From these comrades the party demands everything. The matters of family associations and other personal problems are considered, but are not decisive. If the class struggle demands, he will leave his family for months, even years.' In other words, the party doesn't hesitate to break up families. The professional revolutionist is under orders of the Communist Party. The aim of the Communist Party is to make every party member a professional revolutionist. Of course you had heard the argument over and over again that the communists are interested in supporting a good cause; that they are not so terrible as you picture them; that they are interested in reforms; that they do not seek to make a revolution; that they do not advocate out-and-out communism for the United States at the present time. That is part of the communist deception. The communists of the United States know that if they are to give the people of our country communism, they must give it to them in doses of sugar-coated pills.

"And what is the communist attitude on reforms?—and you are sitting in a legislature which deals with the problems of this State and country, and you are continually seeking ways and means to better the State government and to improve the lot of the people of the State of Illinois—now what does Stalin say on the question of reforms? He says as follows—listen very carefully, for it is an answer to all professors, to all the intellectuals, to all the claims that the Communist Party is a forum party—here is what Stalin himself, the Big Chief of Russa, says: 'For the revolutionist, however, the revolution is everything, and reforms a means to an end, a by-product of the revolution. A revolutionist may support a reform because he sees in it a means for linking up constitutional action with unconstitutional action, because he feels he can make use of it as a screen behind which he can strengthen his clandestine work, whose aim is to educate and prepare the masses for the revolutionary overthrow of the bourgeoise.' Any illusions about where Stalin stands on the question of reforms? It is a means to an end. It is a screen behind which communists can hide their real objectives, the revolutionary overthrow of our Government, and, in considering the communists, Lenin, from the very beginning, taught the communists that they must use all kinds of tactics of fraud, deception and deceit. Communists have violated all the crimes on our statute books because they thought it was to the interests of the communists.

"The communists today are engaging in a psychological war against us. Not only in our own country, but throughout the entire world, the communists are raising the slogan that the United States is the seat of reactionaries, the seat of a new Fascism; that we are doing things here worse than Hitler did in Germany—and they are organizing all kinds of fronts to create this impression, and recently, in New York, we have the conference of the Council of the Arts, Sciences and Professions for Peace, held in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel (the chairman of which was an outstanding astronomer and professor at Harvard), and at that conference, the United States was attacked as Fascist. The Soviet Union was upheld as the pinnacle for peace and democracy. This conference had its inception in a committee which was formed after a conference was held in Poland, and the United States was represented at its sessions in Paris by six members of the Communist Party and the Communist International organization.

"I want to just read to you what two outstanding Americans said at that conference in New York. I won't call them outstanding, but I will call them Americans. One was Professor John J. DeBoer. John J. DeBoer participated in the conference and he said, as follows, as quoted by the New York Times: 'Dr. John J. DeBoer, Professor of Education at the University of Illinois, told 400 persons at an educational panel that America was on the road to war and faced a threat from within by Fascists.' Now, here is a professor of education who can find nothing better to say at a conclave initiated by communists than that the United States is on the road to Fascism. And then we come farther. and here is another American, old John Rogge, former United States Attorney General. He rose to attain a high position in our Federal Government—our country has not been unkind to Mr. Rogge—and here is what Mr. Rogge declared at this conference: 'The denial of visas to invited foreign guests, the lynch spirit that fills the air outside this meeting' (people objecting to what was going on—they protested allowing communists to enter this country by the hordes)—Rogge continued, calling such protest 'the lynch spirit,' and he goes on further to declare: 'This spirit fills the air outside this meeting—police spies, informers and wire-tappers builds a Yankee-Doodle Fascism.' Mr. Rogge said because 'in the name of democracy they adopt as their own the worst excesses of the systems they purport to deplore.' He denounced the American government policy of security and preparedness and said: 'Any government that lives by the bomb will die by the germ.'

"At this conference, mind you, I have here a report that there were represented 51 institutions of higher learning, located in 21 states, California 2, Connecticut 2, District of Columbia 1, Georgia 1, Illinois 5, and so on. And, among the institutions of learning, the most outstanding colleges and universities of our country were represented. The communists have infiltrated the American way of life; they are the springboard for communist attacks on all our government, on our way of life, and if you think Rogge and Professor DeBoer were far afield of the communist petition, I read here what Howard Fast, a communist writer and outstanding novelist in our country, said: 'While this is not yet a whole condition, of Fascism, it is very close to the traditional shape of the police state,'—and here is the way the minds of our people are being poisoned.

"I want to now take up the question of religion, and then I will try to come briefly to a conclusion. The communists are now broadening to attack religion on all fronts—the Catholics in Hungary, the Protestants in Bulgaria. I have here the organ of the communist for the propagation and infiltration of the communists among the religious institutions which states as follows: 'Throughout the World War II there has been a growing realization on the part of these Slavic nations that their destiny is communism, and that it is no longer correct to say that their primary thought is nationalistic.' They know better than that. They are thinking of themselves, yes, but only as an integral part of the most important force in religious life today, and the Slav satellite states are centered around the Soviet Union. They are the ones predicated and pledged to the creation of the brotherhood of man and a better world.

"I can go on giving you the facts of infiltration in every walk of life, but it is not necessary to do that. You can understand the implication: We are now engaged in a mighty struggle—two forces facing each other—the Soviet Union on one side, and the United States on the other side. The Soviet Union, with their allies in a world war that has just ended, and the Soviet Union was the main victor in that world war; and after the world war the Soviet Union gained country after country in Europe. Today the communists rule China to the Yangtze River. There are 18 million members of the Communist Party in the world. The communists have them under their armies. Europe alone has 6 million members. Ever since the conclusion of World War II the position of the communist has been to prevent the culmination of the war in a satisfactory, stable peace. The communists are not interested in peace. Stalin is not interested in peace. He wants to consolidate all he has gained as a result of World War II, and to proceed further in his desire for world conquest, and their attitude is quite understandable in the United States. It is a powerful test country. We are geared for world production. If the communists can succeed in preventing the establishment of a stable peace, if they can continue to maintain the chaos and unstable conditions which prevail throughout the world today, they will eventually undermine the United States. Our country is not made up of a barrel without a bottom; we cannot go on forever with a situation out of which we cannot see the beginnings of law and order. The longer this state of insecurity prevails, the longer will be the burden which the people of the United States will have to shoulder, and the greater will be the strain upon their own government.

"What do the communists think about this question? They organize peace conventions; Stalin gives a report to the world that he is for peace; but the communists know that war between the communists and the democratic world is inevitable and I don't say it—Lenin himself, the Communist "bible" itself, says—here is what the communists pledge, said Lenin: 'We are living not merely in one State but in a system of states, and it is inconceivable that the Soviet Republic should continue to exist side by side with imperialistic States. One or the other must conquer,' and Russia, the communists are determined that the communists should conquer. The communists issue a German newspaper. Congressman Mark Antonio endorses that communist newspaper, and the name of that newspaper is the 'German American.' The issue that contains the letter of endorsement from Congressman Antonio contains an article by Gehardt Eisler, facing deportation, who declares that if the United States will dare to engage in a war against the Soviet Union, the communists in the United States and all over the world will do everything in their power to fight against the United States. To this newspaper Congressman Antonio writes: 'I congratulate the German American in its new enterprise, and congratulate it for its fight for a democratic and united Germany. A democratic and united Germany is the keystone to world peace. I wish you every success in your endeavor.'

"What is the Russian strategy in the event of war? The Russians maintain that no country can be conquered, atom bomb or no atom bomb, unless the country is occupied by infantry, and the Russian communists' geographic position stretches from the Baltic to the Pacific, and clear down half of Asia. If the United States engages in a war with Russia, the communists hope to take over Germany, Holland, Belgium, France, Italy, and even the near East. We will have only Africa and certain islands in the Pacific as a base, and Great Britain on our side. It will be a tremendous strain on the United States. The Russians have no use for human life. They have adopted policies in their own country that cost the lives of 6 million peasants. It is a serious problem for our country, and what are the communists doing in the United States? In the face of this grave situation, the communists are carrying on a campaign of defeat—they declare that the United States dare not become involved in a war with Russia; that the war will be fought on our own American territory; that the United States will lose 40 million lives on the battlefield. They claim that the Soviet Union has three more terrible instruments of war than the atom bomb, and I know whereof they speak. They have plenty of weapons which they can use against the atom bomb.

"This is the situation: Our civilized humanity on one side, depending upon the United States. On the other side, slaves, centered around the Soviet Union. What kind of a policy must we follow? First of all, in the face of such a situation, our house inside must be put in order. We cannot permit the luxury of allowing communists to roam at large from one end of our country to the other. The Communist Party is a fifth column, an agency of a foreign power which is engaged in hostile activities, against the United States. The Communist Party must be outlawed, and against the Soviet Union we must maintain a firm, strong attitude in defense of American rights, American interests, and the American way of life. There must be no further appeasement of Stalin. We must build up our defenses. We must strengthen our armed forces, and we must retaliate against the psychological warfare that the communists are conducting against us with a counter-psychological campaign for the purpose of exposing and tearing the sham from the crime that represents communism today.

"If we should adopt such an attitude, are we taking the position that everything in the United States is perfect, that there are no wrongs for reform, no room for reform? I think the contrary is true. Today this civilized world, whatever remains of it, depends upon the United States because we have built up the capacity, and have the generosity to accept that capacity, to save the rest of the world, and in the United States we recognize there is much room for improvement. We look upon our Government as a government with a human approach, and if you will examine what has taken place in the United States, you must come to the conclusion that in the building of an empire we have done many things which are not justified; but when you look at the picture as a whole, what do you find? A steady march forward—progress. In no country in the world do people enjoy as much liberty and freedom as they do in the United States. In no country in the world are the people as secure and so well taken care of, as in the United States. Is that the end? Not at all. It is the starting point for greater progress and greater achievement. And if the communists have their way, they will back-track progress; they will prevent us from achieving greater success in the march for humanitarian welfare.

"And, therefore, I say to you, if you cherish the American way of life, if you want to see this country prosper, then you must take a definite, firm and decisive stand against communism. The defeat of communism is a victory for America."

The Speaker laid before the House a report of Circuit Judges Grover W. Watson, Martin E. Morthland and Charles E. Keller, of the Sixth Judicial District, pursuant to the provisions of Section 31, of Article 6 of the Constitution of this State, which was ordered placed on file.

Whereas, the existing provisions of the School Code permit the organization of school districts and various territorial changes therein in a manner not consonant with sound administration, and this unsatisfactory situation should be rectified immediately, therefore an emergency exists and this Act shall take effect upon its becoming a law."

And the amendment was adopted.

There being no further amendments, the foregoing Amendment No. 1 was ordered printed; and the question then being, "Shall the bill, as amended, be transcribed and typed for a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

House Bill No. 474, a bill for "An Act to amend Sections 8-1 and 8-6 of 'The School Code', approved May 1, 1945, as amended."

Having been printed, was taken up and read at large a second time.

The Committee on Education offered the following amendments and moved their adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 1

Amend printed House Bill No. 474, immediately after the words "school district" in line 23, page 3, by inserting the following: "or a former community consolidated school district or a former consolidated school district or a former community unit school district".

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 2

Amend printed House Bill No. 474, in line 41, page 3, by striking the period and adding the following: ", a community consolidated school district, a consolidated school district, or a community unit school district, as the case may require."

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 3

Amend printed House Bill No. 474, in line 39, page 3, by inserting the word "eligible" immediately after the first word "the".

And the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Edwards offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 4

Amend printed House Bill No. 474 on page 4, by adding immediately after line 47 the following:

"Section 2. Whereas, the existing provisions of the School Code permit the organization of school districts and various territorial changes therein in a manner not consonant with sound administration, and this unsatisfactory situation should be rectified immediately, therefore an emergency exists and this Act shall take effect upon its becoming a law."

And the amendment was adopted.

There being no further amendments, the foregoing Amendments numbered 1, 2, 3 and 4 were ordered printed; and the question then being, "Shall the bill, as amended, be transcribed and typed for a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

House Bill No. 475, a bill for "An Act to amend Section 8-14 of 'The School Code,' approved May 1, 1945, as amended."

Having been printed, was taken up and read at large a second time.

Mr. Caton offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 1

Amend printed House Bill No. 475, on page 3, line 59, by inserting immediately after the word "date", the following: "; provided, that in case of the organization of any community unit school district by virtue of an election held on or after July 11 of any year and prior to the date school begins in any district involved, a petition or petitions for changes in boundaries or for an election to vote upon the proposition of changing boundaries may be filed at any time within twenty days from the date of said election; and if the change of boundaries is granted or the election to vote upon the proposition of changing boundaries carries, such change shall become effective immediately."

And the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Edwards offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 2

Amend printed House Bill No. 475 on page 3, by adding immediately after line 59 the following:

"Section 2. Whereas, the existing provisions of the School Code permit the organization of school districts and various territorial changes therein in a manner not consonant with sound administration, and this unsatisfactory situation should be rectified immediately, therefore an emergency exists and this Act shall take effect upon its becoming a law."

And the amendment was adopted.

There being no further amendments, the foregoing Amendments numbered 1 and 2 were ordered printed; and the question then being, "Shall the bill, as amended, be transcribed and typed for a third reading?" it was decided in the affirmative.

This bill, expressing an emergency in the body of the Act, rendering it necessary that it shall take effect immediately on its passage and approval and having received the votes of two-thirds of the members elected, was declared passed.

Ordered that the title be as aforesaid and that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

Senate Bills on First Reading

The House proceeding on the order of Senate Bills on first reading, Senate Bill No. 246, a bill for "An Act making an appropriation for sewer construction at the State Fair Grounds."

Having been printed, was taken up, read at large a first time and, by unanimous consent, on motion of Mr. John G. Ryan, ordered to a second reading without reference.

General Resolutions

The House proceeding on the order of general resolutions, Messrs. Kaindl, Noonan, Gormley, Granata, Mueller, Hodge, Hannigan, Kohout and Krasniewski offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

House Resolution No. 44

Whereas, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Franz will celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary this Thursday, April 7th; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Franz recently retired after a long and distinguished career of public service, during which he served for a number of years on the city council of the City of Chicago and later as a member of this House for eleven consecutive terms; and

WHEREAS, He acted for many years as chairman of the St. Patrick's Day dinner parties, being largely responsible for the phenomenal success of that annual event, and is now president of the newly organized St. Patrick's Day Dinner Club of the Illinois General Assembly, a non-profit organization which was incorporated last May; and

WHEREAS, During the years which he served among us, Mr. Franz won the respect and admiration of us all; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we extend to Mr. and Mrs. Matt Franz our heartiest congratulations and felicitations on the occasion of their Golden Wedding; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to Mr. and Mrs. Franz.

And the resolution was unanimously adopted.

DEATH RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of death resolutions, Messrs. Gibbs, Powell, Donohoo and W. J. Thornton offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 45

WHEREAS, The House has learned with regret of the death, on April 5, 1949, of the Honorable Edward P. Allen, distinguished resident of Quincy and outstanding political and civic leader; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Allen was for many years a member and secretary of the Democratic State Central Committee and served two years as State chairman; and

WHEREAS, One of the outstanding attorneys of western Illinois, Mr. Allen served two terms as State's Attorney of Adams County and was master in chancery in the federal district court for more than thirty years; and

WHEREAS, He was secretary-treasurer of the Illinois Hotel Association for many years and served for two years as State Fire Marshal; and

WHEREAS, The entire State joins with his widow and his two daughters in mourning the loss of so distinguished a citizen; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we express our profound sorrow at the death of the Honorable Edward P. Allen; that to his bereaved family we extend our sincere sympathy; that this resolution and its preamble be spread upon the Journal of the House, and that a suitable copy thereof be forwarded to Mrs. Allen.

And the resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

Messrs. Mioduski, John G. Ryan, Schneider, James J. Ryan, Halick, Kosinski, Krasniewski, Kuklinski, Prusinski, Swinarski, Boyle, Hannigan and Shannon offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 46

WHEREAS, The recent unexpected death of the Honorable Victor L. Schlaeger, Cook County Recorder of Deeds and Tenth Ward Democratic Committeeman, brought to an untimely end a distinguished career of public service; and

WHEREAS, In addition to his business and political interests, Mr. Schlaeger played an active and valuable role in the social, civic, patriotic and religious life of his community; and

WHEREAS, The qualities of diligence, perseverance, honesty, and loyalty to friends and family embodied in the life of this man are representative of the moral and spiritual values that have made America great; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we express our deep sorrow at the death of the Honorable Victor L. Schlaeger; that to his bereaved family we extend our heartfelt sympathy; that this resolution and its preamble be spread upon the Journal of the House; that a copy thereof be forwarded to Mrs. Schlaeger; and, as a further mark of respect to the memory of Mr. Schlaeger, that the House do now adjourn.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote; and in accordance therewith, at the hour of 1:00 o'clock p. m., the House stood adjourned.

THURSDAY, APRIL 7, 1949, 10:00 O'CLOCK A. M.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

The Speaker in the chair.

Prayer by Rev. James Fresh, of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, of Princeton.

The Journal of yesterday was being read when, on motion of Mr. Sullivan, further reading of the same was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

GENERAL RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of general resolutions, Messrs. Gibbs, Monroe and Gray offered the following resolution and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 31

WHEREAS, The beauties of the Illinois countryside, the rich historical associations of the State, the grandeur of its cities, and the industry and hospitality of its people commend themselves to all who travel throughout the State; and

WHEREAS, Sojourners from other sections of the country frequently exhibit exuberant enthusiasm over the glories of the State once they have traveled its highways; and

WHEREAS, The State of Illinois has in recent years been reluctant to advertise its attractions although Illinois motorists crossing the borders of sister states are often confronted with flamboyant signs extravagantly extolling virtues which fail to measure up to the advantages of Illinois; and

WHEREAS, It is, therefore, desirable that the State of Illinois re-inaugurate the policy of pointing out to tourists crossing our borders the many advantages and attractions of our State lest tourists crossing the borders think we are discourteously endeavoring to conceal from them the advantages and attractions of our State; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That we respectfully request the appropriate officers of the executive department to give due consideration to the wisdom and feasibility of placing, at the ports of entry and along the principal highways and bridges entering the State, suitable billboards which will advertise Illinois by acquainting motorists entering or leaving our State with our many attractions; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of State to his Excellency, Governor Adlai E. Stevenson.

Unanimous consent being refused, House Joint Resolution No. 31 was referred to the Executive Committee.

Mr. Hodge offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 47

WHEREAS, Today marks the fourth anniversary of the death of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, whose fearless leadership in peace and in war won the respect of the entire world; and

WHEREAS, It is fitting that we pause briefly in our labors to pay tribute to the memory of this great American; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That the members of the House do now rise and stand for one minute of respectful silence in memory of Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

And in accordance therewith the members of the House stood for one minute in silence.

At the hour of 2:10 o'clock P. M., Mr. James J. Ryan moved that the House do now adjourn.

The motion prevailed.

And the House stood adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 13, 1949, 10:00 O'CLOCK A. M.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

The Speaker in the chair.

Prayer by Rev. Mitchell T. Ancker, of the United Church of Hyde Park, of Chicago.

The Journal of yesterday was being read when, on motion of Mr. Welsh, further reading of the same was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

By direction of the Speaker, the roll was called to ascertain the attendance of members, as follows:

Joint Session—11:30 o'Clock A. M.

The hour having arrived, the time heretofore fixed by House Joint Resolution No. 32, at which the two Houses meet in joint session in the hall of the House of Representatives,

The Senate, preceded by its President and Secretary, appeared in the hall of the House of Representatives and, by direction of the Speaker, took the seats assigned them.

The two Houses being convened in joint session, the President of the Senate announced that a quorum of the Senate was present.

The Speaker of the House of Representatives announced that a quorum of the House was present.

A majority of each House of the General Assembly being present, the Speaker of the House declared the joint session duly formed.

Mr. James J. Ryan offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Joint Session Resolution No. 2

Resolved, That a joint committee of ten be appointed, five from the House by the Speaker thereof, and five from the Senate by the President thereof, to wait upon His Excellency Governor Adlai E. Stevenson, and invite him to appear before the Joint Assembly to deliver his budget message in person.

And the resolution was adopted.

The President of the Senate appointed as members of such committee on the part of the Senate, Messrs. Lantz, Cash, Saltiel, Lewis and Wimbish.

The Speaker of the House appointed as members of such committee on the part of the House, Messrs. Sullivan, Edwards, Davis, Mrs. M. E. Green and Mr. W. J. Thornton.

The committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency Governor Adlai E. Stevenson, appeared in the hall of the House of Representatives accompanied by the Governor, who, after being presented to the General Assembly, delivered his biennial budget message in person as follows:

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President and the Honorable Members of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly:

The budget for the period beginning July 1, 1949 and ending June 30, 1951 proposes expenditure of $1,055 millions from State sources, a net increase of $132 millions over the past two years. This increase is due to additional aid to schools, dependents, municipalities and to soldier bonus bond payments.

The cost of State government supported by the Illinois taxpayer falls roughly into two categories: operations and distributions. The modern State not only discharges its traditional legislative, executive and judicial functions, but it also collects and distributes tax funds to individuals and local governments.

Only one-third of the proposed budget is for the operating activities of the State government. Two-thirds is for construction, debt service, tax refunds, and for distribution to local governments for education, highways, welfare and for payments to the aged, dependent children and others.

The budgetary difficulties we confront, therefore, arise not from ordinary operating and maintenance expense but from the following proposed increased or new distributions of State funds:

	1947-49	1949-51	Increase
Debt service	$48.6 millions	$ 75.7 millions	$27.1 millions
Additional aid to local governments		40.0	40.0
Common Schools	81.8	135.7	53.9
Old age pensions	63.5	67.2	3.7
Dependent children	32.2	37.0	4.8
Emergency relief	32.0	43.0	11.0
Total increased or new distributions			140.5

No control is possible over the increase in debt service expense and little in the public assistance programs. The needs of the schools and the municipalities, particularly Chicago, are common knowledge.

This budget is frankly a precarious balancing of estimated income against only the most imperative needs. These large new additional demands on the State's resources can be financed without a major increase in taxes only by appropriating the remainder of the treasury balance, by extending the coverage of the retailers' occupation tax to occupations that have been excluded, and by reducing construction expenditures. This budget at best contemplates expenditure of approximately $114 millions in excess of our probable general fund income and it is evident that this level of expenditure cannot be sustained beyond 1951 without substantially increased revenue. Meanwhile, in the event of declining economic conditions we would be vulnerable, and nothing short of the most drastic expenditure controls will provide financial stability. We cannot borrow to meet unexpected failures of revenue. The State must be its own banker and we must at all times have enough money in the Treasury to meet our obligations and preserve our credit. The State is in a vastly different position from the Federal Government or even local governments.

Hence I will propose in the appropriation bills that all construction expenditures shall be made only upon my approval as a precaution against adverse revenue developments. I also recommend that in view of the revenue difficulties we may confront in the next session the Legislature establish a permanent revenue commission to explore and recommend sources of additional revenue.

I feel we have made some progress in controlling executive operating costs. The volume of work is growing but the cost of executive operation before salary adjustments has been reduced in the code departments alone by some $6.2 millions or 14 per cent. We have made a beginning. Further economies should be possible by management analysis, reorganization, and vigilant and continuous scrutiny of personnel and purchasing practices.

I would have preferred to retain a substantial portion of the treasury balance as a measure of defense against adversity in a time of such economic uncertainty. But despite a rigorous screening of demands for normal operations, increases in uncontrollable items and the imperative needs of education and local governments have made that impossible. This is not the most provident budgeting, but at the same time Illinois, rich, prosperous and paying one of the lowest per capita State tax bills in the country, cannot afford an inferior common school system, nor any serious curtailment of municipal services.

The circumstances in which the budget for the next two years has been drawn sharply differ from those of recent years. Appraisal of revenue yields for a period extending more than two years into a future beclouded by the uncertainties of an economy settling back to pre-war patterns is in striking contrast to the task of forecasting in a period of persistent inflation. On the expenditure side we are confronted by the unspent impact of price level changes on payrolls and construction costs. The cost of government in Illinois of course reflects these facts; wage and salary rates and many costs that the State must pay, directly or indirectly, were never higher than at present. And never before have the demands of citizens for public services been more insistent.

There are a number of external factors which contribute to the rising cost of State government, forces over which we can exercise no real control.

The population of Illinois now stands at about eight and three-quarter millions, compared with roughly 8.4 millions at the time the present biennial budget was under consideration. This is a gain of more than 300,000 persons, the equivalent of the combined population of Peoria, Rockford and Decatur. Moreover, this growth has occurred mainly in those age groups which are among the largest consumers of public services: the young of school and pre-school age and the elderly. Since 1940, for instance, the number of persons under 15 years of age has risen by more than one-sixth, while those in the youngest age group, under five years, have increased about 45 per cent. A great part of this gain, moreover, has occurred since the war, so that the full impact upon our schools has only begun to be felt.

At the other end of the age scale, the number of persons 65 and older has risen by about a quarter during the same period, adding further to the cost of our services for the indigent and infirm.

The demand for institutional care provided by the welfare department has reached the point where the number of persons now receiving care is more than 48,000. In the last year there has been a rise in institutional population amounting to almost 1500.

An already overburdened highway system has long been taxed by excessive vehicle weights. And the growth in traffic can be measured by recent increases in vehicle registrations of around 200,000 annually. High-level business activity means intensive utilization of the highways by heavy vehicles that cost dearly in damage to pavement. Our highway program is vitally affected by inflation in construction costs. We are squarely facing the unpleasant fact that Illinois not only must spend more money promptly to save its roads but that we simply cannot afford the still larger sums recommended by experienced engineering counsel.

Apart from these influences upon the State's expenditures are pressures for extension of our services. Over these we may exercise some control because a widening of the State's responsibilities, with the accompanying added cost, is a policy matter within legislative discretion. Tax-financed outlays for enlarged services are not inherently wasteful; there are many services and activities within the range of our wants that it is appropriate and economical for government to provide. The goal of wise public budgeting in the last analysis is no less and no more than ascertaining the proper scope and depth of the governmental service program. To do this means balancing the desirability of public expenditure against the value of alternative benefits which the citizens' tax money could buy. This is a rigorous test; it is a wisely conceived expenditure plan that can be justified in all its ramifications when the tax cost is soberly weighed.

While the budget I offer proposes no radical extension in the scope of the State government's activities, I am urging for certain established functions a greater financial effort than has heretofore been made. These proposals represent my best evaluation of relative priorities that can be assigned the many insistent demands upon the State's resources.

Because the budget is so closely balanced it is obvious that any additional appropriations made by the General Assembly will only aggravate an already difficult financial situation. We will welcome any suggestions of operating economies from the Legislature, and I assure you that every means will be employed to operate within the budget and to avoid the large deficiency appropriations such as we have inherited and which have complicated our calculations. Nor will we relax our vigilant search for more efficiency at less cost to ease our situation in the future.

Revenue

The budget document contains detailed estimates of the yields of each of the various elements in the State's revenue system. These are based on a careful study of the relationship of the productivity of our taxing structure to economic conditions. If we correctly appraise the prospects for prices, employment and production, actual revenues will conform closely to our estimates.

We have estimated our revenue on the assumption there will be no material change in economic conditions. It must be recognized, however, that nearly all possible changes in the conditions we have assumed are on the downside and not on the upside. If in the shaking-down of prices in our war-distorted economy, serious weaknesses develop, we shall be vulnerable to these effects.

Several proposals for modifications of the revenue laws have been introduced by the Revenue Laws Commission. Among these are proposals to include in the retailers' occupation tax, transactions that have been exempted by interpretation and judicial decision. By restoring the original coverage of the tax and by improved administration we can anticipate an additional yield for the biennium of $50 millions. An increase in the rate of tax on harness racing to bring it into conformance with that on running races is estimated to produce an additional $2.4 millions.

These are minimum changes in the revenue system necessary to meet the appropriations recommended in this budget. It follows that the increases recommended for distributive purposes are contingent upon the adoption of these or equally productive revenue proposals.

With the statutory changes, the State revenue system is estimated to produce about $583 millions for the general (non-reserved) funds. Reserved fund revenues from existing sources are estimated at some $480 millions, including $218 millions of Federal-aid.

Distributive Expenditures

I have emphasized that the overall increase in the budget is due to larger distributive outlays directly or indirectly to local governments.

For some time the number one problem of the State has been the chaotic character of its relations with the local units of government—the counties, cities, school districts, townships and more than a dozen other types of local corporate authority. This condition is traceable to the lack of consistent and objective principles of relationship. Most contact points, fiscal and administrative, between State and local units have been established in times of stress and strain under political pressure. They betray the role of expediency and compromise. Much of the present overlapping of functions and confusion in responsibility has been inherited from an economy and tax system that existed when over half of our population lived on the farm. With the State out of the property tax field and relying heavily on consumption levies, with a vastly expanded industrial base in our economy and 85 per cent of our people living in the cities, villages, and their suburban peripheries, the dimensions of the problem of State and local relations have changed.

On the whole the State's obligation to local units of government seems to me to have been inadequately recognized. Sometimes the State has indulged the localities, more often it has repressed them and minimized their problems.

Evaluation of the State government's responsibility toward the local governments and their corollary obligation to meet standards set for them cannot be made without reference to the matter of finance. The character of the State's revenue structure has an intimate bearing upon its capacity to aid localities in the discharge of duties of more than purely local concern. Similarly, the local revenue system largely determines the extent to which reliance must be placed upon assistance from outside.

Mainstays of the State revenue system are the important levies on consumption: the retailers' occupation tax, the public utility taxes, the cigarette tax, and the alcoholic beverage excises. Despite weaknesses in the statutes under which they are imposed and imperfect administrative performance, these have been productive of substantial revenues. Since 1940, the annual yield of the retailers' occupation tax has nearly doubled, while the revenue produced by the other consumption levies now is almost four times the level of 1940.

In sharp contrast is the record of the property tax, the source of four-fifths of all local revenue. Despite recent sharp increases in tax bills, there has been an overall rise of only about 50 per cent since 1940, a gain far overshadowed by the growth in State revenues. There is no question that more equitable distribution of the property tax as between tangible and intangible property is one of our most urgent constitutional problems.

In connection with the preparation of its budget, the State should re-examine the various sources of local income, with particular attention to the role of direct financial participation by the State government. The schools, the highway system, the welfare and health programs available to the citizenry—all these are service areas in which administrative jurisdiction is divided between the two levels of government. If acceptable standards are to be attained local financial resources must be supplemented by State grants. As State distributive payments have vastly increased in our time, not alone in Illinois but everywhere, so have Federal payments to states. The tendency has been to pass along more and more of the burden to higher government levels, just as relative tax resources have moved from local to higher government levels.

Educational Aid

The proposed budget recommends an allotment for the common school fund of $112 millions, 70 per cent more than the appropriation for the present biennium. This is the largest biennial increase in our history and is, I think, a realistic reconciliation of the State's obligation in this field with its resources and other obligations. The financial difficulties of our schools are too well known to require repetition. What is less well known is that much local and State money is being spent for inferior schools, for inadequate and shallow curricula, and for mediocre direction of educational policy and school management.

Excessive emphasis has been placed on State aid as the remedy for all the defects of our common school system. While recognizing the need for larger school appropriations we should focus our attention on other aspects of school policy that are just as important as larger appropriations. Our future citizens need good schools even more than they need costly schools. For example, a suitable school unit can hardly be built around a community of only 2,000 inhabitants. The number of children in such a community will not be large enough for a well-balanced curriculum and an economical operation.

The solution of our school problem is by no means dependent solely upon State aid. We have witnessed recently a dramatic improvement in local school organization, a splendid contribution by thousands of interested citizens who believe in the importance of adequate basic education. These commendable accomplishments must not be permitted to wither on the vine before the job has been completed. To those communities that have already taken steps to provide proper local school organization, the State has a special obligation. Its program should acknowledge local effort in supplying a vastly improved school system. Its aid should not be spent to perpetuate an absolete and inefficient system, but to provide the kind of instruction that the next generation of Illinois citizens should have. I will have further suggestions to offer the General Assembly in connection with the expenditure of this huge sum.

To this sum of $112 millions proposed for general distribution to common schools, there has to be added an additional $23.7 millions of State funds for educating handicapped children, pupil transportation, vocational education, and the school lunch program. This brings the total disbursement from the State's own resources to nearly $136 millions, an increase of $54 millions. Federal funds available for vocational education and the lunch program are expected to amount to $8 millions as compared with $7.5 millions in the present two-year period.

Overall distributive payments to school districts—from State and Federal sources—have been set down at $143.7 millions, 61 per cent over the corresponding sum in the biennium now drawing to a close.

Aid to Municipalities

Restricted primarily to levies on property for their income and limited by statutory rate ceilings, many of our municipalities have had difficulty in meeting sharply mounting costs of their services. Nor is any substantial relief in sight. Resistance to further increases in overall property levies is a hard reality that can be met in part by improved administration of this tax. New sources of local revenue may be found. But until our tax structure undergoes some major repairs or municipal costs are reduced, additional relief from the pyramiding costs of urbanization is needed.

Hence I propose the allocation of $40 millions for aid to municipalities. No such allocation was made in the present biennium.

How should this money be distributed? One alternative is for the State to lend its financial assistance to particular functions which cut across local interest and community horizons and are within the State's general concern. Such functions include education, public health, and the welfare programs for the aged, dependent children, the unemployed, and other dependents. These activities account for more than half of State and local expenditures. Thus, as the State extends its support for education or welfare, more local tax resources are made available for financing purely local functions.

For example, the State might assume the entire cost of financing relief to the indigent. We already have a state-wide organization at the local level to administer the other welfare programs and the additional responsibility would be at a minimum. Furthermore, this move would place the entire administration of the aid and relief programs under the merit system and provide a management plan eligible to participate in Federal grants should a serious economic collapse occur.

Another alternative is State grants for specific public purposes under State supervision. For example, the State might recognize a larger concern for the control and eradication of tuberculosis and aid local units directly by grants for care at city or county institutions under the supervision of the Department of Public Health.

Another possibility is the flat or per capita grants to be used as determined by local authorities. But the constitutionality of such grants has been questioned. Moreover, one of the most effective restraints upon excessive and unwise public spending is the responsibility for imposing taxes, and I am loath to endorse a further separation of the spending and taxing function unless other methods fail.

There are, of course, other means of relieving to some extent the plight of Chicago and other municipalities. But I prefer to make no detailed recommendations as to methods until there has been further consideration of their implications.

Other Distributive Expenditures

Apart from appropriations made to local governments the State also directly assists individuals. Dependent and neglected children, blind persons, and the aged are beneficiaries of a program in which the State and the Federal Government participate. Estimated requirements for the ensuing biennium result in an overall expansion of the State's contribution.

Much the largest item in the State's aid to the dependent is the old age assistance program. Due to the increasing number of the aged and higher ceilings on pension payments to relieve acute distress the budget is up $12 millions of which the Federal government will furnish $8 millions. In aid to dependent children a mounting case load will increase the State's burden by almost $5 millions.

Remaining distributive welfare payments—for assistance to the blind, burial awards, and vocational rehabilitation—have been allotted approximately $8.5 millions, or practically the same as two years ago.

The aggregate of welfare payments to individuals comes to about $210 millions from State and Federal sources combined. If to this is added the additional $45 millions in the form of grants to local governments for relief, and for neglected children, the total of distributive payments to relieve distress and want amounts to one-fifth of budgeted expenditure for all purposes in the coming biennium.

Other distributive payments of some magnitude are for highways and airports. In the case of the former, I have included no more than the statutory allotment to counties and municipalities from proceeds of the Motor Fuel Tax. Airport grants in the proposed budget amount to $4.7 millions, of which $1.8 million is a reappropriation and the remainder is to be provided by the Federal Government.

The proposed budget also contemplates a material expansion of State and Federal participation in local health programs. In the present biennium, grants for community hospitals total $5.1 millions, of which all but $417,000 has come from State funds. I urge that the State's allotment for this purpose be stepped up to $7.1 millions, including reappropriations, which with more than $10 millions to be provided by the Federal Government, will mean a total for hospital grants of $17.5 millions. Local health grants also are higher than they have been under the program now in force. Some $2.9 millions, $1.9 of which has been provided Federally, were provided for the present biennium. A total of $4.5 millions, with $2.5 millions of this as Federal assistance, is proposed for the coming two-year period.

Operation and Construction

In the State's capacity as an operating organization it discharges manifold responsibilities. They range from the care of more than 56,000 people in its welfare and penal institutions to the inspection of seeds.

Higher Education

Higher education is among the most costly of the State's many operations. The University of Illinois is one of the great universities of the world and the five other State-supported teachers' colleges and universities are distinguished and indispensable parts of our educational system. To operate these institutions with their 32,700 students, the State will spend over $88 millions in the next biennium.

Not only is the cost of State-supported higher education a large item in the budget, but it is going up—by nearly 20 per cent in the next biennium. I feel that Illinois must make available to our younger citizens the best possible training in agriculture, medicine, engineering, law, teaching, and the other skilled occupations and professions. We can make no better investment in the future of our State and our country.

Included in the almost $14 millions increase for operation of higher education, is some $6.7 millions for the teachers' colleges and universities. One of the foremost educational problems of today is the shortage of teachers, and it is to these State colleges and universities that we must look primarily if we are to have an adequate supply of trained teachers in the future.

But these colleges and universities are not only training schools for teachers. Southern Illinois University for example, is the only institution of higher learning in the southern section of the State. We must not lose sight of the general educational advantages afforded by these colleges and universities, even though their original purpose was teacher training.

In addition to the proposed operating appropriations there is also included $21 millions for construction for the University of Illinois against $13 millions for this biennium, and $13 millions for the teachers' colleges and universities, also a substantial increase.

The allotment to the University of Illinois includes $5 millions for agriculture buildings at Urbana. I propose that these long awaited improvements be financed out of the Agricultural Premium Fund surplus. I can think of no better use for funds that have been accumulated for the promotion of agriculture in Illinois. Of the remaining $16 millions of construction money for the University almost all is for the medical school in Chicago. This represents a temporary change of emphasis in the University's physical development and recognizes the imperative need for training facilities for additional medical students.

Public Welfare and Safety

Even more costly than higher education is the State's responsibility for people assigned to it for custodial and remedial care. The nine mental hospitals accommodate almost 35,000 patients, the other Department of Public Welfare institutions, some 13,000, and the four penal institutions of the Department of Public Safety, 8,500. All of these people—about 56,000—must be fed, clothed, housed and supervised. The operating cost for Public Welfare institutions is about $80 millions and for penal institutions of the Department of Public Safety, $16 millions.

The amount for institutional operation is about the same as the total for the present biennium in spite of an increased case load and provision for a new institution at Galesburg. Nevertheless, it is believed that this budget will be sufficient without any deficiency appropriations in 1951. This conclusion assumes stabilized prices for food and other commodities which the State must buy to operate these institutions. Any economy will not be at the cost of lower standards of institutional care. I believe that with careful, vigilant management and stabilized prices, the standards of care in our State institutions can be improved at less total cost.

The budget includes some $26 millions for imperative building additions at the various welfare and penal institutions. A large saving in construction costs has been effected by converting the Galesburg branch of the University of Illinois into a welfare institution. The University has agreed to vacate this Federal property at the end of this school year, making additional new facilities for over 2,000 persons available to relieve overcrowding in the mental institutions. I regret that our resources do not permit a larger allocation to meet many other urgent building requirements of the State's institutions.

Public Health

Closely allied to the welfare expenditures is the promotion of public health. Here, the Federal Government has contributed increasing amounts in addition to State funds. Proposed expenditures for public health purposes are sharply up due chiefly to enlarged Federal funds. Compared to the money expended for higher education and for State institutions the cost of prevention and control of disease in public health services is relatively small and the contribution to human welfare very large.

In addition to the public health programs the budget also contemplates the construction of tuberculosis sanitariums. Initial appropriations for these new State institutions were made by previous General Assemblies but on account of construction difficulties most of them have not been expended. It is recommended that such unexpended funds be reappropriated, and that to complete the projects $1.7 millions more be made available. Completion of these long-needed sanitariums will speed the victory over tuberculosis in Illinois.

Also in the budget is $2.5 millions for the Medical Center Commission. The State has assumed the responsibility for planning and acquiring land as its share of this undertaking which will ultimately make Chicago the foremost center of medical education and research.

Highways

Included in highway operating costs are not only maintenance of the highways themselves, but also overhead expense in connection with policing, collecting user taxes and licenses and administration of the Safety Responsibility Act. Although the State's major highway expense is, of course, in construction of new roads and repair of old ones, the operating expenses of our highways are scheduled to rise from $42 millions to $52 millions in the next biennium chiefly due to the increased cost of highway maintenance.

The amount appropriated for highway construction will rise very slightly in the next biennium unless there is an increase in highway revenues. For the present biennium the General Assembly has appropriated approximately $99 millions for highway construction, including administrative and engineering costs, and a little more than $101 millions is recommended for the next biennium. About $10 millions must be expended for administrative and engineering costs.

The recent report of the Illinois Traffic and Highways Problems Commission reveals the startling condition and needs of our highway system. But what the State can expend on highway construction is limited by the State's share of the Motor Fuel and license taxes after deduction of operating costs and bond interest and repayments.

If we are to arrest wasteful deterioration and put our road system in first class condition we must not only exact full value for every dollar spent but we must promptly invest far more. In general, moreover, the Federal Government will match every State dollar spent for highway construction on approved routes. But Federal funds appropriated by Congress in 1948 will not be available to Illinois during the next two years because all our available State funds will be used for construction under the 1944 Federal aid program. Additional Federal aid allotted to Illinois under the 1948 program, amounting to $40.9 millions (except about $4 millions for grade separations) will not be available until more State funds are provided to match it.

Personnel

My inaugural message made clear the importance I attach to well-trained, competent and adequately compensated State employees. During these first weeks of my administration much time has been devoted to planning for the recruitment of better personnel, giving them a greater measure of security and providing better working conditions. I am recommending, for example, that the appropriation to the Civil Service Commission be increased by almost one-half in order that we can develop and pursue these policies. A study of the 700 position classifications indicates that the ranges should be increased by approximately 15 per cent with some variations because of special conditions affecting particular occupations. These modifications will provide more flexibility and permit future selectivity in pay adjustments. They do not immediately require any salary increases.

I am, however, recommending a 10 per cent salary increase. I recommend this increase in the face of some recent decline in the cost of living index and the prospect of a further decline because an independent study shows that State employees in most instances have been compensated at lower levels than those in private employment and those employed by the Federal Government, and in many localities by local governments. Also an improvement in the quality of our personnel cannot be attained without the payment of realistic, competitive salaries. Finally, I don't believe the State can longer afford to pay ostensibly full-time wages for part-time work.

My proposal, therefore, is to compensate our employees adequately and expect of them a full measure of service. I believe better pay will yield better work with fewer employees, and also help us to eliminate inflated expense accounts and other costly abuses. I will also recommend higher compensation adjustments in some high level positions where present salaries bear little relation to responsibility and often inhibit the employment and retention of men of exceptional capacity.

Conclusion

Such then in rapid review are the salient features of a financial plan I respectfully request the General Assembly to consider. I have put all the cards on the table. Revenue has been estimated optimistically at the level of the boom year of 1948. Expenditures have been estimated on a full 24-months basis to avoid deficiency appropriations. Our treasury surplus is almost obliterated. We are vulnerable to adversity.

But we have frankly and, I think, realistically faced the necessity for larger distributive payments for schools and municipal aid, and for better wages in the State's service. We have stricken many worthy construction projects reluctantly under the pressure of necessity. We have pared operating costs as sharply as time and experience permit. We pledge the General Assembly continuing and relentless efforts to eliminate every unnecessary function and job and to correct every wasteful practice.

In conclusion, I wish to thank and to commend the Budgetary Commission for tireless labor in weighing a multitude of demands and for invaluable assistance in preparing this budget. I am confident that the executive and legislative branches will find cooperation, candor and mutual assistance the best way to manage our enormous business and serve the people of Illinois.

The Governor having completed his message, the committee heretofore appointed escorted him from the hall of the House of Representatives.

At the hour of 12:40 o'clock P. M., Senator Barr moved that the Joint Assembly do now arise.

And the motion prevailed.

The Senate having withdrawn, the House resumed its session.

The Speaker in the chair.

By unanimous consent, on motion of Mr. John G. Ryan, House Bill No. 86 was recalled from the order of House Bills on first reading and re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

House Bills on First Reading

The House proceeding on the order of House Bills on first reading, House Bill No. 163, a bill for "An Act to promote the public health, welfare, safety and morals by preventing discrimination in employment because of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry and by creating an Illinois Fair Employment Practices Commission, defining its functions, powers and duties, and to provide certain penalties for the violation thereof."

Was taken up, read at large a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House Bill No. 212, a bill for "An Act to amend Section 13-1 of 'An Act concerning cities, villages, and incorporated towns, and to repeal certain Acts herein named', approved August 15, 1941, as amended."

Was taken up, read at large a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House Bill No. 228, a bill for "An Act to amend Section 28 of 'An Act in relation to State finance', approved June 10, 1919, as amended."

Was taken up, read at large a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House Bill No. 433, a bill for "An Act to amend Section 367 of the 'Illinois Insurance Code', approved June 29, 1937, as amended."

Was taken up, read at large a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House Bill No. 443, a bill for "An Act to add Sections 23 and 24 to Article VI of 'An Act relating to alcoholic liquors', approved January 31, 1934, as amended."

Was taken up, read at large a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House Bill No. 467, a bill for "An Act to amend Sections 69 and 71 of the 'Probate Act', approved July 24, 1939, as amended."

Was taken up, read at large a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House Bill No. 440, a bill for "An Act to add Section 24a to Division I of 'An Act to revise the law in relation to criminal jurisprudence', approved March 27, 1874, as amended."

Was taken up, read at large a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House Bill No. 478, a bill for "An Act in relation to the sale of horse meat."

Was taken up, read at large a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House Bill No. 484, a bill for "An Act to regulate the practice of Chiropractic and to provide penalties for the violation thereof."

Was taken up, read at large a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House Bill No. 494, a bill for "An Act to prevent unfair competition and unfair trade practices in the sale of cigarettes."

Was taken up, read at large a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House Bill No. 504, a bill for "An Act to amend Section 26 of 'An Act to revise the law in relation to counties', approved March 31, 1874, as amended."

Was taken up, read at large a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House Bill No. 559, a bill for "An Act to amend Sections 10-f, 10-g and 10-h of 'An Act to revise the law in relation to the practice of structural engineering,' approved June 24, 1919, as amended, and to repeal Section 10-i thereof."

Was taken up, read at large a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House Bill No. 579, a bill for "An Act to amend Sections 7, 16 and 17 of 'An Act concerning the ascertainment of principal and income and the apportionment of receipts and expenses in trusts and among tenants and remaindermen,' approved July 17, 1941."

Was taken up, read at large a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House Bill No. 580, a bill for "An Act to amend Section 4 of 'An Act concerning common trust funds,' approved July 29, 1943."

Was taken up, read at large a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House Bill No. 581, a bill for "An Act to amend Section 20 of 'An Act to prevent the introduction into and the dissemination within this State of insect pests and plant diseases and to provide for their repression and control', approved June 2, 1927, as amended, and to add Section 20.01 thereto."

Was taken up, read at large a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House Bill No. 582, a bill for "An Act to amend Sections 16, 17, 18, 32, 34, 35 and 38 of 'An Act in relation to the regulation of the operations of trucks designed or used for the transportation of property', approved July 25, 1939, as amended."

Was taken up, read at large a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House Bill No. 613, a bill for "An Act to amend Section 14-8 of 'The School Code', approved May 1, 1945, as amended."

Was taken up, read at large a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House Bills on Second Reading

The House proceeding on the order of House Bills on second reading, House Bill No. 65, a bill for "An Act to amend Sections 3, 9 and 14 of 'An Act in relation to credit unions', approved June 26, 1925, as amended."

Having been printed, was taken up and read at large a second time.

Mr. Allison offered the following amendments and moved their adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend printed House Bill No. 65 on page 1, Sec. 3, by striking lines 8 to 12, each inclusive, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "States, or any state or municipality within the United States, or in any savings, building and loan associations incorporated under the laws of this State or any other state or the laws of the United States, the shares or other forms of investment certificates of which are insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation; (2) in loans to other credit unions in an aggregate amount not exceeding 25% of its paid-in and unimpaired capital and surplus, and in shares of other credit unions incorporated under the laws of this State or the laws of the United States."

And the amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT No. 2.

Amend printed House Bill No. 65 on page 2, Sec. 3, by striking the period after the word "meeting" in line 24 and inserting in lieu thereof a comma and the following: "and the Auditor of Public Accounts."

And the amendment was adopted.

GENERAL RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of general resolutions, Mr. James J. Ryan offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 33

Resolved, By the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring herein, That when the two Houses adjourn on Thursday, April 21st, they stand adjourned until Tuesday, April 26, 1949, at 10:00 o'clock A. M. (C. D. S. T.)

And the resolution was adopted.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and ask their concurrence therein.

Messrs. James J. Ryan, Downey, John G. Ryan, Sullivan, Hannigan, Boyle, Noonan, Considine, Roberts, Bolger, Choate, Kane, Monroe, Flowerree, McGrath, McCabe, Bozeman, Carrigan, Cronin, Lannon, Kennedy, Gray, Shade, Gormley, Ferguson, Ronan, Touhy, Gorman, Mrs. O'Neill, Messrs. McDonald, McRoberts, McClintock, Lewis, Finucane, Ruddy, Shannon and DeLaCour offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 49.

WHEREAS, The Republic of Ireland was officially proclaimed on April 18, 1949, ending nearly eight centuries of subjection frequently punctuated by oppression and brutality; and

WHEREAS, During this long period of suffering the spark of freedom glowed with undiminished intensity in the hearts of all true Irishmen and found expression in many lands where their heroic deeds were instrumental in removing the tyrant's yoke; and

WHEREAS, The development of our own United States has been promoted and influenced to a considerable degree from earliest times by the culture of Ireland transplanted here by her numerous sons and daughters who cherished the national independence and individual liberty which has ever been our proud heritage; and

WHEREAS, The hopes and aspirations of oppressed peoples everywhere are heartened by this successful culmination of Ireland's heroic struggle for sovereignty; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we extend the felicitations of the people of this State to the free people of the Republic of Ireland upon this glorious occasion, that we wish for them a record of national achievement in keeping with the traditions of their illustrious predecessors of hallowed memory, and that a copy of this preamble and resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of State to the Honorable Sean T. O'Kelly, President of the Republic of Ireland.

And the resolution was unanimously adopted.

Mr. Weber offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Executive Committee:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 50.

WHEREAS, The number of lives needlessly lost because of fires in this State and Nation has been steadily increasing for the past several years; and

WHEREAS, The recent holocaust at the Effingham hospital brings this situation most forcefully to our attention; and

WHEREAS, It appears that this needless loss of lives could be greatly reduced through the use of modern life saving techniques and devises; and

WHEREAS, It appears that the fire fighting forces in this State are continuously acquiring equipment designed for the purpose of protecting property from destruction by fire and have virtually ignored the necessity for acquiring equipment and devices designed for the saving and rescue of persons; and

WHEREAS, It is self-evident that property can be replaced, while a life that is lost is gone forever; now, therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That the Executive Committee of this House is authorized and directed to investigate modern methods and equipment used in the saving of lives during fires and the extent to which these methods and equipment have been adopted by the fire fighting forces of this State, to investigate the need for legislation to correct the conditions set out in the preamble hereof, and to report to this body the results of such investigation together with any legislation recommended.

Messrs. James J. Ryan, Adduci, Sullivan and Taylor offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 34.

WHEREAS, Citizens of Effingham have commenced a drive to raise funds for the construction of a new hospital to replace the building destroyed in the recent tragic fire, and people from every section of the State are cooperating in this laudable endeavor; and

WHEREAS, It has long been customary, during each session of the General Assembly, for the members of the respective houses to vie with each other in wholesome athletic competition; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That a softball game between two teams composed, respectively, of members of the Senate and of the House of Representatives be held on a suitable date in May at Fitzpatrick Memorial Stadium in Springfield; and be it further

Resolved, That the proceeds of the game be contributed to the Effingham Civic Hospital Fund; and be it further

Resolved, That a committee consisting of three members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker and three members of the Senate to be appointed by the Committee on Committees be empowered to make all necessary arrangements in connection with the event.

And the resolution was adopted.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and ask their concurrence therein.

Messrs. Kaindl, David Hunter, Lewis, Schaumleffel, Walker, Shade, Kane and Ratcliffe offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 35.

WHEREAS, The United States government has, for a number of years, been engaged in an extensive program of assistance to the States in highway construction; and

WHEREAS, Although, when provisions for assistance to secondary road projects were first incorporated into the federal highway program, there was much talk of farm-to-market roads that would provide long-needed services for the farmers of the country, the roads that have been built under the secondary program are actually secondary highways instead of rural roads; and

WHEREAS, Too many of our rural people in the State and in every part of the Nation are still in the mud and dust, and this condition is likely to remain until an active rural road program is instituted by the federal government; and

WHEREAS, A bill designated as S. 244, now pending in the Congress of the United States, would provide assistance to local governmental subdivisions in the construction and maintenance of rural roads by providing, on a matching basis, funds to supplement local programs; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, That we respectfully request the Congress of the United States to consider and to enact S. 244 in order to supplement local programs for the construction and maintenance of rural roads and to provide an incentive for more active local programs; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this preamble and resolution be sent by the Secretary of State to each member of the Eighty-first Congress from the State of Illinois.

And the resolution was adopted.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and ask their concurrence therein.

Messrs. Travers and Harris offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Executive Committee:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 51.

WHEREAS, Many organizations not generally recognized as charitable in nature make a practice of soliciting funds from the general public in order to maintain themselves and to carry out their programs; and

WHEREAS, This practice is susceptible to grave abuses, including misleading the public by playing up false issues in order to make an appeal for contributions, misrepresenting the purposes for which the money is to be used, and misappropriation of funds; and

WHEREAS, The State owes a duty to protect its citizens against these abuses; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That there be created a committee of five members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker, to investigate the practices of organizations, excluding charitable, religious and educational organizations, which solicit contributions from the general public. The Committee shall select a chairman from its membership. In the conduct of its investigation the Committee may, under the signature of its chairman, issue subpoenas to compel the appearance and testimony of witnesses and the production of relevant books, papers, documents and other memoranda. The Committee shall report its findings to this General Assembly and shall submit such recommendations for legislative consideration as it deems necessary as a result of its investigation; and be it further

Resolved, That the expenses of the Committee be paid from the appropriation for committee expenses of the House of Representatives.

Mr. Keller offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 52.

WHEREAS, We have had called to our attention reports in the daily press of recent murders which show the light regard in which human life is being held; and

WHEREAS, In many cases, it appears that motion pictures and radio and television shows depicting scenes of crime and violence have contributed materially to a state of mind leading to the perpetration of crime; and

WHEREAS, Motion pictures and radio and television shows which graphically portray promiscuous gunplay and harrowing murder scenes often have the effect of an insidious drug and cause many an impressionable addict to live in a land of illusion in which he reenacts many of the vivid events he has seen or heard portrayed, until finally his dreamworld is shattered, and the horrible nightmare of reality breaks through, bringing to the person a belated realization of the enormity of his deeds; and

WHEREAS, Not only sensational pictures, but indecent books and magazines and bloodcurdling radio and television shows as well, are creating a subspecies of perpetual adolescents with dwarfed mentalities, blunted sensibilities, and a complete lack of social responsibility; and

WHEREAS, A collective moral obligation rests upon producers, theater, radio and television station operators, booksellers and publishers to raise the standard of public entertainment; therefore be it decency designed to insure a better quality of product and to prevent immoral and indecent pictures, programs and publications from being disseminated indiscriminately.

And the resolution was adopted.

Messrs. Monroe, Robbins, Gibbs and Schaumleffel offered the following resolution, and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 53.

WHEREAS, The city of Nauvoo, Illinois, which was the home of the community of Latter-day Saints or Mormons from 1839 to 1946, is one of the great scenic and historic sites of America; and

WHEREAS, Mob psychology was largely responsible for the regrettable incident which led to the exodus of the Mormons from Illinois, an event Governor Ford, Stephen A. Douglas and many other distinguished citizens endeavored to prevent by an amicable settlement; and

WHEREAS, Prior to leaving Nauvoo, the Mormons had erected a monumental temple which was at that time the most magnificent structure in the West; and

WHEREAS, The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints are cooperating in the reconstruction of this historic edifice, which was destroyed by fire and storm a century ago; and

WHEREAS, The site of the temple, located on a lofty eminence overlooking a sweeping bend in the majestic Mississippi, is one of the most impressive and picturesque in America; and

WHEREAS, The restoration of the Nauvoo Temple not only would serve as a fitting memorial to the courageous band of pilgrims who here acquired the heroic determination to found a new state in the West, but also would add immeasurably to the attractiveness of historic Nauvoo and would create on the part of many Illinois citizens a new interest in the great movements which have played so prominent a role in the history of our State; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we wholeheartedly commend the decision of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints to rebuild the historic Nauvoo Temple and bid them Godspeed in their efforts, and that we respectfully request the Governor, the Director of Public Works and Buildings and other appropriate officers of the executive department to cooperate in every practicable manner in this laudable undertaking; and be it further

Resolved, That suitable copies of this resolution be sent by the Secretary of State to his Excellency, Adlai E. Stevenson, Governor of Illinois, to the Honorable George Albert Smith, President of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and to the Honorable Israel A. Smith, President of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Unanimous consent being refused, House Resolution No. 53 was referred to the Executive Committee.

GENERAL RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of general resolution, Mr. Brands offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 55.

WHEREAS, A levee on the Missouri shore of the Mississippi River opposite Chester, Randolph County, Illinois, reduces the channel of the river at high water to less than 2,500 feet, thus forming a bottleneck which slows the flow of the water and, during flood stage, causes the river to overflow valuable farm lands and even towns situated upstream from the bottleneck; and

WHEREAS, The federal government has authorized the construction of a new levee to be built on the exact site of the old one, thus continuing the bottleneck and endangering lives and property further up the river; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we respectfully urge the Congress of the United States to request the United States Corps of Army Engineers, St. Louis District, to remove the bottleneck on the Mississippi River opposite Chester, Illinois, and to suspend operations under the present contract for work on the levee and that, if work is resumed, that the new levee be built in such a manner that there will be at least 5,000 feet of clearance between the Illinois and Missouri shores; and be it further

Resolved, That suitable copies of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of State to each of the United States Senators and Congressmen from the State of Illinois.

And the resolution was adopted.

Death Resolutions

The House proceeding on the order of death resolutions, Messrs. Stengel, Bozeman and Searle offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

House Resolution No. 56

Whereas, Etta Orendorff Rosenfield, the wife of Walter A. Rosenfield, former Director of Public Works and Buildings, passed away recently while on a vacation trip with her husband; and

Whereas, Her gracious personality and her sincere interest in others made her one of the outstanding figures in the civic and social life of her community; and

Whereas, Her many friends throughout the State and nation join with her husband and children in mourning her loss; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we express our sincere sorrow at the death of Mrs. Walter A. Rosenfield and extend our heartfelt sympathy to her bereaved family; that this preamble and resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House; that a suitable copy thereof be sent to Mr. Rosenfield; and, as an additional mark of respect to the memory of Mrs. Rosenfield, that the House do now adjourn.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote; and in accordance therewith, at the hour of 1:45 o'clock P. M., the House stood adjourned.

THURSDAY, APRIL 21, 1949, 10:00 O'CLOCK A. M.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

The Speaker in the chair.

Prayer by Rev. James McKelvey, of the First Methodist Church, of Sterling.

The Journal of yesterday was being read when, on motion of Mr. James J. Ryan, further reading of the same was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

A Message from the Governor by Mr. James W. Mulroy, Executive Secretary.

Mr. Speaker:

The Governor directs me to lay before the House of Representatives the following message:

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
SPRINGFIELD, April 25, 1949.

To the Honorable, the Members of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly:

The Illinois Public Employees' Pension Laws Commission, created in 1947 by the 65th General Assembly, has submitted an exhaustive report on the pension laws in force in Illinois for public employees. A similar report was submitted to the 65th General Assembly by a commission created in 1945. The present commission has continued and reexamined that prior study. The state has made a substantial investment, both in money and in valuable man hours, in this study.

Among other things, the current report recommends that certain pension funds should be consolidated, that any requests for amendatory legislation should make provision for a means of raising the revenue required to meet the financial obligations entailed, and that rates of employee contributions should be increased substantially above the present amounts. It is highly undesirable that in every session we have piecemeal changes in our pension laws many of which ignore or increase the trend to large deficiencies and actuarial insolvency. It is essential that all proposed legislation should be analyzed from the standpoint of the desirability of establishing a consistent pattern for all public employee pension laws.

There are already approximately thirty-five bills pending in this session of the legislature relating to public employees' pensions. One of the important reasons for the creation of the Commission was to make available expert recommendations as to proposed legislation in this field. In order that the extensive study of pension laws which has been conducted by the Commission should be fully utilized, I have asked the Commission to give me a detailed analysis and recommendation as to each pending item of legislation relating to public employees' pensions, and the Commission has done so. I strongly urge the members of the legislature to oppose all public employee pension bills which are, in significant respects, contrary to the recommendations of the Commission. In order to facilitate possible corrective amendments the Commission has agreed to make copies of their reports on the individual bills available to the sponsors of the bills.

I realize that each group sponsoring legislation of this type feels that their particular situation justifies exceptions to generally accepted rules. The difficulties which result from such exceptions are graphically illustrated by the downstate firemen's and downstate policemen's funds. Last session, in the face of the 1945 Pension Commission's unfavorable recommendation, the downstate firemen's act was amended to repeal entirely the tax limitation and this bill was signed by the Governor. The downstate police now insist that they are entitled to the same amendment. In view of the precedent which has been created, I cannot oppose the downstate policemen's bill unless some legislation is adopted to repeal the 1947 act relating to downstate firemen.

There are 25 separate public employee pension laws in Illinois and 161 individual pension funds. The legislation is inconsistent and without logical pattern and the lack of uniformity and standardization of benefits and burdens gives rise to continual efforts by those interested in various funds to secure amendments of the applicable laws to gain advantages which are available under other pension laws. Legislation to effect certain consolidations and to reduce variances in substantive provisions is needed. Unfortunately much of the legislative program which we should carry out in this field cannot be accomplished at this session of the legislature.

I am, therefore, recommending the creation of a new Pension Commission to continue study of this subject and to prepare the legislation which is required for introduction at the next session.

Respectfully,

ADLAI E. STEVENSON, Governor.

The foregoing message from the Governor was read by the Clerk and ordered placed on file.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication, which was read by the Clerk and referred to the Executive Commmittee. together with Assembly Joint Resolution No. 26 therein referred to:

April 12, 1949.

Speaker of the House of Representatives, State Capitol, Springfield Illinois.

My Dear Mr. Speaker: May I invite your attention to the enclosed copy of Assembly Joint Resolution No. 26, which was adopted by the California Legislature on April 6, 1949.

An acknowledgment of the receipt of this resolution would be appreciated.

Very truly yours,

Arthur A. Ohnimus (Signed)
Arthur A. Ohnimus

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend printed House Bill No. 639 on page five by adding immediately after line 18, the following:

"In case the commissioner of highways denies the prayer of the petition any three of the petitioners may appeal to the County Superintendent of Highways by filing a notice of appeal with the district or town clerk within ten days from the date of the decision appealed from, and in case the Commissioner of Highways grants the prayer of the petition any three land owners in the district or town may appeal in like manner.

In case of Appeal the clerk shall transmit the original petition to the County Superintendent of Highways, also the Notice of Appeal.

Upon receipt of the same the County Superintendent of Highways shall fix a time and place for a public hearing thereon, giving notice thereof and after the hearing shall render his decision allowing or denying the prayer of the petition and endorse the same on the petition and file the same with the town or district clerk, within five days.

Any notice of Appeal under the foregoing provisions shall be filed with the Clerk within ten days after the decision of the Commissioner of Highways.

If no Appeal is taken from a decision allowing the prayer of the petition the streets or roads described in the petition shall be deemed to be incorporated into the district or township highway system.

If an Appeal is taken from the decision of the Commissioner of Highways and the County Superintendent of Highways allows the prayer of the petition the streets or roads described in the petition shall be deemed to be incorporated into the district or township highway system, upon his decision being filed with the clerk of the township or district."

Ordered that the title be as aforesaid, and that the Clerk inform the Senate thereof and ask their concurrence therein.

By unanimous consent, on motion of Mrs. Van der Vries, House Bill No. 414 was recalled from the order of its passage to the order of second reading for the purpose of amendment.

And House Bill No. 414, a bill for "An Act to amend Sections 3 and 4 of Article IV, Section 10 of Article VI and Section 1 of Article VIII of 'An Act to revise the law in relation to township organization,' approved March 4, 1874, as amended, and to add Sections 3.01, 3.02, 3.03, 3.04, 3.05, 3.06, 3.07, 3.08, 3.09, 3.10, 3.11, 3.12, 3.13, 3.14, 3.15, 3.16, 3.17, 3.18, 3.19, 3.20 and 3.21 to Article IV thereof, to add Sections 10.01, 10.02, 10.03, 10.04, 10.05, 10.06, 10.07, 10.08, 10.09 and 10.10 to Article VI thereof and to add Section 11 to Article XIII thereof."

Was again taken up in the order of second reading.

Mrs. Van der Vries offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

AMENDMENT No. 1.

Amend printed House Bill No. 414, on page 1, line 6 of the title by inserting immediately following the comma in said line the word "and"; and on page 1, line 7 of the title by inserting a period immediately following the word "thereof"; and on page 1, lines 7 and 8 of the title by striking all of the title that appears following the word "thereof" in line 7; and on page 1, Section 1, by striking lines 7 and 8 and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "and 10.10 are added to Article VI thereof, the amended and added sections to read as follows:"; and on page 8, Sec. 10.08, line 2, by striking "sole (,)" and inserting in lieu thereof "sole,"; and on page 9, Sec. 1, line 3, by inserting a period immediately after the word "meeting" and by striking the remainder of the line following said word; and on page 9, Sec. 1, by striking lines 4, 5 and 6 thereof; and

GENERAL RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of general resolutions, Mr. C. C. Hunter offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 58

WHEREAS, A bill has been introduced in the United States Senate by majority leader Scott W. Lucas calling for the issuance of a three cent stamp commemorating the 55,000 coal miners killed in accidents through the years and memorializing the contribution of coal miners to America's progress; and

WHEREAS, Illinois, long one of the world's leading coal producing areas, now has approximately 33,000 coal miners and contains within its borders the largest coal mine in the world; and

WHEREAS, It has been recommended that a reproduction of the Vachael Davis painting entitled "The Coal Miner," the original of which has hung in the Illinois State Capitol since August, 1947, be used as the central theme of the stamp; and

WHEREAS, It is eminently appropriate that Springfield, the capital of the State of Illinois, be chosen as the site of the first day issuance of the stamp; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we urge the Congress of the United States to enact into law the bill providing for the issuance of a stamp commemorating the coal miners who lost their lives in the performance of their duties, and that we respectfully request the Congress and the Postmaster General to give due consideration to using the Vachael Davis painting, "The Coal Miner," as a basis for the design of the stamp and to the designation of the City of Springfield, Illinois, as the site for the initial issuance of the stamp; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent by the Secretary of State to the Honorable Scott W. Lucas and the Honorable Paul H. Douglas, United States Senators from Illinois, to the Honorable Jesse M. Donaldson, Postmaster General of the United States, to the Honorable John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers of America, to the Honorable John Marchiando, President of the Progressive Mine Workers of America, and to the Honorable Hugh White, President of District Number 12, United Mine Workers of America.

And the resolution was adopted.

DEATH RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of death resolutions, Messrs. Meites, Berman and Shapiro offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 59

WHEREAS, The House has learned with regret of the death of Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, one of the outstanding religious leaders of this century; and

WHEREAS, The true greatness of this man lay not so much in the ecclesiastical honors that were accorded him as in his dignified, yet humble personality, which reflected the radiance of the unquenchable light, so that all who knew him recognized that here was one whose spirit was in tune with the Infinite; and

WHEREAS, As one who clearly perceived that religion, in its broadest sense, encompasses all human activity, Rabbi Wise gave himself unsparingly to the quest for social justice, to the championship of the oppressed, to the struggle against bigotry, and to the cause of world peace, frequently taking the unpopular middle ground and opposing extremists on both sides of controversial issues; and

WHEREAS, During his distinguished career he won a lasting place in the affections of people of all faiths throughout the world; and

WHEREAS, In the death of Rabbi Stephen S. Wise the nation has lost a great citizen, a good man and a leader of good causes, and the world has lost an eloquent champion of peace, democracy and international justice; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, That we express our profound sorrow at the passing of Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, a man who did justly, and who loved mercy, and who walked humbly with his God; that to his bereaved family we extend our most sincere sympathy; that this resolution and its preamble be spread upon the Journal of the House; that a suitable copy thereof be forwarded to the family of Rabbi Wise; and, as a further mark of respect to the memory of this great personality, that the House do now adjourn.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote; and in accordance therewith, at the hour of 1:50 o'clock P. M., the House stood adjourned.

THURSDAY, APRIL 28, 1949, 10:00 O'CLOCK A. M.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.
